Society centers this week around the most attractive fete of the season, the Red Cross benefit carnival given Friday in the beautiful gardens and lawn of the Mason homes. Clever features, music, dancing, fortune-telling booths shooting galleries and numerous other clever attractions combined in gaiety to make a most charming event.

Dainty and charming maids presided at candy booths and sold ice cream, lemonade and other dainties. Beneath large Japanese parasols, adorned with blossoms and trailing vines, booths were arranged here and there about the lawn. The many-hued blossoms and pretty shrubbery of the gardens added their charm to the effect and mingled in artistic harmony. The fortune telling stand was presided over by fascinating Gypsies, garbed in the typical gowns of many colors.

Artistic lawn dances were given by the graceful little Miss Louise Mason. Several delightful vocal selections were rendered by Miss Isabelle Young.

A dinner was served during the evening at prettily appointed tables. An attractive spot was the rose garden, where several tables were arranged. Huge baskets of flowers centered the well-appointed tables.

Excellent orchestra music was furnished during the evening, and jitney dancing was a gay diversion until a late hour.

In every way the carnival was a decided success financially, as well as socially. Many people thronged there during the afternoon and evening and passed a very enjoyable time.

Prominently featuring among the many Red Cross benefit affairs, the musicale of last Saturday night, given in Tangent by the pupils of Prof. E. L. Wilson and Mrs. Frances Wilson, was a decidedly successful event. Mrs. Elizabeth Sharp, president of the Tangent chapter of Red Cross, very ably assisted in the arrangements. Talent and efficient teaching combined to make a delightful program, which was attended by a large number. The proceeds of this affair added to those of the large musical given last year by the Wilsons at the armory, makes a total of $140.65, all turned over to the Red Cross. The excellent work and exceptional talent of these instructors have benefited the Red Cross many times and always willingly given for charity purposes.

The splendidly rendered program, contained the following numbers:
Song Without Words... Gladys May
Three Step... Helen Cochran
Gondolieri... Francis Haas
Carnival of Venice... L. Ellingsworth
Thistle-down... Lois Burns
Rosary... Erma Speer
Flower Song... Opal Speer
Stabat Mater... Loren Luper
Warrior's Song... Delmar Luper
Spring Song... Hallie Jenks
Butterfly... Maude Wood
Damnation of Faust...
... Frances Haas and Mrs. Wilson

On Tuesday evening of this week the Twilight club members were entertained in a delightful manner with a lawn party at the home of Miss Sue

Breckenridge, with Miss Letha McCullough, Miss Mable Schultz and Miss Breckenridge as hostesses. Miss Nellie Pate, who will leave soon for Alaska, where she will spend the summer visiting relatives, was the inspiration for this affair. A very enjoyable social time was passed and dainty refreshments were served.

Mrs. J. K. Weatherford was hostess on Monday afternoon to the members of the P. E. O. Sisterhood, when they passed a social afternoon at her home. Several interesting papers were read during the afternoon, adding a pleasant feature.

The Girls of the Honor Guard will give a jitney dance tonight at the armory, at which a large crowd of Albany and out-of-town people are expected to attend. Good music will be an incentive for dancing and a successful affair is planned. Many other dances have been given by the Honor Guard, and those who attend spend an enjoyable time.

A lawn party will be the event of this evening, given at the Wallace H. Lee home, with Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Fred Fortmiller as hostesses, complimenting Mrs. Kate Blair of Seattle, who has been a guest at the Lee home for the past few weeks. Several guests will gather and pass a pleasant evening together.

The birthday of Mr. Charles Crocker was celebrated with a party given Thursday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Crocker. Games, music and a general social time made the evening pass quickly. At a late hour refreshments were served.

A most delightful picnic was the event of this week enjoyed by the members of the Tuesday club and their families. A sumptuous picnic lunch was spread out and the evening spent in Hackleman's Grove. This affair brought to a close the season's meetings, and is an annual event.

Miss Carolyn Cannon of Portland, who recently arrived home from Dana Hall, where she has been attending school, is visiting at the home of her aunt, Miss Flora Mason.

Mrs. R. N. Torbet is entertaining as her house guests this week her sister, Mrs. W. E. Gwyn and family, of Puyallup, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Russell of Pilot Rock, Oregon, are visiting in Albany as the house guests of Mrs. David Torbet.

Mrs. Charles Peebler was the hostess for the New Idea club on Friday

Advertising Momentum

Many institutions expect advertising to perform miracles, to rehabilitate a depleted list of customers in a few weeks or harvest a golden crop of dollars. Advertising is not based on wizardry any more than on quackery. Its results are cumulative.

There are no miracles in advertising, but money so invested, if invested properly and the opportunities thus created properly followed, will yield handsome returns.

An inquiry from a prospect who has never transacted business with your organization is the most vital and the most potent factor in the success of your business. That inquiry represents growth, development new business, —and new inquiries are worth attention, study and care—the full measure of your service. The aggressive and consistent advertiser whose educational publicity attracts, will find that the business has acquired a new momentum, the effect of which will be apparent in succeeding years.
