

RED CROSS STORE
IN NEED OF SUPPLIES

The Red Cross Store is again short of supplies. All kinds of clothing, shoes, underwear or practically anything in the wearing apparel line for men, women and children are the things most needed.

Anyone having these supplies should bring them to the store right away, for if the store keeps up its good record it must have things to sell.

HAVE ORGY OF CANNIBALISM

Ghastly Doings of the Burying Beetles Regularly Take Place at Certain Seasons of the Year.

Here is a monstrous case of the most ghastly depravity mingled with sublime sacrifice.

The Burying Beetle buries small birds, mammals and reptiles, not as stored food for itself, but for the sustenance of its offspring. In the confines of a cage these undertakers will bury carcasses after carcasses, eating scarcely anything, depositing their eggs with the game. They display most edifying industry and order until the proper season is over. Then they strike work and take themselves underground.

And now a most frightful orgy begins. Despite the abundance of food both above ground and stored with the eggs, which they will not touch, the undertakers begin mutually eating each other. One emerges to the surface with a leg missing, and otherwise in a most battered condition. Another appears a little better off. He has two legs left. This one throws himself on the first, tears him to pieces and eats him. Famine plays no part in the slaughter. It is time for them to die, perhaps, and not being able to die naturally, instinct drives the undertaker to tear and eat his fellow, heedless that he, himself, is being torn to pieces and eaten by another. And so the horror goes on, one eating the limbs of another, and that other eating still another, until the tragedy is over, until next year.—Exchange.

WHAT FASTING FEELS LIKE

University of Chicago Professor Has Made Public the Results of Investigations He Has Made.

In numerous descriptions of the experiences of man in the course of more or less prolonged fasting, one meets the repeated assertion that after a brief initial period little or no hunger whatever is felt. Since it has been well-established that the sensation of hunger is induced by a certain type of tonic and peristaltic contractions of the empty or nearly empty stomach, it must be assumed either that these contractions are abolished as a fast proceeds or that the sensations are decidedly modified.

A professor of the University of Chicago has lately had an exceptional opportunity to investigate these questions. As the result of careful observations on man during prolonged intentional starvation, he found that during the 15 days' complete fast and the subsequent eight days of abstinence from food with daily ingestion of cotton fiber, the gastric hunger contractions of his subjects continued with practically normal rhythm and intensity; but the subjective sensations induced by the gastric contractions appeared to be somewhat weakened and tinged with an element of general epigastric distress or sick stomach.

Gas-Driven Cars in Denmark.

An advertisement has appeared in one of the Christiania papers offering for sale motors that can be operated with pent gas instead of benzine or petroleum. The alterations have been made in accordance with a Danish invention that makes it possible to use pent gas as fuel for motors. It is said that several thousand of the motors are being used in Denmark, and that they have met with success. The new system is stated to consume from one to two kilos of pent (2.2 to 4.4 pounds) per horsepower hour, according to the quality of the pent.—Commerce Reports.

Force of Habit.

I heard a fellow from Camp Logan remark recently that he supposed the habit of inspections would become so strong with him that after the war and he returned home he would have to lay everything out in the street each Saturday morning and have his mother look it over.—Chicago Tribune.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR SEWER CONSTRUCTION

Sealed bids will be received by the Council of the City of Albany, Oregon, until 7:30 o'clock P. M., August 28, 1918, for the construction of an eight-inch lateral sewer beginning at the manhole in the Oak Street Trunk Sewer between First and Second Streets and running thence westerly into Block 7 in Hackleman's 3rd Addition to the City of Albany, Oregon, a distance of 272 feet.

Said sewer construction to be made in accordance with the Charter and Ordinances of said City of Albany and the plans, specifications and estimates of the City Engineer now on file in the office of the Recorder of said City, where the plans may be seen and specifications and estimates obtained.

Bids will be opened at 7:30 o'clock P. M., August 28, 1918. No proposal or bid will be considered unless accompanied by a certified check payable to the City of Albany in an amount equal to five per cent of the aggregate bid to be forfeited as fixed and liquidated damages in case the bidder neglects or refuses to enter into a contract and provide an approved bond in a sum equal to 50 per cent of the amount to be paid under such contract for the faithful performance thereof, and within ten days after notification of awarding of such contract to such bidder.

All bids must be made with a view of completing the construction of said sewer prior to the 1st day of October, 1918, under a liquidated penalty of $10.00 per day for each day of delay beyond that period.

All bids should be addressed to "Recorder of City of Albany, Oregon," marked "Proposal for the construction of lateral sewer."

By Order of the Council.
L. G. LEWELLING,
Recorder of the City of Albany, Oregon.

Royal Academy Dean Is Eighty-Six.

The doyen of the Royal Academy is B. W. Leader, the landscape painter, who, although eighty-six, is still going strong and painting his lovely Surrey downs as well as a.

But there are others far behind him in age who write "R. A." after their names. London Answers says: G. A. Storer is eighty-four, G. D. Leslie, eighty-three; W. F. Yeames the same age, the president himself (Sid Edward Poynter), eighty-two, while Briton Biviere, Marcus Stone and Sir William Richmond are far past three score and ten, and there are a dozen others verging on that limit.

Intelligent Nantucket Dog.

Whenever the steamer Gay Head sounds her whistle at 6:15 mornings at Nantucket, Harrigan, the town dog, runs down to the dock and aboard the boat, and then down into the dining saloon for his breakfast. He knows the sound of the Gay Head's whistle and never shows up on the three mornings when the Sankaty is at the dock. He figures the time so carefully that he always is through when the call comes to go ashore.—Boston Globe.

Accepts Position—

Mrs. Thomas Gilchrist has accepted a position as bookkeeper for the Murphy Seed Store.

PLATTSBURG LENDS FILM ATMOSPHERE

The thousands of body-weary student officers in the second training camp at Plattsburg who know little but reveille, beans, drill, beans, drill, beans and taps, were treated to a palatable morsel of diversion lately.

Mabel Normand was in camp.

If one may judge by the enthusiasm with which her advent was hailed a motion picture star has seldom made a personal appearance more successful.

Mabel Normand's first comedy for Goldwyn Pictures, "Joan of Plattsburg," calls for many martial scenes. In company with the director, Lawrence McCloskey of the scenario staff George Bertholon, assistant, and a headquarters staff, the famous comedienne spent two weeks on the shores of Lake Champlain making them. At the Globe Thursday only.
