TIGER HIDE TO T. R.

FROM TOKIO NARIKIN

TOKIO, Feb. 9.—Tiger hunting is the latest pastime devised by Japanese narikin, or war millionaires, to relieve them of their surplus wealth. As a result the skin of a big Korean tiger will soon be on the way to Col. Theodore Roosevelt.

Tadabashuro Yamanoto, smiled on by fortune and the shipping boom, has just returned from a lavish hunting expedition into the wilds of Korea. The bag consisted of tigers, leopards, bears, wild goats, wild boars and deer. The hide of the largest tiger, announced Mr. Y., will be offered to Col. T. Roosevelt.

Upon his return to Tokio the narikin gave a tiger dinner at which his friends feasted upon the cold meat of the jungle beast, not, however, until after the toughness and original tiger aroma had been removed by a week's process of pickling.

Twenty-one newspaper reporters were invited on the Yorsan tour by Y., who, it may be added, is not exactly adverse to publicity.

CRABTREE ITEMS

CRABTREE, July 18.—Special.—Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Coplan and two daughters, Phyllis and Helen of Portland, spent the week-end with James Reiley and family at Crabtree.

Mr. and Mrs. George Major and family, also Mr. and Mrs. John Shepard and family, have just returned from Tillamook, where they motored and spent last week.

E. E. Parr of Crabtree has secured work on the Southern Pacific train that runs between Woodburn and Albany as express messenger.

Miss Frances Stuart is this week visiting her grandfather and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Stuart, in Jefferson.

Donald R. Reiley, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Reiley, has secured work in Portland driving a delivery wagon.

Mrs. May Davis has moved to Lebanon where she can be with her daughter, who is bookkeeper in the cannery.

The farmhouse of Mr. and Mrs. Lee burned to the ground last Friday. No clothing or household furniture were saved but neighbors have been seeing to their comfort and have subscribed a generous amount for their future needs.

Mrs. Gene Greenwood of Crabtree was operated on last week at the Scio hospital and is doing as nicely as could be expected.

A good time was enjoyed by the public at the ice cream social given by the Red Cross at Miller's Maple Grove Saturday night.

Visiting Floods—

Albert Hansen of Los Angeles is here as a guest of his aunt, Mrs. G. A. Flood.

POLICE FORCE UPEHAVAL
THREATENED IF CHILD IS NOT RESTORED SOON

An upheaval in the police department is threatened. The chief of police spent all of the afternoon yesterday grilling members of the plainclothes force. One detective admitted that he had seen a man that he had imagined might be "The Hopper," on a trolley. The chief's thundering demand for a satisfactory answer to his question, "Why did you let him get by you?" received no satisfactory answer.

The police force is combing the city and its environs. Ex-criminals are being rounded up and put through the third degree. Poses of voluntary citizens, grim faced and tightmouthed, are making quiet but determined search for the kidnapers.

Both mother and father are prosecuted by the disappearance of the boy. Mrs. Talbot calls for him constantly. Efforts to reassure her are futile.

Mrs. Talbot is known to have been estranged from her father, well-known curio collector. This would preclude the possibility of the kidnapper extorting money from her. However, the criminal undoubtedly figured that his demand for money will be met by Mrs. Talbot, who will appeal to her wealthy father for whatever sum is demanded.

A thrilling and amusing story is this Collier's Weekly tale of "The Hopper" by Meredith Nicholson. It has been adapted by Triangle for the screen and will be shown at the Rolfe tonight.

How Automobiles Are Made

A Wonderfully Interesting Industrial Picture

HERE'S YOUR OPPORTUNITY to tour the enormous Willys-Overland factory at Toledo, where 18,000 employees build automobiles. YOU WILL SEE raw materials and parts tested and transformed into finished cars almost like magic. YOU WILL SEE how quality cars are produced in huge quantities under the most scientific, economical methods. The picture shows the massive machines that turn out parts with greater accuracy and speed than human hands can. THERE ARE MANY interesting processes not shown in any previous industrial films. It's a wonderfully interesting picture. An admission card will be furnished free on request.

Do You Buy "Price" or "Service" When You Buy Your Shoes?

After the service your shoes give rather than the price you pay, determine whether your Footwear is Economical or not. Good Shoes that "grow old gracefully"—that look good until they are worn out after long use are cheaper for you than two or three pairs of the indifferent sort that are always out of shape and go to pieces quickly. We have the better sort of shoes for men, women and children, in which high quality and perfect style are uppermost; prices are very reasonable for such good shoes.
