CITY NEWS

To Work in Shipyards—

E. H. Dickson and Oscar Nygren went to Portland this morning to work in the shipyards as painters.

Spent Night Here—

J. F. Carlo of Ashland spent last night in Albany and went to Corvallis this morning to visit his daughter.

To Attend Meeting—

C. L. Shaw went to Salem this morning to attend a meeting of the directors of the garage fire insurance.

Visiting Holloways—

D. E. Holloway of Eastern Oregon arrived in Albany last night and will visit for a few weeks at the home of his son, D. S. Holloway.

Crawfords Leave—

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Crawford will leave on the early train tomorrow for Long Beach and other points in California.

Will Move Store—

Repairs on the Rhodes building next to the St. Francis hotel are progressing in good shape and D. S. Holloway expects to be able to move his grocery store to the new location by the first of next month. He will enlarge his stock and make other improvements in the service.

Halifax Horror at Globe—

In the Globe bill tonight will be moving pictures of the recent Halifax disaster, which are said to be the finest films of their kind in existence. That the program contains this added attraction was not known to the management until late this afternoon, which explains the absence of the program being featured in the regular advertisement.

Marching Through Germany—

T. W. Tresidder of Seattle has written a popular song, "Marching Through Germany." Copies of the song were received at this office today. The tune is catchy, the words patriotic and the composition as a whole is good.

Here From Lebanon—

Mrs. John Reed, of Lebanon, is visiting at the home of Mrs. J. G. Crawford.

Montana People Here—

Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Morgan, of Carter, Mont., are visiting in the city with relatives.

Canadian Soldiers to Speak—

The three Canadian officers who will speak here Wednesday evening, are continuing to draw large crowds along the line. Last night they spoke at Medford and tonight they will talk at Grants Pass. A large crowd is expected to hear their talk here tomorrow evening at the armory at 8 o'clock.

ELAINE HAMMERSTEIN SCORES HIT IN "THE CO-RESPONDENT"

Manager Cummings, of the Rolfe Theatre, put over a "knock-out," to use the slang term, when he booked "The Co-Respondent," which opened at that playhouse yesterday. A full house greeted the performance, in which Elaine Hammerstein is featured, last night.

"The Co-Respondent" is one of the best photoplays features shown in many months. The feature was directed by Ralph W. Ince, and bears all the earmarks of the Ince direction, which is as close to perfection as it is possible to come. It seems that simplicity is the keynote of all the recent photoplays successes. In "The Co-Respondent" simplicity again plays a most important part.

Miss Hammerstein outdoes the expectations of her most ardent admirers in the role of the innocent country girl brought up in a plain singing community and suddenly precipitated into the caldron of city wickedness. She is simplicity itself as theingham-trooked country maiden who listens with greater interest than wisdom to the false stories of the man she later discovers to be a scoundrel.

Jewel Productions, Inc., has surrounded Miss Hammerstein with a notable cast, which includes Wilfred Lucas, George Anderson, Winifred Harris and Josephine Morse, who plays the part of a crabbed old maid irresistibly. The characters and scenes of "The Co-Respondent" are most realistic and true to life. There are woodland scenes and cool, shady brooks and grassy meadows that fairly breathe of country life. The views of a great metropolitan newspaper office are the best and truest to life ever seen either on the screen or the legitimate stage.

The fourth episode of the war pictures, "The Retreat of the Germans at the Battle of Arras," show a more intimate view of the great war, showing the soldiers going over the top and more battle action. George Ovey is also good in a Cub comedy. Same bill again tonight.

MILK PRICES ADVANCE WEDNESDAY MORNING

For months past the fresh milk business has been conducted by the dairyman at no profit and in many instances at a great loss. Milk condensers with great war orders to fill at a big price have been boosting the price of fresh milk in order to get the dairyman to stay in the business. All kinds of feed has gone out of sight and farmers claim they have not in many instances received enough to pay their feed bill. New laws for the compulsory pasteurization of market milk and cream, lettering of milk bottles and cans, and the compulsory testing of the dairy herds for tuberculosis, which has taken the milk from many cows off the market. This together with the abnormal high price the farmer can secure for his cows for beef, tends to lessen the supply of milk.

On top of all this the prices of bottles, milk cans, milk caps, labor and everything connected with the milk business has advanced 25 to 50 per cent. In order to avert any serious shortage in securing milk to supply the demand, makes a rise in the retail price of milk necessary.

On the 15th of January we will advance the retail price of milk to the following prices: In gallon lots, 35c; in quarts, 12c, and in pints 6c. Yet, at these prices, pure milk is comparatively one of the cheapest foods that can be used.
