ALBANY COLLEGE WILL OPEN SOON

New Bulletin Appeals to Friends of Institution to Help This Year

MANY OLD STUDENTS ENLISTED IN THE ARMY

College Board Asks for Support of Institution; On Trial for One Year

The September Bulletin of Albany College is now off of the press and ready for distribution. The bulletin deals mostly with the opening of college and the coming college year. College will start Sept. 18, on the fifty-second year of its useful career. The faculty will be about the same as last year with one or two exception. The year 1917-18 will be a year in which Albany College and its friends will be sorely tested," says the Bulletin. There has been no question about the scholastic character of the College at any time, but its financial condition is one that causes anxiety to all the friends of the college. There are at least two attitudes that the friends of the college can take. One is to stand off on the side lines and see what the college can do. The other is to get down in the arena and help the college win the victory.

The motto, "In Union there is Strength," was always true, is now and ever will be true. It would be a fatal blow to Presbyterianism in Oregon for any chain of circumstances to accomplish the closing of Albany College. We are determined under God's help that it never shall close, and we ask and plead for active, energetic, immediate support from every Presbyterian who reads these lines.

Albany College has contributed over 70 per cent of last year's male membership of the student body to the army or navy, and will suffer for want of a good nucleus upon which to build a good foot ball team, but it is expected that the Freshmen material will offer men who will be able to represent the college in good style. Seth French, star of last year's team, has been lost, and the college is without the services of Coach Ed Bailey, who is with the United States Marines.

A most successful season for the college is predicted.

NIGHT POLICE HAVE RUNNING FIGHT

F. Cathcart of Eugene, Makes Escape Twice and is Recaptured

Night officers Rodgers and McKey were given a real thrill of a man-hunt last night after Train No. 13, southbound, pulled into the station. A man giving his name as E. Cathcart of Eugene, was the cause of all the trouble.

When the train arrived the police were on the south side of the track and observed a man on top of the coaches. He was ordered down, but alighted on the other side of the train and was running before the police got around to him. He refused to stop and several shots were fired at him.

He was finally overtaken but escaped when being taken down Lyon street. Again he was captured and was finally landed in jail.

He gives his age as 27 and says that he has a wife and two children in Eugene. A watch and $1.95 in cash were found on him, and a Wells Fargo receipt indicated that he had expressed his suit case to Eugene. He stated that his coat containing his registration card and examination button in the suit case.

He is very eager to avoid arrest, and the police are carefully investigating the case.

POPE STILL HOPES FOR PEACE PACT

Vatican Regards Wilson as the Strongest Advocate for Continuance of War

NOTES WILL BE EXCHANGED ON PEACE PROPOSAL

Expected that Vatican Will Attempt to Influence Washington; Terms Stated

Rome, Sept. 1.—The Pope still considers President Wilson the strongest advocate for continuance of the war among the belligerent rulers it is authoritatively learned.

The Vatican did not attempt to conceal its bitter disappointment. It is charged that the President had contradicted himself and it is expected that the vatican will try to influence Washington to change its views slightly. It is predicted that the vatican and Washington will exchange a long series of notes.

An exclusively epitome of the vatican's views on the President's note were given to the United Press. The Pope declared that he is still hopeful of an early peace on Wilson's own terms for the democratization of Germany.

Pope's Peace Terms—Washington, Sept. 1.—The Pope will launch formal peace feelers, diplomatic quarters were advised. The first effort will be made along the following lines:

The restoration of Belgium and repayment for the wrongs, sufferings, permission have a German garrison remain at Antwerp, granting autonomy to Lorraine and leaving Alsace with Germany, making Trieste a port outside of Italian jurisdiction, leaving the Balkin question to a peace conference insisting that Bosnia and Herzegovine remain Austrian territory. It is believed the Pope will reply directly to the President's message, making further suggestions.

Central Powers Favorable—Berlin, Sept. 1.—A sympathetic answer to the Pope's peace appeal will be delivered soon by Turkey with the replies of other Central powers. Constantinople dispatches declared.

FUNERAL SERVICE TOMORROW AT THREE O'CLOCK

The funeral service of Mrs. Emma E. Dyer, will be held from the family residence, five miles west of Albany on the Corvallis road, at 3 p. m., Sunday afternoon, September 2.

Services will be conducted by the Rev. W. P. White. Interment will be at Riverside Cemetery. Pall bearers selected are as follows: Will Stellmacher, John Selzer, Geo. Hofflich, Hike Ohling, Lawrence Edholm, Geo. Kline.

KERENSKY SAYS RUSSIAN PROBLEM NEARLY SOLVED

Moscow, Sept. 1.—Premier Kerensky told the United States through the United Press that he believes the Moscow conference has shown that the entire Russian nation is preparing actively to make sacrifices for the country's defense.

He declared that all sides are willing to make concessions necessary for a united effort.

Attended Funeral—Mrs. Virgil Hackleman went to Scio to attend the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Large.

Here on Furlough—Harold Michaelson of Co. D 4, U. S. Naval Training Station, San Diego, returned home yesterday on a five-day furlough to visit his mother.

MONDAY WILL BE HOLIDAY FOR WORKERS

Labor Day Will be Celebrated in Large Cities; Post Office and Banks to Close

Monday, Sept. 3, will be Labor Day. It is a legal holiday all over the United States and in the large cities great celebrations and ceremonies will be carried out. Parades and public speaking will be the order.

In Albany the day will be recognized partially. None of the business houses in mercantile lines will close, but the banks will close and the barber shops will shut up at noon. Some of the offices at the court house will close, while others will remain open for business as usual.

The Post Office will be a closed institution all day. There will be no city or rural deliveries, except the parcels post delivery in the city in the morning. There will be one collection of mail from the boxes in the morning. The general delivery window will be open from 1 to 2 p. m. and the distribution to the lock boxes will be made as usual.

Had no License—Gordon Ragsdale, who gives his home as in the John Day country, Eastern Oregon, was arrested Thursday for driving his auto without a license. Upon hearing his story Deputy District Attorney W. L. Marks moved for dismissal of the case, and Judge Swan ordered the young man's release. Ragsdale stated that he had just bought his car in Eastern Oregon. To have secured a license would have taken several days, and as he and a friend and their sisters wanted to start on a trip to the valley he intended to get his license at Salem. Under the old law he had 10 days, but the new act does not give any grace. Their car broke down near Shedd and they were towed into the city. The young man is a good-looking, honest appearing fellow and the officers placed confidence in his story.

WILES RETURNS FROM SILETZ INDIAN FAIR

"The Siletz Indian Fair was one of the most interesting exhibits I ever attended," said Concliman E. F. Wiles who has just returned from an outing at the coast.

"Splendid music, Indian dances and exhibits of hay and stock grown by the Indians proved most interesting. Heretofore the management of the fair has been under the direction of the agent but this year it was managed exclusively by the Indians. On this reservation there was at one time 10,000 Indians but the number has now dwindled down to five or six hundred."

MIDDLE WEST CROPS GOOD SAYS JOHN SHAW

"The crops in all of the Middle Western states with the exception of North and South Dakota, are in splendid shape," said John Shaw to a Democrat representative this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw just returned from a motor trip through the Middle West and portions of Canada. They left here on June 20th, and returned on August 29th. Among other points visited were Niagara Falls, Port Huron, Omaha, Battle Creek, and Bismark.

"In Canada," said Mr. Shaw, "the crops are in excellent condition and the Middle West and the Canadian Northwest have never seen more prosperous times than at present."

CHICAGO POLICE BREAK UP PEACE MEETING

Chicago, Sept. 1.—The People's peace conference was broken up this afternoon by the police.
