the plan of the food administration for the control of flour-milling profit during the present crop year. Under this plan each mill is given a definite schedule at or under which the food administration will consider it fair that flour mills make sales of their flour and various grades of feed. These schedules are given mills on a basis of sales in carload quantities, on cash or draft payment basis, and with out the cost to packages being included. To ascertain the fair cost to the ultimate consumer it is necessary to add to these prices the cost of freight, the cost of packages, and the cost of handling less than carload quantities. These charges will average from $1.75 to $3.50 per barrel on flour and from $10 to $15 per ton on feed, or in some cases more than that.

The prices for the following mills on the Pacific Coast are as follows:

Portland	23.15	24.40	25.15
Tacoma, Astoria, Seattle, same as Portland.
San Francisco	10.15	23.75	25.00
Los Angeles	10.35	24.30	25.55

SMILING BILL PARSONS IS HERE IN HIS FIRST COMEDY

Enter now upon the screens of the world Smiling Bill Parsons, the millionaire who would rather make the universe laugh than to sit back and enjoy the wealth he has already won in the business world. He comes to the Globe today in his first Capital Comedy distributed by Goldwyn, "Bill's Baby."

For years—year in and out—Smiling Bill has written $1,000,000 in new life insurance policies and had charge of an office in a great city where the men under him wrote an annual aggregate in excess of $3,000,000 in new policies. The last time you heard of a man like this was when George W. Perkins won an invitation from the late John Pierpont Morgan to become a junior partner in the great Morgan firm.

And Mr. Perkins won the admiration of J. P. Morgan—by writing one million dollars a year in life insurance policies—just as Smiling Bill Parsons has been doing.

ROLFE TO SHOW MILLION DOLLAR CHAPLIN COMEDY

"A Dog's Life," first of the new $1,000,000 series of comedies that Charlie Chaplin is making under his own management, will be shown at the Rolfe Theater next Sunday and Monday.

While waiting for his new studio at Hollywood, California, to be erected, Charlie spent many days rambling about the highways and byways of the nearby Los Angeles. During one expedition into the Mexican quarter he saved a miserable white mongrel from the cruel death that was about to be provided him by a pack of sharp-toothed gutter hounds. The pup showed his appreciation of Charlie's kindness by attaching himself to the studio staff. While cudgeling his brain for some theme for his first $1,000,000 comedy, the pup dragged one of the diminutive shoes of the famous comedian out of his dressing room. Chaplin decided to evolve a story in which the dog should occupy a leading role.
