KAISER CAIN I.

"To do this gives my soul a pain," Quoth, on a time, a Mr. Cain,
"I wish to be a man of peace,
I want to see all quarrels cease, But kultur and my destiny Point out my way unerringly;
My brother Abel is a man Who cannot see things as I can.
He won't believe that only Might Can ever make an action right, So here is where and now is when I show what Might can do for men!"

The while he spake this primal Hun With skillful motions had begun To fashion from a tree a stick Six cubits long and two feet thick.
Which being finished, loud he cried,
"Forward with God! And woe betide
The man or woman in the path Of Cain and kultur, might and wrath!"
He found his brother mowing hay, Killed him and grandly marched away Proclaiming, "God will further aid!
Men, look at me and be afraid!"

ONLY MADE MATTERS WORSE

Woman Might Better Have Refrained From Attempt to Relieve an Embarrassing Situation.

The conversation in the lobby of a Washington club turned to the way to which we occasionally sink deeper and deeper trying to extricate ourselves.
When Senator William P. Billingham of Vermont recalled a little incident along that line.

One of the features of an entertainment that was given for charity some time since was a vocal selection by a woman. Midway in the audience a meek-looking little man listened attentively.

"That is the most atrocious singing I ever heard," remarked a woman to the meek little man. "I wonder who the vocalist is?"

"She is my wife," was the startling rejoinder of the meek little man.

"Oh, I beg your pardon!" responded the other, greatly flushed. "The fault may lie with the music, which is really barbarous. Have you any idea who composed it?"

"Yes, madam," replied the other, administering yet more embarrassment.
"I did."—Philadelphia Evening Telegraph.

Beware Enemy Propaganda.

"It wasn't guns that defeated Russia. It was propaganda. It was propaganda that defeated Italy. If we are defeated it will not be guns that will defeat us, but it will be propaganda.
If our poets are already being silenced one by one, that is a bad sign. America needs her poets today as she has never needed them during the one hundred and forty years of her existence, to combat the insidious preachments that Germany is still spreading broadcast amongst us."

This is not my own statement, but that of one of the most notable young singers, Herman Hagedorn. It is so well expressed I do not know how to better it, and I can only sign my name and say "Amen."—Vachel Lindsay of the Vigilantes.

Returns From Idaho—

Mrs. Elba Burnett has returned from a three weeks' trip to Southern Idaho. She says the crop prospects in that section of the West are splendid.

Arrives in France—

Mrs. W. W. Reid has received word of the safe arrival in France of her husband, Rev. W. W. Reid, who is going as Y. M. C. A. secretary. Going over on the transport he was acting secretary, and gave an interesting account of his work.

GO TO THE PIG, THOU HOG!

ST. PAUL, July 17.—Real pigs enjoy cafeteria service.

Prof. R. C. Ashby, animal husbandry division, University farm, has proved the efficiency of the cafeteria plan of pig feeding, he says. Prof. Ashby is finishing some of his first cafeteria fed pigs and finds they gained weight faster and at less cost than hand-fed pigs.

Self-feeding devices were installed in the feeding pens to help the farmer solve the labor shortage.

The pigs select their own food in an orderly manner, refrain from crowding in ahead of their turns, do not sneal about what they get, and up to date no cafeteria pig has been seen eating with his knife.

Back of the Firing Line

Modern war conditions demand that our armies must have behind them national solidarity, the coordination of all the vast activities and an industrial army many times greater than the Nation's fighting forces.

The Nation's capital is linked with all these varied activities by the toll and long distance lines of the Bell System. Thousands of miles of special wire systems have been turned over to the Government for its exclusive use. Switchboards in the Government departments at Washington have been enlarged and new ones installed. Right of way is given to Government business over all commercial lines, so that the Government chiefs may keep in constant touch with every phase of the Nation's great task and direct its progress intelligently and effectively.

In organizing the military activities of the country, the Government has had the effective cooperation of the Bell Telephone System, which even in peace times reached 70,000 communities and now extends to the headquarters of every Army Department and Naval District in the United States.
