Not a Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Water

Says a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps us fit.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ash, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infect the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and stomach-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

Remember inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

TIRELESS WORKER IS MAE MARSH, GOLDWYN STAR

That tired feeling commonly known as spring fever which affects so many real workers shortly after winter's final blast, is an illusion as far as Mae Marsh is concerned, according to three prominent players who support "the whim girl of the screen" in Goldwyn's latest production, "The Face in the Dark," from the story by Irvin S. Cobb.

Uiles Welch, Alec B. Francis and Harry Myers are authorities for the statement that Miss Marsh is the hardest working star on the screen. Indefatigable workers themselves, all three admit that no star, man or woman, ever led them as swift a pace as did Miss Marsh in "The Face in the Dark," shortly to be seen at the Rolfe Theater for the last time tonight.

HART CLEANS UP WESTERN TOWN WITH RED HOT DOPE

William S. Hart, Western whirlwind, does some tall shooting, riding and writing at the Globe Theater Sunday and Monday nights, where he will be seen in "Truthful Tulliver." "Truthful" deals with a bad man mining town of 50 years ago. He is a clean-hearted, hard-hitting newspaper man by occupation and a sort of knight-errant wanderer by inclination. He drifts into Glory Hole and finds some pretty rotten things going on. Red-hot editorials against some of the leading citizens blaze from his pen and circulate before the public. He finds himself confronted by two choices: either he must betake himself and his newspaper out of Glory Hole or he must rid the town of the indecent gentlemen who like neither his decency nor his honesty. He oils up his shooting irons and plunges into startling adventures and thrilling feats, in the course of which the editor wins not only a reputation but a bride as well.
