Competition is the Life of Trade

BUT COOPERATION IN DELIVERY is beyond doubt a saving to the consumer. We have estimated that it costs 4c for each stop with the cooperative delivery, which is cheaper than any private delivery. Knowing this to be a fact we can and will sell any consumer several articles at a time cheaper than if we sold them one at a time. It isn't the intention of the Government to make the merchant any more profit, but to save the public that big, unnecessary delivery expense. We have discontinued our delivery because our Government has kindly asked it and will gladly give our customers the difference. Try buying a half-dozen or dozen cans at a time and note the saving.

Pretty, Petite Anne Pennington Here Tonight

The Campfire Girls will benefit tonight from the performance of "The Little Soldier," featuring Ann Pennington at the Globe this evening. "The Little Soldier" is an ideal vehicle for the dainty little actress, in which she takes the part of a boy scout. The play is interesting from the start and abounds with startling situations.

Rolfe Play Is Tribute to Americans

"For the Freedom of the World," which opened at the Rolfe Theatre yesterday, is declared to be the most startling production based on the war which has yet been made. Written by Captain Edwin Bower Hesser, and telling the thrilling story of the famous American Legion of the Canadian army, it is a creation to stir the soul of every true American. Before the United States entered the war, many thousands of young Yankees—as they are still called across the Canadian line—joined the Canadian army. Recognizing that they were the flower of American manhood, Lieut-General Sir Sam Hughes, the commander-in-chief, ordered the formation of the American Legion, which was quickly filled by patriots so eager to enter the big fight for liberty that they could not wait for their own country to get into the war. A romance most unusual in plot, heart-touching and soul-inspiring, is the basis of a story which takes the hero from a life of inconsequence in an American city to play a part of heroism on the battlefield, win the love of a girl whose wonderful self-sacrifice will touch every heart, and almost taste of death for the honor of the little American flag which he carried sewn over his heart.

FAYETTEVILLE NOTES

FAYETTEVILLE, April 2.—(Special)—There was quite an exciting time in Fayetteville Tuesday evening when the freight train jumped the track, smashing ties, bending rails and tearing things up in general. The train was held up about two and one-half hours. No lives were lost. The measles patients are all improving and will soon be back in school. There are no new patients yet.

The Junior Red Cross is busy cutting snips, sewing and knitting.

A large crowd attended the meeting at the Greenback schoolhouse Wednesday evening to listen to Rev. Bennett and Prof. Boetticher on war, Liberty Loan and Armenian relief, which were excellent.

C. J. Shedd also gave a good talk on Liberty Loan and explained it so people would understand.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Anderson and Mrs. Boetticher of Albany were also in attendance.

The Greenback Red Cross auxiliary met at the Red Cross room Wednesday all day. Those present were Mesdames J. C. Brown, C. Brown, J. Lehn, A. Kendall, N. McCormick, S. McBride, R. Miller, C. J. Lawson, J. Curtis, I. M. Saxton, Miss Olive Adams and Miss Edythe McBride. Some were kept away on account of measles.

The Junior Red Cross in this district was organized Feb. 2, 1918. It has finished and sent in to headquarters eight ambulance pillows, 4700 gunwipes, 40 guncleaners, 27 pairs booties, seven baby sacques, one cape with hood, 14 knitted scarfs. Mr. Greene and family have moved back to Fayetteville, living in the Leeper residence.

Funeral of Josiah Flynn to Be Held Tomorrow

Josiah Flynn, an old resident of Linn county, died yesterday at St. Mary's hospital from old age. Mr. Flynn and wife came to Albany in 1850 and took up a donation land claim three miles from Albany, where he lived until a few years ago, when he moved to the St. Charles Hotel. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital eight weeks ago.

He has been married twice, but both wives have been dead for a good many years, and his friends do not know of any living relatives.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at the Fortmiller funeral chapel in charge of Father Lane.
