The Modern Travelers met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. H. Hewitt. Nearly all of the members were present to enjoy the splendid talk on "Social Problems Discussed in Current Literature," by Miss Mary E. Watson of the English department of the University of Oregon. A social time and refreshments completed the afternoon's pleasure.

A delightful dinner party was given on Tuesday night at the Hotel St. Francis when the members of the Sewing club gave their annual New Years banquet. The table was charming with a centerpiece of pink begonias and attractive pink shaded candles. Circling the table were Mrs. Rende Dowlin (Portland), Mrs. Ralph Cronise, Miss Mae Tillman, Miss Velma Davis, Miss Christine Pipe, Miss Stella Dorgan, Miss Clara Tillman, Miss Vera Williams, Miss Kate Stewart and Miss Mahle Schulte.

A New Year's dinner which was perfect in all its appointments was given on Tuesday evening by a group of intimate friends at the home of Miss Flora Mason. Tete-a-tete tables were arranged about the rooms for the 16 guests present, red carnations being used in decoration. Holly, Oregon grape and other suggestions of the holiday season were also used. Later in the evening knitting, music and dancing were enjoyed until a late hour.

A business meeting of the Leisure Hour club was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Dawson on Broadhall street. At this time three new members were voted into the club.

Mrs. C. H. Clifford extended her hospitality on Friday afternoon to the Kensington club and several additional guests. The time was passed pleasantly with fancy work and conversation, followed by refreshments. Those complimented were Mesdames Victor Oliver, G. E. Finerty, Charles Leonard and A. N. Minton.

Mrs. Scott Ward entertained the New Idea club at her home on Thursday of this week. Election of officers for the coming year was held, resulting as follows: Mrs. R. B. Tower, president; Mrs. D. S. Landon, vice-president; Mrs. Alvin Carnegie, secretary and treasurer; and Mrs. E. J. Knapp, reporter. During the business meeting Mrs. L. S. Olmstead and Mrs. J. O. Bragg were voted into the club as new members. The remainder of the afternoon was passed socially, and Mrs. Charles Kendall gave several much appreciated piano selections. Dainty refreshments were later served. Mrs. D. M. Bonar, of Plainsville, daughter of the hostess, was a complimented guest.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. G. M. Junkin was hostess at her home to the Monday Bridge club. Mrs. F. C. Pate substituted for an absent member, two tables of the game being made up. Miss Wilma Junkin later assisted the hostess in serving a dainty collation.

A gay group of high school girls and boys gave a delightful little matinee dance on New Year's Day at the Pythian hall. Red and green decorations of crepe paper were effectively used about the hall, and decked the booth for punch which was served during the afternoon. About 20 couples enjoyed this affair. The patronesses were Mrs. Hulda Ross and Miss Williams.

The Britons enjoyed a theatre party on Tuesday evening, after which they repaired to their hall.

Games, music and elaborate refreshments completed the evening's pleasure.

The Acme Bridge club met on Wednesday with Mrs. L. H. Fish presiding as hostess. The popular game was enjoyed by the members present, and Mrs. G. M. Junkin, who was complimented at this time. The annual evening party given by the club was planned and it will take place sometime in March.

Successful in every way was the Honor Guard dance which was given New Year's Eve in the armory. Moses' orchestra furnished splendid music, which was enjoyed by the large crowd present; and a punch booth at the east end of the hall proved very popular. A great deal of credit is due to the chairman of the committee, Miss Thelma Richards, for the success of this affair.

In celebration of the birthday of Mrs. H. A. Warford, the members of the R. B. club complimented her with a party on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ella Merrill, on West Ninth street. A number of additional guests were also present to enjoy this affair. Cards and music were the diversions of the evening. A handsome vase filled with red and white carnations was presented to Mrs. Warford as a gift from the club—and a delicious supper brought the evening to a close.

Miss Velma Lawrenson was the inspiration for a towel shower which was given last night with Mrs. J. Lawrence Howard as hostess. Dancing, games and music made up the evening's diversion. The gifts were later presented to the bride-elect, and a delicious lunch was served. The guests for this affair included Miss Velma Lawrenson, Miss Alice Lawrenson, Mrs. Henry Bryant, Miss Ella etthorne, Miss Velma Anthony, Miss Bessie Hoover, Miss Stella Hoover, Miss Esther McChesney, Miss Opal Howard, Miss Florence Eastburn, Miss Elizabeth Lawrenson, Miss Elsie Hoffman and Mrs. J. Lawrence Howard.

A dinner and watch party were given on Monday of this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Austin, when the "Covered Dish" club met for a jolly social evening. Red carnations and suitable place cards and favors were used as table decorations, covers being laid for Mr. and Mrs. F. M. French, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Junkin, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Austin, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Pate, Mr. and Mrs. Dory Bussard, Mr. and Mrs. Walton Wurrell, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Veal and Mr. and Mrs. A. Austin.

The evening was passed with music and cards, after which the New Year was ushered in with appropriate ceremony.

The Modern Woodmen and the Royal Neighbors will hold a joint installation of officers next Wednesday evening at their hall, to be followed by a social. Refreshments will be served and the usual good time is expected.

The managers and auditing committee of the Royal Neighbors met on Thursday night for business at the home of Mrs. B. E. Kirk. A jolly social time followed the work and the hostess served dainty refreshments. Present were Mesdames Walton Wurrell, D. Bussard, W. S. Weaver, Mr. Baltimore, Mr. Weaver, and Mrs. Kirk.

A number of girls active in the younger set gave a jolly dinner on Monday evening at the Hotel St. Francis. Pink was the color carried out in the decorative scheme, the table being centered with dainty pink blossoms, while pink shaded candles shed a soft glow, and clever place cards were used. The popular maids included in this crowd were the Misses Florence Fortmiller, Ella Kroschell, Salome Cusick, Virginia Rathbone, Dorothy Gilbert, Dorothy Walker, Lorraine Conter, Evelyn Robson and Fern Rithrath. Later in the evening the girls attended the Honor Guard dance.

On Monday evening a jolly watch party was given at the home of Miss Esther McChesney by the girls belonging to the former N. N. N. club. Their boy friends were entertained at this time and about six couples passed the evening together with music and games. Delicious refreshments were served in the evening.

The Sans Souci club met with Mrs. Roy Dowd as hostess on Thursday afternoon. The afternoon was most enjoyable, a Christmas box and "grab bag" being features causing much interest. The table around which the refreshments were served, held a small Christmas tree in the center, with lighted candles. Mrs. Morris Dowd was an invited guest.

Mrs. A. F. Luther was hostess to the members of the North Albany Thursday club at its regular meeting. This being the first gathering since before the holiday season, the ladies exchanged gifts by means of a Christmas box which proved a pleasant feature. Later in the afternoon the subject of food conservation was taken up and many helpful suggestions brought out.

An informal reception was held on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Nebergall, when a number of friends and relatives were bidden in to greet Mr. and Mrs. D. Olin Nebergall, who were married in Portland the early part of the week. Several delightful hours were passed, the ladies being occupied with hemming napkins for the bride, while the men were trying their art at hemming dish towels, causing much merriment. Music was also enjoyed until choice refreshments were served by the Misses Helen Livingood, Viola Kroschell and Lois Nebergall. The crowd dispersed at a late hour. Miss Merritt Miller of Jefferson was an out-of-town guest. The young couple will reside in Albany, at 115 Madison street.

Miss Viola Kroschell was hostess to the Alpha Nu girls on Friday evening. An elaborate dinner was the main feature, this being served at a prettily decked table where red and white carnations were used in adornment.

Miss Lottie Morgan entertained a few friends informally at her home on New Year's Eve. Knitting, conversation and Victrola music completed the evening.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
