

Announcement

LADIES:

The damage done by the bursting of a water pipe on last Tuesday night in our store is not as serious as we first thought it would be. The only damage done was to our NEW SPRING SUITS. These we are DRYING, PRESSING and fixing up in as good a condition as possible; in fact, one can hardly tell they were wet, except for some of the linings which are slightly soiled. NEXT WEEK we will announce through the DAILY PAPERS the day these will be placed on sale. If in need of a NEW SPRING SUIT—WAIT—

P. S.—None will be shown or sold to anyone until the day advertised for these to be placed on sale. This applies to everybody; so please do not ask us to favor one more than another.

SOCIETY

For this spring, benefit social affairs will predominate and for the past seasons have played an active part among other festivities. An interesting affair of this week was the one benefiting the First Presbyterian church, and presided over by Miss Flora Mason, Miss Bertha Lee and Miss Gertrude Buehler. Hyacinths and daffodils were used in quantities about the rooms in decoration. For entertainment, a program was given, consisting of these numbers: two clever sketches, "Romeo and Juliet" and "They Lived Happy Ever After." Rev. George H. Young gave a splendid talk using as his topic "Short Stories" and illustrating with several stories. A number of piano selections were rendered by Miss Frances Haas.

The guests who gathered at the Mason home numbered about 60.

Charmingly planned as a farewell to Miss Evelyn Marshall, Mrs. Winifred Walker and Dr. Mary Marshall were hostesses at an "afternoon" Thursday. Thruout the decorations and diversions of the afternoon, patriotic suggestions were in evidence. A most interesting afternoon was spent by the guests, knitting and conversations being the chief pastimes. Later a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses.

For the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Minton, who will leave soon for Vancouver, Washington, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Fish entertained in a most delightful manner Friday evening. The intimate friends of the honor guests were asked to spend the evening together at this time. Music, cards and dancing combined to make the evening's hours enjoyable. At a late hour a lunch was served.

Prominent among this week's social events was the tea presided over by Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. E. F. Wiles, Mrs. H. W. Barker and Mrs. O. J. Hawtin on Tuesday afternoon at the attractive Taylor home. It was a social affair benefiting the First Presbyterian church. The rooms were transformed into a veritable bower of Spring blossoms, where the guests mingled in social intercourse. About 60 ladies were guests at this time. In the dining room presiding at the tea were Mrs. Robert McMurry, Mrs. Park Stalnaker, Mrs. Harry M. Hawkins and Miss Mae Ballack.

Miss Zella Burkhardt was hostess Tuesday night to the Twilight club members. Prettily used in decorative effect about the rooms were daffodils and lilies. The jolly evening's hours passed in knitting and fancywork, rounded out with refreshments.

On Tuesday evening the Eastern Star held its regular meeting, at which time the new officers presided. Following this was a pleasant social time, during which music and dancing were enjoyed. A lunch was served during the evening.

For the pleasure of Lloyd Carter, who celebrated his birthday on Wednesday of this week, several young people spent the evening in a social way at his home. About ten couples were delightfully entertained during the evening. A Hooverized lunch was one of the features.

At a meeting of the Friscillas Thursday at the home of Mrs. Grant Froman, it was decided by the members to discontinue the club meetings indefinitely and devote the time to Red Cross work. The money in the treasury was also turned over to the Red Cross treasurer, and the liberality entered into the spirit of patriotism. This last meeting was an enjoyable one, the afternoon being passed in knitting, fancywork and music. In keeping with the season, an abundance of Easter lilies and daffodils were arranged about the rooms. Miss Vernita Froman assisted the hostess in serving a dainty collation. Mrs. E. R. Cummings and Mrs. Wire were complimented guests.

A bridge afternoon was the delightful affair for which Mrs. Bert Veal was hostess on Tuesday when she entertained for the members of the Entre Nous club, at the Hotel St. Francis. Several additional guests were complimented at this time. Beautiful Easter lilies and hyacinths predominated about the rooms, adorning them in a Spring attire. Bridge was the pleasant pastime for the afternoon.

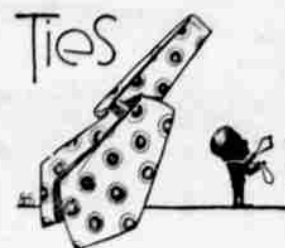

Mrs. F. K. Churchill, Mrs. A. Crowder, Mrs. Calavan and Mrs. Cochran were hostesses to a social time Thursday, following the regular meeting of the Maccabees. Several excellent musical numbers composed a program, as part of the evening's pleasures. Later popcorn was served by the ladies.

Several little guests were entertained Monday by Mrs. J. R. Martin, honoring the third birthday of Master

"What Is the Prophetic Prospect?"

—is the subject of the fourth sermon by

on the general topic

Is the World Growing Better?

This is Dr. White's two-hundred-and-fiftieth address since Oct. 1st in that so-called "Propaganda of Pessimism," and he is pleased to see that the members of his Bible Classes from all over town are going "over the top" in patriotic and philanthropic service. Evidently a belief in the absolute authority of the whole Bible makes one a very good citizen.

Come tomorrow night and hear about the German propaganda of higher criticism in America. It has already struck Albany. 7:30 p.m.
