CHRONICLES OF A

RED CROSSER

By Fred Dawson

Hubby weareth undarned socks while the good wife knitteth for warriors.—The minus day appeareth in plenty. Now when the warriors had been assembled in their camps, their friends became greatly interested in their welfare.

The good women who cared not for publicity and the light of lime brought forth knitting needles and did weave all manner of warm sweaters and socks.

Their hubbys go about with undarned socks and taketh it out in grumbling and looking for safety pins.

Others who knitted not fashioned swell knitting bags and spent their time stalling around with them in public places.

The dame who labored with her brain because she was too busy to

HAMILTONS' JANUARY SALE FURS

A Fine Selection in Various Styles and Pelts

With the winter season at its height, and almost the complete season of wear ahead, this sale of Furs is a bit of news that will be welcomed by all women in this territory who still have furs to buy. Furs are such an important accessory this season from a fashion standpoint, that we know no woman who will not want to wear furs now at these prices.

HAMILTONS'

knit, sought out the reporters; And straightway proclaimed wheatless, meatless and otherless days in abundance.

But of moneyless days there was already a plentiful sufficiency.

She who simply could not live without gum proclaimed a smokeless day to provide chicle for the warriors.

While the smoker proposed a gumless day to provide more makings.

The Saturday Morning Pole was filled to overflowing with ads of merchandise necessary to the comfort of the soldier boys.

In each ad was the portrait of a lieutenant with a forced ear-to-ear grin as he contemplated the wares.

Yes, were there so many essentials to soldier life that it would require a Formosa-Flivver per man to carry them.

But the wise dame who knit the sweater rolled up a jar of Mentholene Balm therein.

And when the footsore warrior returned from the drill there was no smile upon his countenance.

But when he had shucked his shoes and applied the salve, then was his face wreathed in a smile no artist could paint.

And when his jar became empty he visited among his fellows seeking to trade a flivver load of presents for another jar.

Is Busy Place—

The Red Cross work rooms were busy yesterday, 31 women devoting their time to work for the benefit of the soldiers at the front.

Red Cross Box—

A neat little white box with these words: "Red Cross, Come Across," painted on the front, has been placed in the ticket window of the Oregon Electric depot, by a ladies' society of Albany. Mr. Logan states that he thinks the box will average about 50 cents a day or $15 a month. Many who buy tickets and receive small change, place it in the box.

To Attend Convention—

Owen Beam left this morning for Portland to attend the Interstate Realty convention in session there.

in paper mills West Linn and Oregon City still on but State police have matter under control. Come along by the best possible route to Oregon City and walk across the Suspension Bridge to West Linn. Apply at Employment Office on mill walk. Wages $3.10 for nine hours and up, according to work performed. Good chances for advancement. Can get good board at mills 75c day during January but rooms are available in Oregon City. Write CROWN WILLAMETTE PAPER COMPANY, West Linn, for further particulars or come along and present this ad to Employment Agent. Over 750 men now working.

Notice to the Public

Before I started selling meat my competitor was selling at higher prices. Beef was cheaper then than it is now. Since I started, they have cut prices below me for the purpose of forcing me out of business.

It is up to the people to know what to do—put me out of business and go back to higher prices—or stand back of me and have the price right at all times.

An Unusual Opportunity In Our Hat Department

In These Days of "Mr. High Prices"

It is scarcely necessary to tell a person to Hooverize; that is, to buy "good quality." Cheap quality never was economy and this is especially true these days.

About 65 Genuine Velour Hats

—That originally sold for $3.50 and $5.00, nearly all $5.00, and if bought today would retail for $7.00 or $7.50. These we are going to sell cheaply and quickly for

$2.95

If you realize that one of these hats would last you from 3 to 5 years continual wear, that they are the best and most serviceable hat ever put out by any manufacturer, you will get one of them before they are gone.
