BUT ONE WAY

There is but one governmen agency, one national instrument through and by which the United States can wage war for the next two and a half years, and that is the administration which was placed in power at the last national election.

Any weakening of the influence and prestige of the administration is a weakening of the political power and influence of this nation with other nations-a weakening of our was

Our soldiers will fight as bravely and efficiently, our sailors brave the dangers of the submarined seas with the same courage and success. But the political and moral strength of the nation's government, its power to bring peace won by our fighting men will be weakened by the defeat of the party of the administration.

As Roosevelt said in 1898, other na tions will look at our vote this year from only one viewpoint. They will draw no fine distinctions. To Europe the election of a republican congress this year would mean a divided nation, a refusal to endorse and stand by the principles President Wilson has proclaimed as the principles of our nation and the aims and purpose of our country.

"The reply of Secretary Baker to the request of the committee on mili-tary affairs of the house for a summary of our accomplishment since the declaration of war is most encouraging," says The Scientific American. "The delay at the start was more apparent than real. Had we simed at making a quick showing on a smaller scale, the thing could have been done: but we thing the secretary scores a strong point when he says that, because the war department understood the magnitude of the task, it realize that the time consumed in the prepar ations for a vast army of many millions would prove, in thel ong run, to be time saved. That the policy adopted was right is shown by the fact that today we have in Europe an army of over 1,000,000 men and that we are now sending our troops across the water at the rate of nearly 300,000 men per month."

"The most distinctive characteristic of our present national administration is its sympathy with the masses of our people," comments the Frederick (Md.) Citizen.

Back of the Firing

Modern war conditions demand that our armies must have behind them national solidarity, the coordination of all the vast activities and an industrial army many times greater than the Nation's fighting forces.

The Nation's capital is linked with all these varied activities by the toll and long distance lines of the Bell System. Thousands of miles of special wire systems have been turned over to the Government for its exclusive use. Switchboards in the Government departments at Washington have been enlarged and new ones installed. Right of way is given to Government business over all commercial lines, so that the Government chiefs may keep in constant touch with every phase of the Nation's great task and direct its progress intelligently and effectively.

In organizing the military activities of the country, the Government has had the effective cooperation of the Bell Telephone System, which even in peace times reached 70,000 communities and now extends to the headquarters of every Army Department and Naval District in the United States.

Secretary McAdoo on War Taxes The ways and means committee of the lower house of congress is considering revenue legislation. Sec. Mc Adoo favors a flat war profits tax of 80 per cent. In a telegram to Chairman Kitchin he says:

"It is my strong conviction that the taxation of genuine war profits is the only way to reach real war profiteering, and that it is at the same time a thoroughly justifiable measure upon omic grounds as well as a certain and indispensable producer of a large part of the required revenue.

"The patriotic producers of Amer ca should be content if one-fifth of their profits are secured to them, es pecially when we reflect that the men who are fighting and dying in France to save the liberties of those who stay at home and who make it possible for them to continue in business are limit ed by act of congress to $396 per year for their services and have to give their blood in the bargain."
