"WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?"

Secretary Daniels says that when an American warship returns to port from a long, gruelling submarine chase, where there is neither sleep nor rest for days at a time and where the strain on muscles and nerves is almost unbearable, the first question asked by the officers and men is, "Where do we go from here?" Never a word of complaint or impatience. Nothing but eagerness to know where duty will take them next.

It is the same with the soldiers, says the secretary. "Not a word of criticism from our boys knee-deep in the mud of the trenches in France. The great, strong, brave, unconquered voice of the American army and navy today is, 'Where shall we go from here?'"

It's a good motto for the people at home. We all have our duties in the war, most of them less heroic in quality than those of the fighting men, but all of them necessary and important. It would be a fine thing if we could all adopt a civilian equivalent, and get into the habit of asking, after every little service rendered to help on the war, "What shall we do next?"

Report of Referees—

The report of the referees in the case of F. L. Bayne et al versus J. M. McLennon et al, a partition suit in department No. 1, was filed with the circuit court today.

NOTICE OF SALE OF GOVERNMENT TIMBER

Notice is hereby given that subject to the conditions and limitations of the Act of June 9, 1916 (39 Stat., 218), and the instructions of the Secretary of the Interior of September 15, 1917, the timber on the following lands will be sold May 15, 1918, at 10 o'clock a. m., at public auction at the United States land office at Portland, Oregon, to the highest bidder at not less than the appraised value as shown by this notice, sale to be subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Interior. The purchase price, with an additional sum of one-fifth of one percent thereof, being commissions allowed, must be deposited at time of sale, money to be returned if sale is not approved, otherwise patent will issue for the timber which must be removed within ten years. Bids will be received from citizens of the United States, associations of such citizens and corporations organized under the laws of the United States or any state, territory or district thereof only. Upon application of a qualified purchaser, the timber on any legal subdivision will be offered separately before being included in any offer of a larger unit. THE UNIVERSAL CAR

More and more the enclosed motor car grows strong in popular favor. It's natural, especially with Ford cars, which are busy running every day of the year—winter and summer the Ford serves faithfully and profitably. So for a real, genuine family car there is nothing equal to the Ford Sedan at $995 f. o. b. Detroit. Seats five. Large doors, plate glass sliding windows, silk curtains, deeply upholstered seats, latest type ventilating windshield—a car of refined luxury with the everlastingly reliable Ford chassis.
