German General Staff Planned to Blow Up Canadian Pacific and Factories

DASTARDLY WORK UNDERTAKEN WITH U.S. AT PEACE

Money Sent to Influence Congress to Support Germans on Embargo Legislation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(U. P.)—The German general staff sought to wreck the Canadian Pacific at several points and plotted to burn the Canadian and United States munitions factories, according to correspondence from Berlin sent to Ambassador Bernstorff, and published today by the state department.

Simultaneously the state department published a telegram which Bernstorff sent to Berlin in September, 1916, declaring that the embargo conference was planning to sway congress to the German side, and needed further support.

Foreign Secretary Zimmerman sent Bernstorff the following message:

"The general staff desires energetic action regarding the proposed destruction of the Canadian Pacific at several points with the view of completing protracted interest by the interruption of traffic between the United States and Germany."

Sir Roger Casement provided the plotters with names of suitable men.

BULL ELK VISITS WHIT. CRAWFORD'S FARM

Fine, Big Animal Makes Breakfast on Apples 10 Miles from Albany

When is a cow not a cow? Answer—when it is a bull elk.

This morning about 8 o'clock Orville Crawford, who lives with his brother Whit Crawford on the latter's farm ten miles east of Albany on the Lebanon road thought he saw a strange cow in the orchard and went out to drive the animal out. Said animal was feeding, keeping its head down until Crawford was within 60 yards. When it heard footsteps approaching, it threw its majestic head in the air, gave a couple of sniffs and started off at full pace. It was then that Crawford discovered that it was a bull elk.

It ran through Marion Faulkner's place, frightening his team, and proceeded on towards Knox Butte. The fog had lifted and several people saw the animal making its way back towards the mountains.

Orville Crawford stated that the elk was larger than a cow and had a beautiful set of antlers, was round and fat and a fine looking animal. Sheriff Bodine and Game Warden Ed Hawker were notified and ranchers in the western part of the county were notified of the presence of the elk and asked to spread the news. The penalty for killing elk is $1,000 fine and a year imprisonment.

It has been many years since elk have been seen so far from the mountains. It is thought that the animal was run out by dogs and made its way on into the valley during the night. The nice red apples of the Crawford orchard were greatly to its liking.

Songs of the Sammies

AMERICAN FIELD HEADQUARTERS, France, Sept. 22.—(By Mail)—A Mexican lit, which our troops swiped from the Mexicans during the Pershing Expedition now seems to be the best as the "Tipperary" of the Sammies.

Sung in Spanish the obscenity of the words mean nothing to the majority of the Sammies, so the tune now floats through the valleys during the evening singing bees without offending anyone.

The tune is such a unanimous hit with the camps that it would be worth Irving Berlin's time to write American words to fit it—preferably something about the Kaiser.

Carriazista soldiers had a villainous which they sang against the Villistas and the Villistas came right back with another version to fit the Carriazistas. The tune is known to hundreds of veteran American regulars.

Sheriff Bodine this afternoon turned over to County Treasurer W. W. Francis a total of $65,404.05 collected on the 1916 tax roll. As enough money is credited it is turned over to the treasurer to be paid out to the various funds.

The giants secured eight hits off Cicotte, the Chicago twirler. New York scored in the fourth. Robinson tripped and scored on Holke's double. Holke came home when Burns hit a single. But few White Sox were able to reach first. Chicago did not play as good a game as when on their home grounds, making three errors. New York humbled two.

A conference with Oregon bankers regarding the Liberty Loan campaign and an address before five thousand persons at the municipal auditorium and a reception at a downtown hotel filled out McAdoo's busy day. He left for San Francisco at 3:50 o'clock this afternoon.

The failure of the Liberty Loan would be Germany's greatest triumph declared the secretary at the auditorium meeting. He advised Portlanders to buy Liberty Bonds first, as a patriotic act; second, as a good investment.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—Knowledge of the rifle and all of its parts is an important part of the training given to U. S. Marines at their League Island camp. "Are you acquainted with the parts of your rifle?" he asked, sternly.

Christmas Mail for Soldiers in Europe

The following communication was received yesterday from Postmaster General A. S. Burleson by Postmaster C. H. Stewart, and explains itself with regard to the mailing of Christmas packages to the soldiers:

Washington, D. C., October 8, 1917. To the public: The time is approaching to give thought to bringing Christmas cheer to the American soldiers and sailors abroad.

Arrangements have been perfected whereby the Christmas mail to the American Expeditionary forces in Europe is to be delivered by Christmas morning. Without the fullest cooperation on the part of the public it will be impossible to accomplish this result.

The three essential respects in which the people can aid in assuring a happy Christmas at the front are: 1. MAIL EARLY.

ADDRESS INTELLIGENTLY. PACK SECURELY.

For this reason it is urgently requested that all persons having Christmas mail for the soldiers and sailors, and the civilian units attached to the army in Europe, observe closely the following directions:

1. Mails to Christmas morning must be posted not later than November 15th.
2. Every package must bear conspicuously the words "Christmas Mail," the complete address of the person for whom it is intended, and, in the upper left hand corner, the name and address of the sender.
3. Every parcel must be so packed and wrapped as to admit of easy inspection by the postmaster. No parcel will be dispatched to France which has not the postmaster's certificate that it contains no prohibited articles.

EXEMPTION BOARDS ARE DECLARED LAX

Many Men Sent to Camp who Are Not Fit and Are Returned

CAMP LEWIS, Oct. 10.—(U. P.)—Careless or inefficient local exemption boards have caused delay and inconvenience here and much suffering throughout the coast states, army officers said here today.

Hundreds of men who have been passed as physically fit by the local boards must be returned, although their physical ailments were so pronounced they were even unable to do the easier work about the camp. One day's rejections ran ten and one-half per cent of the total number examined recently.

The number of men physically unfit is steadily increasing, indicating that the local boards are growing even more lax. The average rejections now is between seven and eight per cent. A month ago it was three per cent.

Mastering officers also declare that hundreds of men have been sent here who should never have left their wives and children. Some of the men have gone to officers with pitiable stories of wives without money or friends, of starving children and cheerless homes.

These cases are so deplorable that Orno E. Tyler, camp secretary of the Y. M. C. A., has appealed to high military authorities for an honorable discharge for men with needy families and is arranging for temporary relief for the families until the war department acts. Camp officers are powerless to aid.

Miss Olmstead Cashier—Miss Edith Olmstead has accepted the position of cashier in the Hamilton Store to succeed Miss Clara Morgan, who leaves in the morning for Fruitland, Idaho.

M'NIGHT AND BUTLER LOST IN MOUNTAINS

Members of County Court View New Road Survey; Also Much Fine Scenery

Lost! Two members of the Linn county court. The joke is on Judge L. B. McKnight and Commissioner T. J. Butler. It happened like this: Yesterday the three members of the court, with Art Palmer driving the car, went up above Foster to view the proposed cut-off road which may be constructed around Shay hill, leading to Cascade. The august members of the court left the car several miles from the hill and went over to the new cut-off, expecting to follow it back to the main road where they were expected to come out.

The court followed the survey blaze and slashings for a considerable distance and were within a short distance of the road, when the going became too rough for McKnight and Butler and they went up over a bluff, expecting to follow it out. Commissioner J. D. Irvine went on over the regular course.

Arriving at the road Mr. Irvine sat down to wait. An hour passed. Two hours flitted by. Three hours dragged around and yet no sign of the rest of the court. He went to a telephone and was about to spread a general alarm and get up searching parties when he heard that the missing men had reached the road about six miles from that point and nearly in the place where they had entered the woods the first time. It was near the Miner place that they emerged at about 7:30 p. m.

The joke is on Judge McKnight and Commissioner Butler who have lived in this county many years and know the country they were in. But this time they went in the wrong direction and came near being guests of the woods all night.
