Ports of Boston and New York Are Closed--Sub Nets Lowered in Harbor

NEW YORK, June 3.—(U.P.)—The owners have received word that the steamer Carolina with 250 passengers on board, is being shelled by a submarine. The passengers have taken to lifeboats. The Carolina was en route to New York from Porto Rico.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(U.P.)—The navy department today announced that three American schooners had been sunk off the Atlantic coast. The announcement said: "The department is informed that three American schooners have been sunk off the coast by enemy submarines. The steamship Bristol, arriving at New York this morning, reported that the four-masted schooner Edward H. Cole was sunk by a submarine at 6:30 Sunday afternoon 55 miles south of Barnegat, New Jersey, and the rescued crew taken into port.

"The Bristol also rescued the crew of another schooner which was sunk. The Bristol reported that she had encountered the submarine 38 miles off Barnegat at 4:20 Sunday. Two submarines appear to be operating in that locality.

TWO DRAFT CALLS MADE IN COUNTY

In All 73 Men Will Be Sent to the Army in June

The local exemption board has been informed that there will be two calls for men this month. The largest is for the 24th of June when 62 will be sent, and on June 15th a special call for 11 men is made. Those who can qualify for the special call may enlist now, or until they are actually called for the draft.

The special call for 11 men is for grammar school graduates who wish to take special training along mechanical lines. All sorts of mechanics are desired, as well as telegraphers for radio work. Those who wish to enlist must appear by June 8th, and if the quota is not filled by enlistment, the required number will be inducted.

The names of the 62 men who will go June 24th will be selected tomorrow, and the official announcements will be sent out. Until tomorrow, men who expect to be called may enlist under the special call for the 11 mechanics.

Tank Steamers Sunk

ATLANTIC PORT, June 3.—Two tank steamers were sunk by U-boats about 150 miles off Sandy Hook between 7 and 8 o'clock last night, declared the captain of a Canadian passenger liner arriving here today. The liner, which carried 150 passengers on her maiden voyage, received a distinct wireless to the effect that a vessel was being attacked by a submarine, and gave the exact location. Later it was stated that the vessel had been torpedoed.

The liner was under a slow convoy. It left the convoy and dashed full speed ahead to the nearest port with the other fast ships.

Later another tank steamer sent a wireless that she was being attacked, and later it wired that the ship was sinking.

The ports of Boston and New York have been closed, and a submarine net is stretched across the entrance to New York harbor.

Survivors Arrive

NEW YORK, June 3.—Eleven members of the crew of the American steamer Edward H. Cole, arriving here today, declared that the ship was destroyed by two German submarines 75 miles off the coast at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The authorities of the port of New York deny all knowledge of the incident. The naval authorities here are cross-examining the men, however. The sailors declared that two subs appeared, one on each side of the vessel, and sunk it with bombs. Later the men were picked up by vessels which arrived on the scene of the sinking.

Following the reports that several vessels had been sunk off the American coast the port authorities this morning refused to give permission for ships to sail from the harbor.

Baccalaureate Services Were Held for College and High School

Baccalaureate services for the Albany high school and college graduating classes were held yesterday at the First Presbyterian church. Rev. O. B. Pershing made the address, Dr. W. A. H. White led in prayer, and Rev. A. M. Williams read the scripture. A chorus choir under the direction of Professor Palmer gave two numbers. Rev. Pershing took for his text John 8:12, "Jesus therefore said unto them, I am the light of the world. He that followeth me shall not walk in darkness."

The speaker gave an outline of the Feast of Tabernacles in Jerusalem at which time Jesus was in attendance, and showed how all the symbols in connection with the celebration were meant to apply to Christ, and how Christ laid claim to being the bread of life, the water of life and then the light of the world. As showing the reality of Christ's claim and how it is actually true in everyday life, Mr. Pershing showed how the fundamental questions which young people are bound to be asking in their formative years are all answered by Christ himself. For example, what do we know about God? Jesus answers that "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father also," showing that God is revealed in Jesus Christ and made vis-

LEBANON WOMAN FACES BAD CHARGE

Mrs. Albertina Brandell Is Taken to Eugene by Marshal

OFFICERS FORCED TO BREAK OPEN DOORS

Mother Refused to Permit Son to Be Drafted for Army

Edwin Brandell and his mother, Mrs. Albertina Brandell, were started on their way to Eugene today by a United States marshal and will have the opportunity of telling their troubles to the United States commissioner there. Brandell is the Lebanon man whose mother refused to allow him to be drafted.

Brandell was called to go with the 45 who left last Saturday night. When the time came for him to appear, he was decidedly absent, so Sheriff D.H. Bodine sent a call to the deputy sheriff at Lebanon to arrest him. The Lebanon deputy arrested the man and his mother also, but this was not done until a posse broke through two doors to get into the house.

Mrs. Brandell was brought to Albany and spent the night in a hotel while her son spent the night in jail as a deserter. The next morning Mrs. Brandell was arrested under the espionage act and will face the federal authorities. She continues to declare that her son will not serve in the army. She is a nativeborn German.

Young Brandell is not particularly averse to serving in the army. He seems to regret the incident and, while he does not accuse his mother, it is evident that she is mostly to blame in the affair, declare the officers.

Mrs. Brandell is extreme in her views and declared that the constitution does not give the right to draft, despite the recent ruling of the supreme court on the subject. She declares she will appeal to the highest authority and is said to have declared she would rather see her son dead than in the army.

The remainder of the draft quota left on time and by now are in California. They were entrained at midnight; after the train had been held a few minutes to allow the missing man to appear. The party, including the quota from Lincoln county, were fed by the Red Cross at the armory and later attended the dance given by the Woodmen at the armory.

A large number of Oregon Aggie cadets, on their way to the Presidio for military training, were also in town Saturday evening and added to the hilarity of the dance.

TRAFFIC FORCE IS GETTING RESULTS

Former Offender Arrested for Same Offense Saturday

Traffic Officer Brown had a busy day Saturday, $35 being collected in fines and as bail money. The largest haul was Al Patterson, who has already paid a fine for speeding in the city. Patterson is a Portland lumberman, and is the citizen for whom Recorder Lewelling held court on the bridge in order to allow him to avoid delay.

William Hunt, a local man, came to grief over a mistake in the law in regard to changing the license numbers of cars when they are sold or traded. Hunt traded a Ford, but not the license, and as a result paid a fine of $10 with $4.50 costs in Judge Swan's court.

The other offenses were of the usual speeding or no lights nature, and the out-of-town people apprehended paid bail money and the local men paid fines.

CIRCUIT COURT IS READY FOR MUCH WORK ON JUNE 13

The regular term of the circuit court, department No. 2, was held this morning and many minor cases were advanced or settled by Judge George G. Bingham. He also set a number of cases for trial on June 13th, but these will probably require at least a week to dispose of.

In the case of Estella B. Todd versus John Rosch, et al, the case was dismissed on the motion of the plaintiff.

In the matter of H. C. Clark versus Anna B. Gorman, Judge H. H. Hewitt was appointed guardian ad litem for Edward W. Gorman, a minor.

A default judgment against those failing to appear, and a decree of foreclosure against A. C. Holbrook, was entered in the case of the Alliance Trust company versus Will H. Ehlert, et al, and the attorney fees set at $400.

A Linn county farm of 160 acres was mortgaged to secure six notes aggregating over $1,500.

In the case of Beattie Davis versus W. J. Davis, for divorce, defendant's motion was argued and overruled. A default judgment was entered by the court in the case of W. E. Bailey versus Samuel Gosnell, et al.

In the appealed case of John Findley versus Findley Morrison, an order approving the sale of real property was entered.

In the case of W. P. Elmore, administrator, versus the Stephen Russell company, the mandate of the supreme court was signed and the judgement entered as ordered.

A default judgment in the case of the Merchants National bank versus F. A. Lucas was entered.

Following are the cases set for June 13th:

M. M. Klamer versus J. L. Klamer, divorce.

W. R. Bilyeu et al versus Chester Crouch.

J. W. Harris versus W. M. Harris, divorce.

Collins will case, appealed from the county court.

Schneider versus Keefe and Bodine, damages.

Rathman versus Rathman, divorce.

Join the Marines or Don't Come Home

LANCASTER, Pa., June 3.—(Special)—"Either join the marines or leave home!" This was the ultimatum issued to Frank A. Laudenberg, a silk weaver of Marietta, Pa., by his patriotic wife.

When Laudenberg appeared before Sergeant Jim Gande, of the local recruiting station, he was told that he would have to obtain his wife's consent before he could be accepted. "Consent?" he asked, laughingly. "Why, she told me that any man who called himself a man would be fighting for his country and that I would have to enlist in the marines or leave home. Guess that's enough consent, isn't it?"

Laudenberg was accepted immediately and his spartan wife was on hand at the depot to see that he surely got on his way to help make the world "safe for democracy."

Visiting Here—Mrs. John Robinson and daughter Edna, who have been visiting with Mrs. J. O. Huntley of Albany, left today for a short visit with relatives and friends at Stayton and Crabtree.

PARIS, June 3.—French counter attacks yesterday evening drove the Germans back between Corcy and the Marne, where the enemy is making the greatest effort to advance toward Paris, it was declared in the official war department statement today.

Violent German attacks astride the main highway from Chateau Thierry to Paris broke down under French fire. The French took 100 prisoners in this sector and the German casualties were heavy.

The Germans are apparently employing the Marne to shelter their southern flank while the main drive toward Paris is being made.

Waterloo Man Is Found Dead in Room

Frank M. Reed, aged 62, was found dead in his room at his farm home near Waterloo yesterday morning. Death being due to heart failure. Coroner William Fortmiller was called, but it was decided that his death was due to natural causes.

He is survived by two daughters, and his body will be taken to Salem for burial.

School Supt. Is Exhonorated by County Thrift Stamp Committee

So far as Albany is concerned, a rumor that County School Superintendent Mrs. Ha M. Cummings had been talking against the Thrift Stamp campaign was squelched by members of the county executive committee in charge of the Thrift Stamp campaign. P. A. Young, chairman of the county committee, declared that while he had heard the rumors, he had failed to find any basis for them.

He declared that Mrs. Cummings had always worked with the committee, had arranged meetings, and had assisted in many ways. While he had not heard any of her talks, he was convinced that any interpretation which could be taken unfavorably was mistaken.

The chief source of the rumors is at Tangent where Mrs. Cummings talked at a school meeting. Part of the residents of the city declare that Mrs. Cummings had said nothing wrong, and others, including Rev. Hughes, pastor of the Methodist church, believe that she was wrong in some of

CHASE FOR BALDWIN STILL CONTINUING

State Police Hope to Land Fugitive in Mountains Back of Foster

At the last reports the state policemen chasing Jeff Baldwin in the mountains near Gates had not found their man. It appears from what can be learned, however, that there is little doubt but that the stranger being looked for is Baldwin, as he answers all the descriptions.

Two members of the police force are working east from Foster, up the middle fork of the Santiam, while three more are coming down the other end of the trail from Gates. It is believed they will meet sometime today and will probably run across the mysterious man unless he hides in the brush.

The man was seen by Henry Slavens, deputy sheriff at Sweethome. He was first seen at Sweethome but disappeared before he could be questioned. The next day he was found at Foster, where he claimed to be a prospector. Slavens did not have a description of Baldwin at the time but later decided that the stranger answered all the description.

SODAVILLE SCHOOL IS MAKING GOOD IN WAR GARDEN WORK

LEBANON, June 3.—(Special)—

The Sodaville school will close on June 4th, and special exercises with a flag-raising will be held. A community picnic will be held and talks made by prominent people of the county. An auction sale for garden truck raised for the school children will be a feature.

The pupils of the Sodaville school have already sold $11 worth of garden truck this year and have orders for more kale plants. They still have several thousand kale and cabbage plants which they expect to dispose of, and if any remain on June 4th, they will be sold by auction.

In addition to the school garden each pupil has a home garden. Each child is a paid-up member of the Red Cross, the school has contributed $5.70 to the Red Cross fund from the sale of garden truck.

Hay Cutting and Curing Details Are Explained

By C. V. Smith, County Agricultural Agent

The proper curing of hay is a matter of first importance. There is no crop grown that requires more care in harvesting and none is more easily damaged by neglect. Because of the high price of grain and millfeeds, quality in hay and other roughage is of more importance than ever before. Bleaching in the sun, bleaching by dews and rain and general weathering may reduce the feeding value of hay 50 per cent.

Early cut hay is best for dairy cattle. A common rule is to cut during early bloom. At this stage the protein content is high and palatability at a maximum. Cut alfalfa in early bloom and when the new sprouts are well started; clover when in full bloom and vetch when first pods are about half formed.

Late cutting means loss of protein, of palatability and of the finer and more valuable parts of the plant. Do not mow when the crop is wet with rain or dew. The moisture dries off faster when the plant is standing. Cut in the morning as soon as the dew is off or in the late afternoon. Rake as soon as the hay begins to dry and complete the curing in winnow or cck.

Curing is accomplished largely through the moisture in stem and stalk being thrown off through the leaves. If the leaves are allowed to quickly dry and shrivel in the sun, curing is retarded, quality injured and leaves and fine stem lost. Curing in the winnow or cocks provides partial shade to the leaves and allows them to complete their work. The leaves of the alfalfa plant contain over 15 per cent protein while the stem has less than two per cent.

If properly cured, hay should be a light green color, retain most of its leaves and have a pleasing aroma. Quality in hay means milk and butterfat at lowest cost.

At the dairymen's meeting to be held in Albany on Saturday, June 8th, at 10 o'clock at the Commercial club rooms and also at Brownsville on Tuesday, June 11th at 10 o'clock, Prof. E. B. Fitts of the Agricultural college will discuss haymaking, including cutting, curing, harvesting and storing. All dairymen are invited to be present.
