THE SOLDIER'S CHANCES

Great as the danger and large as the losses in the aggregate, the individual soldier has plenty of chances of coming out of the war unscathed or at least not badly injured.

Based on the mortality statistics of the allied armies, a soldier's chances are as follows:

Twenty-nine chances of coming home to one chance of being killed.

Forty-nine chances of recovering from wounds to one chance of dying from them.

One chance in 500 of losing a limb. Will live five years longer because of physical training, is freer from disease in the army than in civil life, and has better medical care at the front than at home.

In other wars from ten to 15 men died from disease to one from bullets; in this war one man dies from disease to every ten from bullets.

For those of our fighting men who do not escape scathless the government under the soldier and sailor insurance law gives protection to the wounded and their dependents and to the families and dependents of those who make the supreme sacrifice for their country.

THE RIGHT IDEA.
BUY AT HOME

"Buy in Albany" is the right idea for the person to follow who desires to see Albany grow and prosper. This one phrase is a sermon which offers no opportunity for adverse argument. There can be put forth no logical reason—not one—why the people of this city and section should go elsewhere for the necessities or luxuries of life. There is no need for sending money out of Albany for things which can be purchased here.

The practice of buying away from home has been worse than a curse to the people of this section. And until this practice is crushed under the foot of righteous indignation from our loyal hearted citizens, Albany will never be the city it should be.

To Practice Dentistry—

Dr. Oliver Garrett returned to Portland this morning after a visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Garrett. He will practice dentistry in Portland until he is called in the medical reserve corps.
