MISFITS

By F. P. Nutting

I am writing this in a hotel at Metaline Falls, on the Pend Oreille (Pend Oreille is the pronunciation), in Pend Oreille county, 16 miles from B. C., and ten from Idaho. Metaline Falls is a place of two or three hundred people. Its big asset is a cement factory, a large one employing about 100 men. It has concrete walks, perhaps to aid its leading resource. Around it is an enormous wall of mountains, so completely locking the place in that the wind is unable to get down here, and there is always a calm. Just now the ground is covered with snow and awhile ago I saw some youngsters sliding down hill.

On the way here I was at Newport, a modern little city of 1500 population. An interesting thing about it is that part of the place is in Idaho, a little of the residence district.

T. morrow I may be at Cusick, busy enough little mill town to have been named after a popular Albany family.

Only a few days ago I was at the other corner of Washington, not far from Oregon and only two miles from Idaho. Two days before that I was in bed, 11 o'clock at night, when a boy knocked at the door with a dispatch which began: "Go to Spokane," and 20 minutes afterwards I was at the depot a mile away ready for the train that arrived a few minutes later.

I mention these things to show I am covering the N. W., quite a change from hunting news in Albany; one I am enjoying.

An Everett experience was a fine one at the home of Miss Dorothy Ott, who spent one summer in Albany with her aunt, Mrs. Beckley.

Had the experience of being in a genuine sandstorm at Oakesdale the other day. The air was filled with sand and dust sent flying like clouds before a heavy gale. No more for me.

Has New Truck—

The Hamilton Department Store this morning sent out for the first time their fine new Ford delivery truck. The truck has a larger capacity than the old machine, and will greatly facilitate the hauling of the business of this growing store. The truck is painted dark blue and the lettering is in gold.

Married Corvallis Man—

Miss Marjorie Schnurstein, daughter of Mrs. Vivian Schnurstein, was married last night to W. Ferris E. Ward, of Corvallis, by Rev. A. M. Williamson, at the parsonage of the Grace Presbyterian church. Mr. Ward is in the garage business in Corvallis and is well known in that city. Miss Schnurstein has many friends in this city who will join in wishing her much happiness.

When You

AMERICA SPEAKS

Ye sons of Freedom, bring to me
With flaming hearts, and banded knee
Your offering to Liberty!

Ye are my sons; my bounteous breast
Hath nourished you, and on you press
Its richest gifts; nor sought I rest.

Gaze now upon thy golden fields;
Mark how the earth its fruitage yields
Beneath the star-strewn flag that shields.

Behold thy cities, proud and strong;
Behold thy homes, where evensong
Ascends to Heaven, free from wrong.

My noble sons! Awake! Arise!
Behold sad Europe's smoking skies;
Gird ye my limbs ere Freedom dies.

Think now of Belgium's fields of red;
Behold where stricken France hath bled;
Remember Lusitania's dead.

My sons! My sons! Your hearts I know;
Bring, then, thy gifts and let me go
With blazing sword, to meet the foe.

TANGENT GRANGE HOLDS HOME COMING DAY

Work of Posts 44 Years Is Renewed by Many Old Members Who Were Present

TANGENT, Nov. 1.—(Special to the Democrat)—A regular meeting of Tangent Grange was held on Saturday, October 27. This was what was called a home coming meeting, when an effort was made to get all the members who joined in the work done by Tangent Grange in the last 44 years.

The time before noon was taken up with the regular business of the grange in order to give the afternoon entirely to the old members, for giving the past history of the order.

The noon hour arrived and a S. O. S. call came from the dining room that dinner was ready.

In the lower hall were found two long tables well laden.

The afternoon session was turned over to the lecturer who had prepared a program for this special occasion.

The first call was for U. G. Smith for an address of welcome. He responded in a few well chosen remarks, which were ably answered by A. Levelling and A. C. Miller and others.

A few of the oldtime songs were sung from the song books first used by the grange. This was followed by the reading of a paper prepared by A. Blevins, who was the first secretary. The paper was read by Mrs. Edna Lewelling. The reading of the paper brought many remarks from A. Blevins, Mrs. M. L. Blevins and others, who called to mind many of the early happenings of the grange. This was followed by an address on the "Past, Present and Future of the Grange," by J. H. Scott. This also brought forth much discussion by those who had been faithful attendants at the grange meetings during its life.

The charter list was read and only two answered to their names—Mrs. and Mr. A. Blevins. John Blevins, also a charter member, was there a part of the day. The larger part of the charter members have passed away.

F. M. Mitchell gave a good talk on grange topics. He also extended an invitation to all to meet with Grand Prairie Grange on the second Saturday of November, where there will be held the same kind of a meeting. T. Froman also gave some good advice on the grange work.

This was the most interesting meeting ever held at Tangent. Visitors were present from Oak Plain, Sand Ridge, Western Star, Callamette and Prairie Granges.

The Grange feels thankful to the visitors for their presence and help during the day, and kindly invites them and all others who care to meet with us at any time, to do so.

The day was too short for the amount of business and the meeting was compelled to close for want of further time.

CITY NEWS

All Saints' Day Observance—

The Catholic people of Albany are observing today as a religious holiday. Tomorrow will be set apart for a solemn remembrance of the dead, and services will be held at 6:15 and 9:30 a. m. Evening service at 7:30 as usual. Tonight Father Olsen will discuss the reasons why Catholics believe in the real presence of Christ in the Eucharist. This implies a study of the question of transubstantiation. The public will be welcome at this service.

Four-Minute Speaker—W. A. Eastburn was the four-minute speaker at the Globe last night. He made a strong appeal for food conservation.

Feeding Bean Screenings—Walter M. Parker has found a new use for bean screenings. He proposes to try them as feed for wild ducks during the winter months.

Will Enlarge Dairy Ranch—Henry Stewart, who resides four miles south of Albany, has purchased 74 acres adjoining his ranch. The property was owned by A. D. Shew and the deal was made through J. V. Pipe.

Elks Visit Brother—A delegation of Elks headed by George Cline and Henry Springer went out this afternoon to visit Chas. Hector, who fell and broke two ribs several days ago.

Went to Portland—Jesse Scott, of this city, and Emil Nelson, of Shedd, left on the morning train for Portland to attend to business matters.

Commissioner Here—County Commissioner Irvine of Brownsville is attending to county business in Albany today.
