CHARLES GREGORY DIED

SUDDENLY LAST NIGHT

Charles Gregory, for the past 12 years manager of the Hazelwood Creamery at Shedd, died suddenly last night at the age of 54. He was born at Liberty, Nebraska, and moved to Oregon 14 years ago, living at Shedd ever since.

He is survived by his wife and four children: Mrs. Ethel McCormack of Montana, Glen Gregory, now on a submarine chaser on the Atlantic coast, and Edna and Lyda Gregory, now at home.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been made as an effort will be made to allow the son Glen to return.

PROGRAM STORY

Jazzboro! Where all roads meet! Thither did Douglas Fairbanks betake himself with Constance Talmadge in "The Matrimaniac." It was a broad daylight elopement with all the fancy trimmings, such as rope ladders, pursuing father-in-law and rival suitor. But fate and the forcibly-propelled foot of Douglas' rival intervened, and through an agonized chase with a minister who rued the day he ran into the strenuous Doug, the romance ran uphill, down dale, on handcars, under the rod of a freight, into the padded cell of a lunatic asylum and way up on a telegraph pole. If your heart can stand the death-defying feats; if your soul quivers to the great American smile of Fairbanks, if your digestion is in need of a jolt that will bring it back to normal, then betake thyself to "The Matrimaniac," Sunday and Monday night at the Globe Theater.

MADGE KENNEDY YEARNS

TO BE CHARLOTTE CORDAY

To a visitor at the Goldwyn Studios recently Madge Kennedy, now playing in "The Danger Game," which Goldwyn presents at the Rolfe Theater, beginning today, confided that she had not a murmur of complaint or even the faintest note of reform to sound as the result of her still brief sojourn in a world new and wonderful to her—the silent drama. To be hailed as the find of the season on the strength of one appearance in the ephemeral films, as was the case when Miss Kennedy appeared in her first Goldwyn, has not gone to her head. Her poise is not pronounced for that. She has opinions, yes, but never is she opinionated. She would like to see more history on the screen. Not necessarily the big spectacle, but the lives and loves of great figures. Only the screen can

SALTS IF BACKACHE AND KIDNEYS HURT

Drink lots of water and stop eating meat for a while if your bladder troubles you.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sore, paralyzed and lazy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

Cash Values Worth While HAMILTONS' at Everybody's Store

tell these stories with the fidelity of life. That is why, says Madge Kennedy, there should be more historical films.

Pressed to give a reason for championing the dead and gone, the piquant star confided a secret ambition to be one of the great ones of a bygone age. She declared that her favorite character was Charlotte Corday, the maid of France, who delivered her country as Joan of Arc did. With a flash of her famous smile, Miss Kennedy added that her role in "The Danger Game" might convince her most skeptical admirers that she possesses talent for dramatic acting hitherto unsuspected by them.

Back of the Firing Line

Modern war conditions demand that our armies must have behind them national solidarity, the coordination of all the vast activities and an industrial army many times greater than the Nation's fighting forces.

The Nation's capital is linked with all these varied activities by the toll and long distance lines of the Bell System. Thousands of miles of special wire systems have been turned over to the Government for its exclusive use. Switchboards in the Government departments at Washington have been enlarged and new ones installed. Right of way is given to Government business over all commercial lines, so that the Government chiefs may keep in constant touch with every phase of the Nation's great task and direct its progress intelligently and effectively.

In organizing the military activities of the country, the Government has had the effective cooperation of the Bell Telephone System, which even in peace times reached 70,000 communities and now extends to the headquarters of every Army Department and Naval District in the United States.
