FISHER-BRADEN CO.SENATOR GARLAND MAKES SPLENDID RECORD

That State Senator Sam Garland was one of the strong men of the senate and that the failure of the voters of Linn county to return him to Salem by a substantial majority would be a mistake, is the gist of a statement made to the Democrat by a prominent local republican who has taken the trouble to make a careful investigation of his public record.

Here are a few of the points made in the argument for the reelection of Senator Garland:

1. He secured the passage of the law permitting counties to build their own bridges, thus freeing the counties from the grip of the contractors by making it impossible for the contractors to get the contracts by pooling their interest but forcing them into competitive bidding. Many thousands of dollars were saved to Linn county by the building, for instance, of the Lebanon bridge, and the saving throughout the state is immense.

2. Governor West appointed him a member of the commission to look into the Farm Loan business, with Dr. McPherson of Corvallis and Dr. Young of Eugene, and other persons of prominence in the state. He secured the passage through the senate of a joint memorial urging congress to pass the present national law on that subject, during the first session, and he took an active part in the last legislature in getting the present state law passed.

3. He was the author and secured the passage of the bill giving each county the option of employing or not employing school supervisors.

4. He was a member of the committee on alcoholic traffic in the last session, and was exceedingly active in getting the present law passed.

5. He secured the adoption of an amendment to the labor law by which women receive pay and one-half for all overtime in canneries.

6. He introduced a resolution relative to the reduction of clerks in the employment of the senate, and in this way, after a hard fight, secured the cutting off of many clerks, resulting in the saving of nearly $1500 to the senate during the last session.

7. The "Bean Bill" passed the house as a legislative enactment. He assisted in having the referendum clause attached so that the people could vote upon the matter, thus insuring its decisive defeat.

8. He made a dramatic fight on the Road Bond bill, holding it up in the senate from Saturday afternoon until Tuesday morning, and actually forced the senate to amend the bill as to include the Albany-Lebanon-Cascade road on an equal footing with the McKenzie Highway, forcing the senate to attach the referendum clause so that the people might have a chance to vote upon it.

9. He materially assisted in so changing the widows' pension law as that deserving widows should receive their money without as much red tape and undeserving widows would get nothing.

10. He advocated in the senate, in the 1915 session, the passage of a law making it optional for women to serve on juries. The bill was defeated, however.

11. During the session of 1915, he introduced a bill providing for medical treatment of crippled, indigent children, but the bill was defeated. The next session a bill, with his assistance, was passed securing for these children much-needed help.

12. At the same session (1915) he advocated, and the senate passed a bill preventing discrimination against women school teachers, insuring to them the same pay that men got for the same work.

MISUNDERSTANDING CLEARED UP

A misunderstanding relative to the canteen work of the Y. M. C. A. has been cleared up by the War Department, which issued the following:

"Matter of prices asked by Young Men's Christian Association for its articles sold in canteens overseas already investigated by war department and condition is being remedied. The Young Men's Christian Association was originally asked by General Pershing to run the canteens for the army on a cost basis. In order to do this it had to reckon in price fixing such overhead charges as transportation charges and marine insurance so that prices were much higher than in this country.

"The Young Men's Christian Association made no profits, but lost thousands of dollars. Arrangements now made will enable them to obtain supplies from sources that will reduce overhead charges and keep prices down."

Huts for Nurses.

Huts for nurses are maintained by the Y. W. C. A. at the base hospitals in France. To extend this work a portion of the United War Work funds to be raised in November will be used.

PERSHING'S "DO WITHOUT IT" CLUBS

Organization of "do without it" clubs in America, as a means of aiding the United War Work campaign, which open November 11, was recommended by James P. Pershing, brother of General Pershing, in an address delivered recently in Portland in behalf of the drive. He urged the American people to make some sacrifices in order to help "carry on" the great undertaking that is to furnish money for war work in the battle zone during the coming year. A great percentage of American people, he said, do not know from any sacrifices made thus far, that a war is in progress. Relaxation of activities because of peace proposals, he declared, should not be tolerated, and asked people of the country to throw their whole energy and co-operation behind this latest drive for securing funds for the seven big war-working agencies consolidated in the campaign.

VOTERSOF OREGON

Justice F. A. Moore of the Supreme Court died last month, too late for the name of any candidate to succeed him to be placed on the Ballot. This condition makes it necessary to write in the name of your candidate. This is the most important position in the judicial system of the State. It is essential to choose a man of extensive legal training, of high character, and of broad vision. We commend for your consideration and vote

HOW YOUR MONEY WILL HELP "BOYS"Official Statement of Seven Great Welfare Organizations.

Citizens of Oregon, in the week of November 11-13, will respond to the call of the United War Work Campaign for funds to make happy and effective the fighting men of the Nation. That the citizens will uphold the common wealth's notable record in doing its share to win the war is taken for granted, once the needs are understood.

Oregon's quota in the joint drive of the seven great organizations doing war service work is $770,000. President Wilson authorized this united drive and named the participating bodies. The purposes for which the funds are needed and to which they are dedicated are vital to the war's success.

The Y. M. C. A. has more than 2000 huts in the great battle zone and is ministering to the boys overseas, in trench and camp, leaving undone nothing it can do to help them. In America the "Y" is in every camp and cantonment. It is with the boys "crossing over" and, at request of the War Department, has recently joined in the task of instructing selectives even before they are called.

War work of the Y. W. C. A. is thus outlined by Mrs. William MacMaster, state chairman:

"Already we have in this country 2,000,000 women doing actual war work, while another 2,000,000 have released men for service by undertaking their work. To the Y. W. C. A., 'the best big sister in the world,' has been committed by the government and military authorities the serious responsibility of directing the thought, creating the material needs of this army of girls. Already 105 hostess houses have been opened. War Service Clubs organized, the Patriotic League created, nurses sent where needed and now we are asked to furnish emergency housing for thousands of girl war workers."

John W. Kelley, associate drive director, says of the Knights of Columbus:

"Knights of Columbus halls are in operation in all cantonments, training camps and naval stations in the United States and the halls are also established with the American Expeditionary Forces in France, Italy, Russia and England. The motto is 'Everybody Welcome,' service being given irrespective of race, creed, or rank. Millions of cigarettes, pipes, bouillon cubes, gum packages and tons of chocolate have been given free to the soldiers overseas. One of the specialties is the promotion of athletics and a considerable item in the budget is for baseball equipment, boxing gloves, etc. In the war zone the troops are followed with motor trucks which are virtually traveling huts, fully stocked with athletic goods, stationery, cigarettes, and the like."

Needs and activities of the Jewish Welfare Board, explained by Ben Selling, are:

"In one year the number of our field representatives has grown from 10 to 213. Now we are faced with the demand for 400 additional workers in this country and 100 overseas. The money going into our fund pays necessary expenses and salaries, furnishes Bibles and prayerbooks by the thousands and letterheads and envelopes by the million, and provides camp, educational and recreational activities for the fighters, both here and abroad."

"War Camp Community Service," explains Emory Olmstead, state chairman, "developed from the commission created by the War and Navy Departments, first known as the Foodick Commission. The community is its particular field and thousands of workers are assisting the towns in caring for visiting soldiers and sailors, providing wholesome amusement and clean recreation and surrounding the camps with hospitality."

Functions of the American Library Association, says William L. Brewster, state chairman, are "to provide books and reading matter to the soldiers and sailors through co-operating agencies and directly." Thirty library buildings have been provided at cantonments; 3,750,000 donated books distributed; 1,000,000 books and tons of magazines sent abroad, and 600,000 needed military technical books bought and given the men.

These are some things the Salvation Army does, according to O. C. Bortzmeier, state chairman:

"On lines of communication our huts are open day and night. Then, following their methods, our men and women go right to the trenches and distribute chocolate, coffee, doughnuts, and pies. Sixty per cent of the 1000 workers are women. We have now 703 huts and 50 ambulances in service. In the past few months aid has been given the Red Cross in sending abroad 100,000 parcels."

Here's your chance—give to the Y. M. Y. W. K. of C., Salvation Army, Jewish Welfare Board, Library Association and the War Community Service and you help make a soldier, sailor or marine happier and better.

Do you want to get a good book to a soldier, sailor or marine? GIVE to the American Library Association.

GIVE to the war welfare agencies and keep up the morale of our fighting forces.
