MARY GARDEN SUCCEEDS IN ALL HER VARIOUS ROLES

Since all of us like to know things that everyone else does not know, here is the opportunity at hand to get some inside information about Mary Garden, world-wide celebrity, who is now being seen all over North America in "Thais," the greatest of all the Goldwyn Pictures, and who will be seen here at the Rolfe Theatre beginning Monday.

THE STORE OF QUALITY

When Miss Garden first sang "Thais" in Paris at the Opera Comique, it was an unpopular composition and none of the directors of the Comique liked it. By giving it to Miss Garden they were merely retaining their contract rights to the opera by having it sung once a year. At least, that is what they thought. Instantly, through the vitality and power transmitted to it by Mary the magnificent, as one great American newspaper calls the prima donna, it became by all odds the most popular opera of the year and of succeeding years.

When Oscar Hammerstein, the darling and courageous impresario, launched his ambitious opera company in New York, and soon branched out to include Philadelphia and Chicago in his plans, audiences in all three cities clamored for "Thais," since the fame of it had crossed overseas owing to the American interest in Mary Garden and all of her roles. It became Mary Garden's staple drama, despite her "Louise," her "Manon," her "Salome" and other operas of the French school.

TODAY AND SATURDAY AT THE

GLOBE

Lina Cavalieri, Grand Opera Prima Donna, Tonight

Lina Cavalieri, renowned prima Donna and famed as a beauty, has at last rejoined the ranks of film actresses and her first production, made for Paramount under the expert direction of Emile Chautard, will be shown at the Globe Theatre today and Saturday.

This is "The Eternal Temptress" by Mme. Fred de Gresac. The story deals with beautiful Cordelia Sanzio (Cavalieri), at the opening of the story a widow and princess living in modern Venice and playing with the affections of men as a cat plays idly with its victims. One of her most fervent lovers was young Harry Althrop, son of a distinguished American diplomat.

An Austrian nobleman, desiring to obtain possession of an important document which would give him knowledge of Italy's position in the present war (before Italy had joined forces with the allies), plays upon Harry's love by making him insanely jealous of a young Austrian aid, Count Rudolph.

The way they take advantage of his mad affection for Cordelia and force him to steal the documents they desire, and the manner in which Cordelia, at last really in love, saves both Harry and her country's honor, makes a photoplay of throbbing vital interest.

W. R. C. Convention to Be in Elks' Hall

Mrs. Jack B. Willoughby of Eugene, counselor of the Woman's Relief Corps, department of Oregon, was recently in Albany to make arrangements looking to the attendance of the corps at the Encampment in Albany May 13-15 through the committee of arrangements of McPherson Post—W. P. Small, C. M. Westbrook and R. Richardson. Mrs. Willoughby got in touch with the trustees of the Elks lodge hoping to secure the B. P. O. E. hall for use as a meeting-place during the encampment.

Word was sent this morning to Mrs. Willoughby that the hall was at the corps' disposal.

Special communication of St. John's lodge No. 17, A. F. & A. M., this Friday evening, April 5th, at 7:30 p.m. Work in the M. M. Degree. Visiting brothers welcome. W. M.
