Many Attend Dog
Show at Lebanon

LEBANON, Sept. 18.—Special.—The fourth annual field trials closed here yesterday. E. A. Parsons, of Portland, vice-president of the Oregon Sportsmen's League, and one of the strongest supporters of the event, was loud in his praise of the meet. The weather was ideal.

Steamboat Bill had the distinction of bringing in two chickens from barn lots during the run. His prowess in that line, however, eliminated him from taking part in the finals.

The officers of the league tendered a vote of thanks to the Lebanon Rod and Gun club and Dr. J. G. Gill for their efforts in making the event a success.

Charles H. Murphy, of the Delta Kennels, Vancouver, B. C., was here with a string of seven dogs, and Paul R. Whitesides, of the Hillside Kennels, Portland, had a string of nine dogs at the trials.

Urgent Need for Black
Walnut for War Purposes

Owners of black walnut trees have an excellent opportunity to help win the war and at the same time obtain a good financial return from their trees, according to District Forester Cecil of the U. S. Forest Service.

Black walnut is urgently needed for gunstocks and airplane propellers, and the demand is constantly greater than the supply. While this tree does not grow naturally in the Pacific Northwest, it has been planted in numerous localities throughout this region for shade and ornamental purposes, and it is believed that many of these have now reached a size suitable for manufacture into gunstocks and propellers.

This course is not connected in any way with the regular college courses and these will be carried on as usual. The college will open to students on Oct. 1, and it is hoped that the S. A. T. C. will open at the same time, though no definite orders have yet been received from the government.

UNMARRIED MOTHER
AT GLOBE TONIGHT

One of the greatest forces in the work for good is the drama, "The Unmarried Mother," a four-act play written by Florence Edna May. It tells the pitiful story in all its details and also offers a solution. The leading role is taken by Mildred Johnson, who is supported by a strong company. Wherever this drama has been played, community sentiment has changed toward the unfortunate and a more Christian spirit has developed. At the Globe tonight.

LIME BOARD NOW
OFFERS FARMERS LIMEState Plant Operated with Convict Labor Turning
Out Lime at Cost

CORVALLIS, Sept. 18.—Special.—Ground limestone for agricultural use can now be ordered from the state lime plant at Gold Hill. The law provides that the board must sell in car lots only, and no provision has been made for sacking. Farmers who want less than a carload may join their neighbors in a cooperative order. The law specifies cash in advance, so all orders must be accompanied by checks. Address orders to the superintendent of the state lime plant, Gold Hill, Oregon.

Operation of the plant was delayed by the inability of the board to get the necessary machinery, says Dr. A. B. Cordley, director of the O. A. C. experiment station and chairman of the board. A spur had to be laid from the main railway line to the mill, and an aerial tramway built to the quarry. Agricultural lime has been placed in a preferred class for transportation by the war priority board, and no great delay should be met in filling orders unless the orders exceed the capacity of the plant.

A tentative price of $1.75 per ton, f. o. b. Gold Hill, has been fixed for early orders. If lime can be produced more cheaply a rebate will be grant early purchasers.

The new freight rates may be had on application to the superintendent of the plant, from which farmers may figure cost laid down at their nearest station.

PLANS FOR COLLEGE
TRAINING HELD UPAlbany College Receives Notice that No Definite Contract
Be Made as Yet

As to the training of bandmen for the U. S. army in Albany college, word has been received from Maj. Frank H. Shepherd that the war department committee on education and special training have wired from New York to hold up the matter until further instruction; to make no definite contracts, but simply to investigate the institutions with the view of locating bandmen there in the future.

It is evident that the government has started a large program, and finds itself swamped for the present. Accordingly the matter will have to wait for awhile, so far as Albany is concerned. As soon as further information is received, the college will notify the public thru the paper.

DICK GILBERT
HIT BY AUTOCarrier Boy for Democrat
Has Narrow Escape Last
Even; No Bones Broken

Dick Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Gilbert of this city, narrowly escaped death yesterday evening about 7 o'clock when he collided with a car on Broadalbin street. Dick is one of the carrier boys for the Democrat and was on his bicycle going after his papers, the accident happening as he turned into the alley between First and Second streets.

A car was coming close behind Dick, and to let it pass, he dodged in front of another car going south, which, in the excitement of the moment, it is probable that he did not see. The second car was a Dodge driven by Mrs. Green, of Lebanon, who stopped the machine as quickly as was possible, but not in time to save the boy being pushed partly underneath the engine and dragged several feet.

Dr. Davis was called, and the boy was taken home in an unconscious condition. There were no serious injuries, and he is expected to recover in a short time.

PERMIT NECESSARY
FOR IMPROVEMENTSCouncil of Defense to Have Charge of Passing Upon
All Applications

The state councils of defense have been designated by the war industries board as its representatives in passing upon proposed construction in the state of Oregon, in order that all building which is not absolutely necessary may be stopped. This is part of the new plan of the war industries board by which permits from that board will be required for construction projects. You will note that permits will be required for all new construction projects and all repairs of or extensions to existing buildings involving an aggregate cost of over $2500.

The procedure will be as follows:

1. The person interested in a construction project will apply with a full statement of the facts under oath, to the appropriate county representative of the state council of defense.

2. The county representative of the state council of defense will then investigate the necessity of the proposed construction and transmit its recommendation, with a summary of the facts, to the state council for review.

3. The state council, or its appropriate committee, will review the case. The war industries board will inform all persons applying directly to it, that they must first take up their projects with the appropriate representative of their state council of defense; further information concerning procedure will be transmitted to you from time to time as it is received from the war industries board.

It is hardly too much to say that the success of the entire priorities system of the government will under this plan depend upon your loyalty and enthusiastic cooperation. I trust that you will give this matter your unremitting attention and at the same time impress upon your entire organization the fact that this task will be one of their most important functions.

The secretary of the navy, acting chairman of the council of national defense, in the absence of Secretary Baker, has assured the chairman of the war industries board of the support of our organization in the following language:

"The council of national defense without reservation pledges its entire organization—national, state and county—to give to the war industries board whole-hearted cooperation in carrying this plan into effect."

It is up to us of the state council of defense for Oregon to see that this pledge is made good so far as our respective territory is concerned.

Yours truly, P. D. GILBERT, County Chairman, Council of National Defense.

NO BONES WERE BROKEN

LONDON, Sept. 18.—An English naval officer and an American army captain, stopping at the same hotel, have become very friendly.

The naval officer has seen long service and has two brothers in the navy, so naturally his only sister kept up the family tradition by joining the Wrens.

Very proud of her new uniform, she asked her brother to meet her one Sunday for a walk in the park after church, and certainly she looked scarcely less important than did he with his four rows of distinction lace on his cuffs and two rows of medal ribbons across his chest.

But when the naval officer got back to his hotel he was met in the lounge by the American captain, who gave him a dig in the ribs, and said: "Say, Jack, that was a stunning little bus conductress I saw you with in the park this morning!"
