MISFITS
By F. P. N.

Near & Farr are dealers in coal, near the Jefferson St. depot, not far from the Willamette.

Recently at Sherwood I had a pleasant visit at the home of Mr. Ed Allen, former S. P. agent at Shedd, at one time in the Albany office.

Sherwood has the distinction of having the largest department store of any place its size in Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Day are popular and prosperous owners of St. Helens, a shipping city full of pep, on the Columbia. Mr. Day was an Albany lawyer about twenty years ago, and Mrs. Day was a Lebanon girl. An enjoyable experience was a dinner at their home, with Judge Eakin, of the Circuit Court as another guest. It was some bean feast.

Hon. Art M. Holt, a former Albany meat dealer, has a second hand store there, with a good business.

Sam Cooper and sons have been at St. Helens about ten years. The latter have a pool room and confectionery store.

Sherman Miles, son-in-law of Collector Miller, is at the head of the St. Helen's bank. A native of the place he is quite popular. Mrs. Miles will soon go from Portland there to make her home.

Former Albany people at Rainier are M. and Mrs. Wm. A. Rader, who have a neat confectionery store. Mrs. Rader was formerly Lillian Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Crawford, of Albany. E. E. Wagstaff and son, Andrew, the latter is married, and they have the leading restaurant, doing a good business. Mrs. Graves, who is a daughter of "Pinkey" Simpson, and was born in Albany.

Percy Read, of the Capital National Bank, and Sam Worrell, of the penitentiary guard, and Mrs. J. G. Minton, were the only former Albany people seen at the Capital city.

At Eugene old Albany people seen were Mrs. Kate Cumdiff, Frank McAllister, of the U. S. National Bank, and Lawyer L. Bilyeu.

Though in the city, since I came here I did not meet Tom Alexander, linotyper, until this week. He is in a shop on Third street.

Saving wheat for the men in France is a splendid move, therefore not a kernel should be allowed for use in whiskey.

Whatever will assist in planting the American flag on the favored at Berlin should be joyously favored.

NOTICE
The federal food administration for Oregon and Linn county calls upon every household to surrender at once to the local retail stores whatever wheat flour they might have in their possession. Flour will be received in any quantity, even if the sacks are broken and partly used.
The state of Oregon is going on a wheatless basis, beginning with June 1, and every citizen is called upon to assist our government to the utmost of his ability during this great struggle for world-wide democracy.

County Food Administrator.
