Sanitary Fountains.

An investigation of drinking fountains at the University of Minnesota, carried out by the state board of health, led to the rather startling result that the 77 fountains in use at the university, most of which belonged to various supposedly "sanitary" types were found to be improperly constructed to prevent contamination by the consumer, according to the Scientific American. The principal defect was the vertical discharge of the water, making it necessary for the consumer to place his mouth directly over the point of discharge. It was found that one out of every seven persons drank with the lips touching the nozzle. The investigators devised a new type of fountain in which the discharge is at such an angle that there is no possibility of water falling back from the mouth upon or near the orifice.

The War Program of the Camp Fire Girls

Camp Fire Girls in 100,000 homes have made the saving of food the center of their activities for the duration of the war, in accordance with the request of the President of the United States in his address, April 15, 1917. The request is as follows:

"We must supply abundant food, not only for ourselves, our armies, and our seamen, but also for a large part of the nations with whom we have now made common cause."

"Women who devote their thought and their energy to these things, will be serving the country and conducting the fight for peace and freedom just as truly and just as effectively as the men on the battlefields or in the trenches.

"Every housewife who practices strict economy, puts herself in the rank of those who serve the nation. This is the time for America to correct her unpardonable fault of wastefulness and extravagance."

The Camp Fire Girls' slogan is: "Save Food. Work through the home." Their porgram is:

1. Pray God each day that right may triumph, and for strength and wisdom with which to help.
2. Walk 100 miles a month to become as "hard" as a soldier and to save money.
3. Organize in groups of from 10 to 20 to study the saving of food and of labor in the homes.
4. In these groups cooperate in salvaging the waste crops near the homes; namely, apples, berries, etc.
5. All who can do so operate gardens.
6. Cooperate with the American Red Cross [illegible] in its classes and work. This definite program is for all girls and women who wish to work through their homes to help secure "the rights of humanity" and "permanent peace."

Girls and women stand at the point of greatest need and national peril. They handle 86 per cent of the food. We have men enough. We have many enough; but we are not going to have enough food. This war, then, pivots on the American girls and women who work in the homes. Conservative estimates show that by stopping waste we can save enough to feed 80 million people. If the girls and women will save but one cent's worth of food a day for each person, this means one million dollars worth of food a day.

Last year the Camp Fire Girls sent thousands of baby kits to Europe, adopted babies, and sent clothing. They adopt soldiers and send them comfort bags.

The Camp Fire Girls and Boy Scouts of Shreveport, Louisiana, sold over $40,000 worth of Liberty Bonds. The Girls pledged at their last meeting to eat no lamb, pork, or veal, and to have a meatless day in their homes.

The following is a list of the countries in which there are active Camp Fires: one in Chile; three in the Canal Zone; one in Peru; one in Hawaii; one in Manila, P. I.; one in The Hague, Holland; one in Natal, S. A.; three in Quebec, Canada; two in Ontario, Canada; two in New Brunswick, Canada; two in Alberta; nine in Manitoba, Canada; one in Canton, China; ten in England, one in Korea, Japan; one in Scotland; and one in North Wales.
