Back of the Firing Line

Modern war conditions demand that our armies must have behind them national solidarity, the coordination of all the vast activities and an industrial army many times greater than the Nation's fighting forces.

The Nation's capital is linked with all these varied activities by the toll and long distance lines of the Bell System. Thousands of miles of special wire systems have been turned over to the Government for its exclusive use. Switchboards in the Government departments at Washington have been enlarged and new ones installed. Right of way is given to Government business over all commercial lines, so that the Government chiefs may keep in constant touch with every phase of the Nation's great task and direct its progress intelligently and effectively.

In organizing the military activities of the country, the Government has had the effective cooperation of the Bell Telephone System, which even in peace times reached 70,000 communities and now extends to the headquarters of every Army Department and Naval District in the United States.

Girl Is Now Clerk at Portland Hotel

In the person of Miss Mary Donovan the Multnomah Hotel at Portland believes it has the first female clerk to be given a regular shift behind the desk in any large American hotel. The winsome Irish lassie began doing her trick on July 1, and she takes to the work like a doughboy makes a home for himself in France. She is easy to look at, does not blunder when ascertaining the wishes of the guest regarding a room with a bath, and is rapidly learning to distinguish between the $4 men and the one who sticks for the room at one-fifty.

Miss Donovan is a war emergency. "We are experimenting with a woman clerk because of the war having taken so many men from back of the office desk, and the probability that the broadening of the registration law will make it more and more difficult to procure and keep skilled male clerks," said Manager H. H. Cloutier. "I see no reason why a woman cannot get away with it in a hotel of the character of the Multnomah."

"MY FOUR YEARS IN GERMANY" NEXT WEEK

The coming of Ambassador Gerard's "My Four Years in Germany," which has been visualized into a tremendous screen production often reeled and which marks an epoch in motion picture production which has stirred the country from Coast to Coast is being eagerly awaited by the entire population. It is now being presented in the Northwest and will be seen here at the Rolfe Theater two days starting next Wednesday, July 10th.

When on October 25, 1915, the Kaiser shook his fist in the face of Ambassador James W. Gerard and told

Pullman Company Under Federal Control Now

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(U. P.)—The Pullman company will be operated under government control in the future, it is announced by the railroad administration. The Pullman employees will not get a basic eight-hour day law, however.

A wage increase of $21,750,000 annually will be given the 19,000 employees, this including back pay from January 1.

Germans Make Slight Gain in Albert Sector

By Will Phillip Simms, U. P. Staff Correspondent

BRITISH FRONT, July 3.—The British are back along the old line where the Germans were stopped in the drive last spring. The Germans retook the ridge northwest of Albert last night despite the strong British resistance.

Apparently the Germans believed the new British position menacing Albert and Aveluy were important, and determined to take the position at all costs. The fourth counter attack was successful.

him that after the war was ended he would stand no nonsense from the United States, he did not realize that the patience of Americans would soon reach the breaking point.

Here you see enrolled before you the whole page of history from the Zamboni incident to the gathering of the American army over yonder.

Every American should see this picture so that he can better understand why America must stand united against this common foe.
