January Clearance Sales

The dawning of the close of these great sales is near at hand; a few days, and they will be no more. The savings they offer will only be a recollection.

Before they come to a conclusion, however, there still remains on our floors number of surplus lots of seasonable goods, which must be gotten rid of. So to accomplish this riddance, we have attached to them prices that are rarely equalled.

CITY NEWS

Detroit Woman Visits—

Callie Ramsdell, of Detroit, arrived in the city last evening.

Poultry Man Calls—

Chas. D. Minton, well known poultry expert and poultry and farm paper editor, was in the city yesterday in the interest of the Statesman Publishing Co., of Salem.

Camp Fire Girls Meet—

The Camp Fire Girls held a meeting in the public library last evening. An interesting program was given. Ora Gilchrist read a paper on the "Life of Anna Howard Shaw". Gladys Struckmeier told about the life of Ellen H. Richards, and Gertrude Helt gave an interesting discussion of the life of Florence Nightingale. There were several visitors.

Salem Man Visits—

C. D. Gabrielson, well known insurance man, spent the night in the city last night.

First Elk Here—

J. L. (Jack) O'Neill, the well known T. P. A. of the O. W. R. & N., is registered at the Hotel Albany. Mr. O'Neill was the first man to take out a membership in Albany Lodge No. 359, B. P. O. E., and will remain over tonight to attend the meeting tonight.

Hogs Go to 15 Cents—

Local packers are today paying 15 cents for top hogs, the lower grades bringing from 12 cents up. While the cattle market is strong, there is very little "top stuff" in this part of the country to demand the high prices. From four to six cents is being paid here.

Visiting in Brownsville—

Mrs. C. H. Essex is visiting in Brownsville for a few weeks.

Escaped From Reform School—

Chief Catlin was this morning notified of the escape of a boy from the state training school at Salem. He is said to be five feet five inches tall and weighs 130 pounds. Aside from the fact that he has a Roman nose, his name or any further description is not given.

Succeeded A. H. Gould—

In a recent article in the Democrat it was stated that Mr. Walter Powers, wire chief at the Pacific Telephone office, had succeeded Alton B. Coates. He did succeed Lieut. Coates, but not until A. H. Gould, now in the aviation corps at San Antonio, Texas, had filled the place for several months. It should have been stated that Mr. Powers succeeded A. H. Gould.

It's Time—

—to think of INCUBATORS and BROODERS. More chickens—more eggs are needed. DO YOUR BIT. We are headquarters for INCUBATORS, BROODERS and POULTRY SUPPLIES.

120 egg—$16.00

STANDARD COLONY BROODER

Cares for 100 to 1,000 chicks. Provides constant correct temperature, a constant supply of pure, fresh air, plenty of exercise and no possible chance for crowding. Burns coal. Can be operated almost anywhere.
