One of the most attractive brideelects of the season is Miss Thelma Richards, whose engagement to Dr.
Earl Fortmiller was announced last Saturday evening at a dinner presided over by the Misses Ruth Livingood, Janet Dawson and Lucille Snyder. Carefully planned in every detail was this affair which was given at the Livingood home on West Seventh street. The table around which the 11 guests were seated, was adorned with red shaded candles and other charming appointments effectively carried out with the red color scheme. A basket of carnations and a floral arrangement was used as a centerpiece, and the dainty hand-painted place cards bore appropriate verses, suggesting the interesting news which was to follow. Hidden among the candles of each of the little heart shaped napkins was a waiver which, near the close of the dinner, was found to contain two tiny red hearts bearing the pictures of the young couple. Congratulations followed and toasts were given.
The remainder of the evening was passed with knitting and dancing.

No date has yet been set for the wedding, but it will probably take place within a few weeks. Miss Richards has won many friends in Albany since coming here last year from Portland, where she was also popular in social circles. Dr. Fortmiller has enjoyed in the medical corps but is on a furlough until he finishes his course in June, at the U. of C. medical college in Portland.

A pretty home wedding occurred today when Miss Marion A. Anderson was married to Mr. Albert J.
Rousseau of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Arthur Lane.

Only immediate relatives and a few friends were present at the wedding. Miss Janet Dawson acting as bridesmaid and Mr. Oscar Rousseau, brother of the groom, as best man.

After the ceremony they left in their car for Eugene, where they will make their home for a few weeks.

Mrs. Rousseau is a beautiful and popular member of the younger set and has many friends here and in other cities of the Willamette Valley. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Anderson. She attended school in Albany and at the Oregon Agricultural college. Mr.
Rousseau came to Oregon from South Dakota. For a time he was engaged in the automobile business in Eugene, coming to Albany about two years ago. He successfully conducted the Cleveland and other agencies in this city until the first of this year, when he disposed of his interests and joined the United States army.
He is at present enrolled in the advanced course at the University of Oregon, which will be completed in five weeks. He then expects to be transferred to some camp. Mrs.
Rousseau will stay with her husband until his departure for France.

Mrs. P. R. Kelly entertained at the Notre Dame Bridge club on Tuesday afternoon at her hospitable home. The rooms were attractive with potted plants used in adornment. Those enjoying the afternoon with bridge and dainty refreshments were the club members and Mesdames L. H. Fish, C. H. Burgeat, J. K. Haight, Willard Marks and Earl Fisher.

The Annette Social club passed a delightful afternoon on Wednesday at the rooms in the Masonic Temple.
The entertaining committee was composed of Mrs. G. M. Junkin and Mrs.
Grant Porter. After several pleasant hours passed with knitting for the Red Cross, the hostesses served a dainty collation.

The P. E. O. Sisterhood met for a social afternoon on Monday at the home of Mrs. William Hornbrook.
A pleasant feature was a paper on "Oregon Birds and Flowers" which was ably handled by Mrs. H. S. Logan. Knitting and conversation were also enjoyed until the hostess served tea. The members decided to give $10 to the Y. W. C. A. fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Meyer Sr. entertained with a one o'clock dinner on Sunday at their home on Fifth and Capatonia streets. Ivy and red carnations were used in decorating the table, where covers were laid for 16 guests. This lovely affair was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. O.
L. Shuler, of Giltner, Nebraska, who left Tuesday for a sojourn in California.

The Monday Bridge club met this week and passed a pleasant afternoon with Red Cross work at the home of Mrs. P. R. Kelly. An additional guest was Mrs. W. A. Burgett, and a light lunch was served later in the afternoon.

Mrs. Earl Fisher was a gracious hostess on Thursday afternoon when she entertained the Pricilla club at her home on South Washington street. A pleasant social time was enjoyed with knitting, after which choice refreshments were served. The complimented guests were Mrs. William Pollock, Mrs. Lewis Fuller (Portland), Mrs. W. A. Biddle, Mrs.
Charles Kirk (Portland), Mrs. Dennis McNeill, Mrs. William Merrill welling, Mrs. R. R. Wallace, Mrs.

J. R. Martin and Mrs. Allan Stell-macher.

On Thursday afternoon the H. D.
W. club met at the Red Cross rooms.
Nearly all of the members were present to assist in the splendid work.

Miss Thelma Richards was the charming hostess for a miscellaneous dinner on Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Corintha Hart.

formally were the Misses Carolyn Wright, Lee Fortmiller, Beatrice Sanders, Hazel Ross, Mae Ballack, Lucille Snyder, Janet Dawson, Ruth win Fortmiller, Mrs. James Ewing,

An enjoyable dinner party was given last Saturday evening by Miss Gertrude Bueler, at her apartment in the K. P. building. This affair was given in compliment to her house guest, Miss Katherine Spiegot, of Portland, and was enjoyed by a number of intimate friends.

Miss Alice Clement and Prof.
Charles South gave a delightful musical on Monday evening at Tremont Hall, for the benefit of the First Presbyterian church. A large number of guests assembled in the reception rooms which were beautifully decorated with Oregon grape and sweethair. The opening number was a sonata, with Prof. South on the violin and Miss Clement on the piano. Groups of selections were also given by them during the evening.
A light lunch was served.

Mrs. Clinton Stracey entertained the Needlecraft club on Thursday afternoon at her home. Pussywillows were used about the rooms, pleasantly suggestive of spring. At the close of the afternoon, which was passed in knitting and fancywork, the hostess served a dainty lunch. Mrs. Earl Canfield and Mrs. Gregory, of Tacoma, were additional guests.

As a pleasant surprise to Miss Vel-ma Lawrenson, a popular member of the Amosna Sunday school class of the Baptist church, the other girls belonging to the class gave a jolly party and kitchen shower at her home last night. Games and music were enjoyed during the early hours of the evening, and an extremely clever and unusual method was used in the presentation of the gifts. As the refreshment hour drew near, the honored guest was asked to cut the cake. This was a dish pan containing the gifts, covered over the top and made to represent a cake, the imitation being very good. A great deal of interest and merriment resulted. Later dainty refreshments were served, with a cake which proved to be real.

For the pleasure of her weekend guests, the Misses Helen and Elsie Clair of Portland, Miss Edna Metcalf is entertaining this evening with a dinner party. The St. Francis hotel will be the scene of this affair, where covers will be laid for nine guests. The table decorations will be attractively carried out and later in the evening the crowd will visit a "movie." To complete this jolly affair, Miss Metcalf will also be hostess tonight with a dinner party and breakfast at Tremont Hall.

The Neos Nymph club was entertained in a delightful manner on Friday afternoon when Mrs. John Nesley acted as hostess. Baskets of carnations and violets artistically arranged were used about the rooms.
Mrs. Leonard Vaughn, sister of the hostess, gave several greatly appreciated readings and knitting was also enjoyed. A choice collation brought the afternoon to a close. The complimented guests were Mrs. Leonard Vaughn (Lebanon), Mrs. R. A. Hud-kins and Mrs. Archie Gould.

In celebration of the birthday of Mrs. Theodore Hollich, a crowd of her friends surprised her, on Friday evening at her home on Fourth and Vine streets. Mrs. D. S. Davis was in charge of this jolly affair and had planned games and refreshments, making it most enjoyable in every way.

Another pleasant surprise was given this week when a crowd of girl friends went to the home of Miss Laverne Hollich on Thursday evening, her birthday, and Miss Nina Bending acted as hostess for a theater party. After the show Miss Ele-pha Cummings was hostess to the crowd at her home, and a birthday cake and other choice refreshments were served.

Miss Bertha Lee gave a prettily appointed luncheon at her home to-

Helen Lee, Mrs. Bueler, Miss Helen Clair, Mrs. Wallace Howe Lee and the hostess.

On Monday evening a 500 party was given with Mrs. A. Bowers as hostess, at her home. The honored guest was Mrs. R. Eli Romine of Portland. Violets were used attractively about the rooms, and four tables were arranged for the game. A "Hooverized" supper was the closing feature.
