Bell Phone 538-RHonoring Mrs. E. D. Lloyd, who has come to Albany to make her residence, Mrs. E. M. Pugh was hostess for a charming party on Monday.
Fall flowers graced the rooms, adding to their attraction. Knitting and conversation were enjoyed during the afternoon, and a much appreciated piano selection was given by Mrs.
A. N. Minton. A delicious lunch was later served by the little Misses Hellen Pugh and Anna Katherine Har-rett.The Modern Travelers met this afternoon with an interesting session at the home of Mrs. P. A. Goodwin, on Seventh and Washington streets.
Several new members were present at this time—Mrs. Gustav Abraham, Mrs. Bray, Mrs. Rocky Mason, Mrs.
G. H. Young and Mrs. James Bryant.A gay party was given last night with little Miss Louise Mason as hostess at her home. Charming with all the decorations appropriate to the Hallowe'en season, the house presented a weird appearance, with jack-o-lanterns and spooky ghosts in evidence. The main feature of the evening was the dinner which was served around an attractively appointed table, where novel favors and place cards were used. The guests included Josephine Ralston, Marguerite Bailey, Edith Duncan, Dorris Dowlin, Mamie Woods, Louise Mason and John Cusack, Spencer Sanders, Harry Austin, Stewart Ralston, Ted Young, Buster Fish and David Mason. The latter part of the evening was passed in dancing at the D. P. Mason home.
The music was furnished by a Victrola.After the Congregational meeting at the First Presbyterian church on Monday evening, and the dedication of two windows, a social was enjoyed in the basement. A large crowd was in attendance, and light refreshments were served.The Maccabees held another of their jolly social affairs at their hall.on Thursday evening. After the regular lodge session, initiation was held for several new members. A cleverly carried out parody on the recent medicine show was given, causing a great deal of merriment. Readings and music kept the crowd amused until, replying to the banquet room, a choice supper was served. The tables were decorated with red roses arranged attractively. The Albany ladies and sir knights have accepted an invitation for a Hallowe'en festivity, next Wednesday evening, to be given in Corvallis by the Maccabees of that city.After the summer vacation the first meeting of the New Idea club was held at the home of Mrs. E. L.
Peebler, on Thursday afternoon. Fifteen were present to enjoy the pleasant afternoon with fancy work, conversation and refreshments.The Monday Covered Dish club held a delightful meeting this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M.
French, in honor of the birthday of the host. After finding their partners in a clever and unusual way, the guests were seated at the table, which was covered with a bouquet of roses in various tones. The other decorations were also attractively carried out. The additional guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Tweedale, Mrs.
E. E. Cooper (Salem), Mr. F. M.
Redfield, and Mr. and Mrs. John French and Miss Minnie Merrill. The evening was passed with the pleasant diversion of 500.On Tuesday afternoon the members of the W. C. T. U. met at their hall, about 15 being present. The hemming of dish towels occupied the ladies until Rev. Morgan gave a talk on "Father's Day," also a reading.
Several of the members gave short talks and reminiscences of their father, making the afternoon very interesting.Mrs. Ella McFarland and Mrs.

ST SAVINGS BANKA basket social was the occasion for a gay affair at the Christian church parlors last night, when the Junior Endeavor met to spend a colorful evening together. Hallowe'en decorations were used effectively, an interesting feature being a gypsy fortune teller. An excellent program, games and refreshments, completed the evening's pleasure. Mrs. Haller, superintendent of the department, and Miss Dorris Dowlin, were the committee in charge of this affair.The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. George Chambers of Dever was fittingly celebrated on Monday at their spacious home. A gathering of relatives and the children of the bride, about 40 in all, enjoyed a sumptuous dinner at noon; after which a large reception was tendered in the afternoon to a large number of friends.Decorations appropriate to the season, with bright colored foliage and ferns, were used. About 60 called to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Chambers and to partake of the light refreshments served. A great many out of town relatives were present.On Thursday afternoon, Mrs. A.
B. Wilson entertained at her home for the members of the Coterie club and a few complimented guests. Hallowe'en decorations were used effectively about the rooms where the afternoon was passed with fancy work and conversation. The hostess later served dainty refreshments. Mrs.
Hunt and Mrs. Earl Boyles were additional guests.Invitations have been issued for a Hallowe'en dancing party to be given next Wednesday evening at the Pythian hall, with Miss Wilma Junkin as hostess. It is being anticipated with pleasure by a large number of the younger dancing contingent.The "Willing Workers," a number of little girls belonging to the Sunday school class of Mrs. Edgar at the First Presbyterian church, were singing at the home of Miss Elizabeth pleasantly entertained on Friday evening. Hallowe'en decorations were used, and the evening was passed merrily, with games, music and refreshments.Miss Elizabeth Smith entertained the members of the Sans Souci club at her home on Thursday. A pleasant social time was brought to a close when the hostess served a dainty lunch.The annual thank offering service and social of the United Presbyterian church was held on Thursday evening at the church parlors, with a large crowd attending. Lovely decorations had been arranged, with quantities of cut flowers and greenery. A program was given, which was much enjoyed by all, and light refreshments were later served.The Priscillas met at the attractive home of Mrs. H. A. Leiminger, on Thursday of this week. Autumn leaves were used in the adornment of the rooms, with pleasing effect.
Fancy work and conversation were enjoyed during the afternoon, and several splendid harp selections were tendered by Davis Leiminger. A choice lunch carried out with Halloween suggestions, was later served by the hostess. Mrs. John French and Mrs. Ben Kirk were complimented guests.At the home of Mrs. Clay Marshall, on Sixth and Calapooia streets, the Annette Social club met and passed an enjoyable afternoon on Wednesday. The time was spent with knitting for the Red Cross, after which light refreshments were served.
Nearly all of the members were present at this time.Mrs. J. D. Sommers entertained the Art Craft club at her home on Tuesday afternoon. Decorations in keeping with the season were used about the rooms where the afternoon's pleasant hours were passed. Light refreshments were served by the hostess, but it was voted to discontinue the lunches in the future meetings, as befits the war times.At the beautiful suburban home of Mrs. W. W. Crawford, she entertained with a turkey dinner with Mrs.
M. Montgomery as honor guest. She will depart for Medford soon. The following ladies were present: Mrs.
F. K. Weatherford, Mrs. W. C.
Tweedals, Mrs. O. D. Austin, Mrs.
A. W. Bowersox, Mrs. J. G. Crawford, Mrs. Jas. Foster, Mrs. H. R.
Worth, Miss Helen Worth and Mrs.
M. Montgomery. The ladies were given delightful rides in the Sedan and Chandler Six.Mrs. Howard Jenks and Mrs. J.
E. Jenks Jr. entertained the Sunshine club and their husbands at a Halloween party Thursday evening. The guests were attired in ghost costumes.
