HIGH HEELS ARE DOOMED DURING WAR

By George Martin, United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—High heels must go! High shoes also! They are going by government edict in France. They will go by government request in the United States. They have gone in England by common consent.

Thus will women be brought down to man's level in the war to make the world safe for democracy. By demanding new shoes with low heels from their dealers, they will get them. Maryland women do.

And the idea of it all is to save leather for the lads who are lapping the Hun.

There will be less leather in shoes generally, too. That goes for England, France, Italy and the United States. England has a drastic law regulating the height of footwear. The commercial economies board of the council of national defense is trying to eliminate high shoes in America, particularly military high-heeled boots.

On this subject an editorial translated from Le Matin, Paris, by the women's foreign news bureau of the council exclaims at the disproportion between the height of boots for French women, and the scarcity of leather for military purposes.

The writer complains even more sharply, however, of the height of the heels, declaring that this is no time to deliberately undermine health and usefulness by such a fashion. If, he says, it were a fashion to carry the nose several inches further forward, he would have nothing to say, though it would be as unlovely to look at, were it raised to this unnatural angle. But seven out of ten feet subjected to high heels are tortured by being thrown out of balance, the toes are turned, the heels are treacherously thrown out of line, and soon worn over. And when one thinks that two centimeters less of heel would end all this, and restore normality, one is obliged to reflect "like feet, like head."

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Drink lots of water.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

HAMILTONS'

A few days after the editorial appeared, the writer admitted that he had received many letters from women saying that they would gladly wear better shoes, but they must buy whatever there are in the store; that those who make the styles should be scolded, not they. Supply is regulated by demand, and demand is largely guided by education. Manufacturers will cooperate with women who demonstrate patriotism by continually asking for conservative styles which save leather for military uses.
