MAXWELL SAYS HE IS NOT A MEMBER

Editor Democrat: My attention has been directed to a write-up in the Albany Herald of a meeting of what is known as the Linn County Good Roads association, held at the Court House on the 15th of last month. In the account of this meeting my name appeared as one of the directors elected at that time. I wish to state that I was not present at the meeting referred to, neither am I in any way connected with that organization.

JOHN MAXWELL.

RED CROSS PRESS MANAGER EXPRESSES THANKS

The following letter from Orton E. Goodwin, of Portland, manager of the press bureau in the recent Red Cross membership drive, expresses the thanks of the committee for the work done in Linn county. Special emphasis is placed upon the assistance given by the newspapers, and Mr. Goodwin takes occasion to express his appreciation to the business men of Albany who contributed towards the display advertising used during the drive.

Albany Democrat, Albany, Oregon.
Gentlemen: I wish I knew how adequately to express to you the appreciation of the American Red Cross for your efforts in the membership drive. Would you be good enough also to express to the advertisers who were responsible for the advertisements you ran, the warm appreciation of the American Red Cross for their efforts? The Albany Democrat did everything in its power to make the campaign a success. Those efforts were timely and to the point. You made one continuous drive from the first announcement of the campaign until the final returns were in. I would like to assure you that the American Red Cross has a very full knowledge of the work you did and I wish it were in my power to tell you how strongly we feel about it. Lane county swung right up in the final showing and had it not been for the work conducted by the newspapers, I am convinced that the final total would not have been nearly as great.

With very best wishes for the New

BIG BILL RUSSELL AND WAR PICTURES AT ROLFE

Big Bill Russell, one of filmdom's handsome idols, comes to the Rolfe tonight in "Masked Hearts." Russell is one of the handsomest characters on the screen, is big and virile, and his Western type never fails to please.

The third episode of the British war pictures, "The Retreat of the Germans at the Battle of Arras," will also be presented. This series is one of the strongest sets of war pictures yet produced, and attracts increasing crowds. The fact that they are real scenes from the battlefield and not posed views, serves to increase the interest and gives the audience a view of modern warfare that could not be duplicated this side of France. A comedy will also be presented.

'Sirens of the Sea'

THE PICTURE BEAUTIFUL

Gerald and Hartley both become enamoured of the golden-haired Sybil. Trouble ensues when Julia, a captivating brunette, consumed with jealousy, conspires with Hartley for the undoing of Sybil, who, to elude Hartley's desperate pursuit, throws herself into the sea. Gerald rows about all night and falls asleep at dawn, dreaming of Sybil as Lorelei. A thrilling drama based on the "Lorelei" legend is then visualized on the screen with picturesque settings and magnificent water-witch scenes of dazzling splendor, the sea swarming with a huge ensemble of alluring water sprites performing sensational swimming and diving feats that have never been surpassed.
