SWEEPING BACK THE SEA

Since old King Canute ordered back the incoming tide, there has probably been no more impressive spectacle of futile protest than the action of the anti-suffragists of New York state.

It was the men who gave New York women the ballot. There is no indication that the men, once convinced that democracy means equal suffrage, have changed their minds about it.

What basis they have for their hope is not apparent. There happens to be no case in recorded history of any race or any nation or any political or social group which, once given full citizenship rights, has voluntarily renounced them.

King Canute was really ahead of those anti's. He was only putting on a show to shame his flatterers. He knew the tide wouldn't roll back when he told it to.

THE AMERICAN CREED

It's a pretty good creed that turned up in a prize contest in Baltimore—worth all of the $1,000 that the city paid for it. It is called "The American Creed," and it reads:

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect
