DRAFTED MEN WILL HAVE LEGAL ADVISERS

Every man registered for the draft will be sent a Questionnaire in the next few weeks that he must fill out and return within seven days to his local exemption board.

These Questionnaires are long and the answers to some of the questions may require considerable study. But though Uncle Sam will insist that all the questions be answered he is going to safeguard the rights of every man by providing him with free legal assistance and advice in writing out his answers.

To this end the government is about to mobilize all the lawyers of the country for patriotic service. The mobilization will be voluntary—but every lawyer will be expected to do his bit and volunteer.

State, county and district legal advisory boards are to be formed at once in Oregon, as in all other states, to take charge of this work within each district. The chairman of each county board will be, whenever practicable, the county judge or a judge of the circuit court.

These legal advisory boards will be held responsible for seeing that a competent force of lawyers or single free lawyers is at all times available for consultation by all registrants desiring their services, during the period when the Questionnaires are to be answered.

Not only that, but the legal advisory boards will delegate these duties to lawyers in the smaller towns and villages, so that wherever a registered man may be he will have available a competent legal adviser to help him make out his Questionnaire.

So far as the lawyers are concerned it will all be a labor of patriotism on their part. Not a cent will they charge any registrant for their services.

"It should be the pride of every lawyer," says a statement by the war department, "that no registrant within his district is without competent legal advice and assistance in preparing all papers that such registrant is required to submit in the process of the selection of citizens of this nation for duty in the present emergency."

The prompt filling out and return of Questionnaires to local exemption boards by registrants is of the greatest importance. On the information obtained through the Questionnaires will be based the new system of classification on which selection of men for military service under the draft hereafter will be made.

RIGHT NOW is the time for TEAMWORK on the part of the consumer with the J. C. Penney Co. for the more we sell the more we can buy, and the more we buy the lower the price at which we can sell.

A Great Factor in our successful way of merchandising is the elimination of GREED in profit-getting—we figure a small profit on increased volume rather than a large profit on a decreased volume.

SCOTT TELLS OF ADVANTAGES OF CANNERY

Asked for a brief statement in regard to the purpose of his visit in Albany, W. R. Scott, personal representative of W. H. Paulhamus, gave out the following statement:

"I am here as the representative of W. H. Paulhamus, president of the Puyallup and Sumner Fruit Growers' association, an 'follow up' work started by J. B. Olinger in that connection. I am working with the Linn and Benton Fruit association to sign up enough acreage, etc., to Wilson strawberries, Minger black raspberries and phenomenal or hogan berries to warrant the construction of a large cannery in Albany. Mr. Paulhamus guarantees to sell all the fruit he can put up in said cannery, paying for same, cash money weekly on Wednesdays.

"Through the wonderful selling agencies of the Puyallup and Sumner Fruit Growers' association they have been oversold for years, in other words they have been unable to produce enough fruit to fill over 50 per cent of the orders taken and many, many orders turned down at that.

"Considering that they are pioneers in the small fruit industry and have a half-million dollars invested in canneries, an offer such as their present, Mr. Paulhamus has made to your local association spells success from the very start. And it also means to the reasoning mind that the wonderful acreage in the Willamette Valley will increase in like manner to the Puyallup Valley.

"The small fruit industry took over the top acreage in the Puyallup Valley and increased it from $100 per acre 12 years ago to $1,000 per acre—the prevailing price of berryland today. The Willamette Valley needs more diversified farming and more poultry. Chickens and hushberries work fine together.

"Much of the wheat land needs a change or rest. The berry business will produce several times more revenue per acre than the wheat even at war prices. Our railroads are wide awake to what it means in development and are already on record as to what they will do. Here is Albany's opportunity. Will she embrace it?"

—W. R. SCOTT.

Will Leave Tonight—
Miss Lilla McCoy, for the past four and one-half years the efficient stenographer in the office of County Clerk R. M. Russell, will leave tonight for Washington, D. C., where she has been appointed a stenographer clerk in the office of the war department. It is predicted that Miss McCoy's efficiency and capacity for work will soon gain her a good promotion. Her brother, Charles McCoy, is an instructor on the rifle range of the U. S. Marines at Quantico, 30 miles from Washington, and she expects to spend Saturday afternoons in his company.

Mrs. Ben Ridders is seriously ill at her home on South Washington street with pneumonia. Drs. J. P. Wallace and E. E. Beauchamp are attending her.
