ranch at Fern Ridge, near here. This is said to be the first combine west of the mountains.

The machine is drawn by eight horses and operated by a gas engine. It cuts and threshes the grain at one operation.

John Siegmund of Salem and Andy and Louis Siegmund of Gervais Sunday dedicated the machine. A short speech was made and the Stars and Stripes were hung upon the new efficiency device of American grain-raising.

FERRY BOYS HURT WHILE AT WORK WITH THRESHER IN VICINITY OF SUBLIMITY

STAYTON, Aug. 10.—Special.—When the coupling bolt holding their separator to the engine came loose and worked out while the outfit was being moved down a hill, Frank and Andrew Ferry, operating the outfit, were both caught between the engine and separator when the latter coasted downhill upon the former.

Andrew Ferry, steering the engine, was badly bruised about the hips and back. He managed to get out and run the engine on down the hill, despite his condition. He was taken to his home where he is now confined.

Frank Ferry was crushed about the abdomen and received some bad bruises on the legs. Dr. Beauchamp, who attended him, believed for a while that the injured man would not live. He was taken to the Wagoner home and later to the Salem hospital. He may recover, it is said.

While moving Monday evening, Giebler Bros., another threshing outfit working on the Geo. Etzel place near here, tipped their separator over on a sidehill. It was necessary to get a capstan to pull the machine upright. Work was resumed with the outfit Tuesday, after minor repairs to the separator had been made by Chas. Cladek.

DEPRIVED OF MILLIONS MANICURIST ADOPTS COURSE OF FOLLY

Helen Thurston, humble and pretty manicurist, has been arrested. Decked in finery, center of attention at last night's hop given in that fashionable hotel, she was suddenly apprehended. The charge is that of pawnbroking jewelry which she had obtained on credit. Before announcement of the Hodges will, stating that she was the inheritor of a 30-million estate, she had always possessed a longing for fine clothes. Paring and polishing the nails of the dandies, her one ambition had been to rise into the social atmosphere of ease and luxury.

When the will was read she discovered that a codicil was appended leaving her a meagre thousand dollars.

Bitterly disappointed, she determined to spend her last thousand dollars in one day. Merchants pressed their wares on her. She was taken up by society, where she made an instant hit.

And who should play the manicurist but that delightful, dainty, winsome Olive Thomas! It's a Triangle photoplay and is called "Heiries for a Day." It will be shown at the Rolfe Tuesday only.

Tonight's show, "The Bride of Fear" is a striking plot of the Wm. Fox photodrama and will be shown for the last time this evening.
