Here! YOU Write This Ad

Maybe it isn't a fair shake for us to do all the advertising and expect you to do all the listening. Now, we're willing to take turn about. You write this ad! Let it be an ad for you, not for us. Isn't this about the way you'd go at it:

YOUR AD

WANTED!

A suit of clothes I can depend upon. I want one I can wear every day and be comfortable in. And if it isn't asking too much I'd like to wear the same suit on special occasions and be able to feel dressed up in it. Then it's got to have some wear in it; it's got to fit; and it must be good-looking, and look right on me. I think that means I've got to get some sensible service with the suit. I'll spend, say, thirty dollars, and if you can show me what I want at twenty-five I'll gladly invest the rest in fixings—ties, shirts, collars and socks. What have you to offer?

U. YOURSELF.

Fair enough! If you'll just step this way, we'll show you a Clothcraft Suit at $26.50 that fits the description, also one at $22.50. Then we'll look at some $2.00 shirts that we're sure will make your eyes bulge out at the values we're still giving, and some collars, ties and socks that haven't been unpacked over 48 hours. As for the service, well—it wouldn't do for us to tell you how good we really believe it is.

"A great net of mercy drawn through an ocean of unspeakable pain"

OUT of the bleeding heart of Europe there comes a cry heard above the moan of the broken body racked with pain. The Soul of Freedom, at bay with Death, cries out to save Liberty for the race of men.

It is your Liberty, your nation's freedom, your children's birthright, that is fighting for its life.

All that life holds for you as an American is at stake in this war, and you must fight for it to the utmost limits of your power.

We cannot all be in the trenches, but every one of us can—and must—sustain those who are.

Not as an act of mercy, but as an act of war—as a Soldier of the Nation—help the Red Cross heal, support, cheer our Soldiers and Sailors of Liberty that they may fight the sooner, the harder, the longer in this Holy War.

Give to the Red Cross every dollar, every cent that you possibly can—give till your heart says stop.

Every cent of every dollar received for the Red Cross War Fund goes for War Relief.

The American Red Cross is the largest and most efficient organization for the relief of suffering that the world has ever seen.

It is made up almost entirely of volunteer workers, the higher executives being without exception men accustomed to large affairs, who are in almost all cases giving their services without pay.

It is supported entirely by its membership fees and by voluntary contributions.

It is today bringing relief to suffering humanity, both military and civil, in every War torn allied country. It plans tomorrow to help in the work of restoration throughout the world.

It feeds and clothes entire populations in times of great calamity.

It is there to help your soldier boy in his time of need.

With its thousands of workers, its tremendous stores and smooth running transportation facilities it is serving as America's advance guard—and thus helping to win the war.

Congress authorizes it.

President Wilson heads it.

The War Department audits its accounts.

Your Army, your Navy and your Allies enthusiastically endorse it.

Twenty-two million Americans have joined it.

Wreck at Tangent—A Southern Pacific freight train, northbound, was stopped last night by a small wreck at Tangent. A Journal on a car of gravel was broken, and it is thought that it had been sawed through. There was no damage as a result as the defect was noticed.

Baldwin May Be Caught—An unverified report was received today by the local police officers that Jeff Baldwin had been caught at Aurora, near Portland. It is not known whether this is true, and the state prison had no word at 2:30 this afternoon. He was believed to have been seen near Wilsonville last night.

Troops Suffered From Thirst.

Some of the hardships experienced by the British forces in Palestine are described in a letter received by a friend in Montreal from a priest. The letter, written shortly before the fall of Jerusalem, tells of a day early in November when a camel convoy from Beersheba was unable to reach the men then fighting for the deliverance of the Holy City from the Turk.

"There was a hot wind blowing," wrote the priest. "A tumbler full of water was left in my bottle, which I divided between four officers whose lips were split and covered with a green slime. That afternoon I had a burial service, and literally I could not articulate without keeping my hand to my mouth and pulling my lower lip off my teeth, while bullets from a concealed sniper whizzed past us. In the evening water came in enough to give each one bottle—quite inadequate."

Communal Kitchens.

The latest proposal for the elimination of waste in food and the supply of meals at minimum cost in England, includes what for a better term is called, communal feeding. The communal kitchen has been proposed on several occasions but, save for a few spasmodic experiments, it has not been given a thorough trial. Lord Rhonda is interested in the new proposal and acting with a committee of social workers he is devising plans to give the scheme a real test. With so many women doing war work and with consequent neglect of household duties, some such plan as is proposed might have to be carried out if the rising generation is not to suffer seriously in health.
