"STRAFFING" WILSON

The finest indoor sport in Germany just now seems to be strafing President Wilson. The schoolroom children are being initiated into this fascinating game, and take to it with their usual docility and zest. Lately they have been having patriotic demonstrations, in the course of which they send telegrams to the Kaiser Chancellor Michaelis and Marshal Von Hindenburg, condemning our President for trying to meddle in Germany's internal affairs, and pledging their support to the government. Similar demonstrations have been held by mercantile associations and other bodies of adults. There has been a flood of resolutions, all of which insist that the German people are content with their political condition and will allow nothing to come between them and their Kaiser. They urge the Reichstag not to yield to the demand for more democracy. All this, of course, is carefully staged. The resolutions are nearly all drafted on the same model. There is just as fine team work as there was in America while the Prussian propaganda was in full blast here. But back of this play-acting there must be considerable political ferment. We'd give a good deal to know what is really going on in the minds of the German people. We can't help believing, in spite of appearances, that a time will come when they'll start strafing Wilhelm instead of Wilson.

WAR SHORTENS DRESSES OF FRENCH FASHIONABLES

PARIS, Sept. 5.—(By Mail)—War restrictions invariably arouse protests, but the one limiting woolen material for women's dresses to four and a half metres (about five yards) has been accepted without a murmur—even with alacrity. This measure was readily accepted by the dressmakers' syndicate when the government pointed out its advisability. The tendency of fashions had been towards even ampler proportions of skirts. Since the war skirts underwent a shortening process. The question was whether the fashion of ample skirts should continue and the quality of the material deteriorate, or whether a radical change of style be introduced. The dressmakers' syndicate preferred the latter alternative, explaining to their clients that it is essential for the prestige of French fashion that no concession be made to the quality of the material for tailor made clothes in order to preserve the impeccable line which is so essential. One of the chief considerations, so the leading Paris tailors declare, is American customers, which would fall off if it were found that Paris clothes were of inferior material. The restriction only applies to materials containing wool, so that for dressing gowns and indoor dresses, of non-woolen materials, those who prefer flowing lines and full skirts will be able to indulge their fancy as before. As striking contrast to the severe and simple tailor made, which will prevail in outdoor places, will be the exotic toilettes which several of the big firms are about to launch for evening wear, some of which are direct copies of Chinese models.

WAR LIBRARY FUND IS GROWING FAST

PORTLAND, Sept. 27.—(Special to the Democrat)—Fifty-eight hundred dollars was the war library fund total announced by State Director Brewster at noon as Oregon's progress towards her quota of the national million-dollar library fund. Three cities have made notable progress. The Dalles heading the outside Portland district with $459. Corvallis announced $150 raised without solicitation and Astoria raised her total at noon to $225. Bishop Keater, Washington state director, announces Oregon $1,000 ahead of Washington, but hopes to equalize when 1,000 women all over his state get to work today. Other features of the morning in the library fund were Moro, $35; Junction City, $11; Sutherlin, $20.50; Redmond, $25.50; St. Benedict, $20; Bandon, $40 raised by a patriotic tea with an entertainment to augment the total; Monroe, $10; Port Orford, $6. The campaign is now on its last half.

WOMEN RUN STATE FAIR

STATE FAIR GROUNDS, Salem, Sept. 25.—(U. P.)—Women ran the State Fair today. Women were on the program and women crowded the fair grounds. The day on the program is called women's societies and food preparedness day. Campbell's American band opened today's program at 10 o'clock with a concert. Mrs. George McMath, representing the Mother's Congress and the State Parent Teachers' association spoke, and Alice Price Moore, of Baker, sang. The speed program opened at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. Between events, Anna Marshall Powell, of Albany, and Campbell's band furnished music. Millie R. Turnbull spoke at 3 o'clock and the day's program was rounded out with a balloon ascension and parachute jump. The Death of Custer or the Battle of the Little Big Horn, is tonight's feature.

REAL SPORTS TRAINING PROVIDED FOR MEN OF NEW NATIONAL ARMY

By H. C. Hamilton, United Press Staff Correspondent. NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Following out a plan evolved by Secretary Baker after much study, the War Department Commission Camp Activities is ready to begin on training its national army recruits in sports as well as in war. Instructors have been appointed and assigned to the cantonments. These will be augmented from time to time by others. Sports of all sorts, it has been found, have a distinctive part on the life of the embryo soldier. Even children's games have been used by French and British in preparing men to whip Germany. Most attention in this country, however, will be paid to baseball, the national game. Announcement already has been made of the following assignments: J. N. Ashmore, University of Colorado, Deming, N. M.; John R. Bender, University of Tennessee, Camp Sevier, Greenville, S. C.; John M. Booth, former Yale athlete, Twenty-sixth Division; John Bredemus, Columbia University, Camp Wheeler, Macon, Ga.; Walter Camp, former Yale athlete, Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga.; John R. DRAFTING OF YOUTHS OF 19 AND 20 URGED by the War Department General Staff today advocated immediate amendment of the selective draft law to include youths of 19 and 20. Among the officers of this organization are Joseph Leiter, president, ex-president Taft, honorary vice-president; Perry Belmont, Dr. William T. Hornaday, Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, vice-presidents, and Clark Howell, George W. C. Drexel, Thomas Nelson Page, Col. George Truesdell and Gen. John A. Johnston, members of the executive council. The league says the General Staff thinks these boys are needed and should be conscripted and put in training at once to insure triumphal closing of the European war. Asserting that youths of this age have played vitally important parts in previous wars, the league quotes Lieut.-Gen. S. M. B. Young's statement, gleaned from the records of the war department as to ages of soldiers in the Civil War. These are: Boys under ten years of age, 25, 11 or under, 38; 12, 225; 13, 300; 14, 1,523; 15, 104,987; 16, 231,051; 17, 844,091; 18, 1,151,438; 21, 2,159,798; 22 and over, 46,626. "To keep down the expenses of conducting the war," said the league's statement, "the government should avoid as far as possible the calling of men with dependents. Men at greater cost it is doubtful whether as many men can be secured between the ages of 21 and 31 as will be available between 19 and 21. "The amendment could be so framed that the men called out under it would not be placed in active military service until they have reached the age of 21."

By George Martin, United Press Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The Army League, claiming to be backed
