

RECONSTRUCTION IS WORLD PROBLEM

President Wilson and Lloyd-George on Full Agreement in All Points

JUSTICE WITHOUT REVENGE IS PROGRAM

League of Nations Supported by Both; Neither Fear the Bolshevik

By Robert J. Bender

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—President Wilson and Premier Lloyd-George stand squarely together on the main peace problems—justice without revenge or greed.

As revealed by the premier's latest utterances and Wilson's speeches, a league of nations idea will be advocated vigorously at the peace conference.

Lloyd-George agrees with Wilson on his 14 peace principles. Both President and Premier are busy with reconstruction matters. Lloyd-George has declared for high housing schemes, the creation of minimum wages; a reduction of hours and increased production from land. President Wilson is considering a reconstruction commission, a group of experts acting as a clearing-house for financial, labor and construction problems.

These joint moves by the United States and Britain are part of the big fight now progressing to curb Bolshevism's spread in the world. Lloyd-George says Bolshevism isn't to be feared if the problems are handled right. America, too, is striving to avert the Bolshevik curse, and hence proposes a sound reconstruction policy at the earliest possible time.

Injured Woman Was Not Driving Car

Miss Manda Paulson, who sustained a broken arm in the auto accident which occurred near Granger on the day of the peace celebration in Albany, was not driving the car at the time of the accident and the driver was not going at a high rate of speed at the time it happened. This word was received today from Corvallis. There were five girls in the car at the time of the accident, and the car collided with a car which was making the trip from Albany to Corvallis.

CHIEF CATLIN LANDS SALEM PAIR

Chief Canadian Soldier and Pal Spend Day in Jail --Charged with Theft

Chief of Police Catlin this morning arrested Tracy Cartwright and Clarence Lathledge, recently of Salem, and the two men are being held in the city jail pending the arrival of the Marion county sheriff. They will be taken back to Salem this evening to stand trial on the charge of robbing several stores in the Capitol City.

Chief Catlin was notified last night that the men were en route to Albany and first located them in the Bikman store on First street. They were attempting to dispose of some of the goods which they had assembled in Salem. In their possession and in the three grips which they carried were $300 worth of merchandise of one kind or another, including shoes, overcoats, bottles of cloth, jewelry, etc.

One of the men is a discharged Canadian soldier and it was due to a disparaging remark that he made in Salem in regard to the work of the American army in France that gave the Salem officer a clue as to his connection with the thefts in that place.

Sheriff Needham will arrive at 5:15 tonight and take the men back to Salem.

BOX CAR OFF TRACK NEAR GOOCH

40-Foot Log Leaves Chute and Knocks Boxcar Off Track

For a log three feet in diameter and 40 feet long to strike a boxcar loaded with lumber with sufficient force to knock the car completely from the track seems almost impossible, but the truth of the statement is vouched for by Conductor Jack Sellar of the Corvallis & Eastern Railway.

Conductor Sellar was in town late yesterday afternoon and here is the story as told by him:

"While I was at Gooch yesterday morning the incident occurred. A lumber company was shooting logs into a pond which was about 150 feet across. On the other side of the pond was a boxcar standing on the sidetrack and loaded with lumber which we expected to haul to the market. One of these logs, about three feet in diameter and 40 feet long, left the chute before striking the water and shot across the pond in midair, striking the boxcar a distance of four feet from the ground. The car turned completely over and the rails were both torn up over and the car left the track."

YANK AIRMAN BINDS HIS WOUNDS AND FIGHTS ON

PARIS, Nov. 14.—Lieut. James M. Powell, of St. Helena, Cal., was shot thru the leg while engaged in a dog-fight in the air, in which 30 German planes attacked eight French and American machines. To stop the rapid flow of blood, Lieut. Newell tore straps from his helmet and made a tourniquet for his leg, while the fight went on.

Continuing the fight, Newell shot down one German plane in flames.

The German squadron included the famous tango escadrille, formerly Richthofen's flying circus.

Three of the Jerries singled out the American plane in which Newell was observer, for attack. When Newell was hit, his pilot, Lieut. Clarence E. Nelson, maneuvered to keep out of the Germans' way while the injured man applied his tourniquet.

When Newell had driven down one of his adversaries and the French had downed two others, and the Heines fled.

Shipbuilding in the Philippines is the revival of an art that had become almost extinct in these possessions. Back in the old days, however, when Spain's armada was the mightiest afloat, many a splendid galleon was launched in Philippine waters.

BERLIN PLANS BIG PORT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Plans for tremendous development of Berlin as a port, that are rapidly nearing completion, show that Germany is not forgetting the problems that are to come later on, even in the stress of the war.

A Swiss trade journal that has reached the department of commerce describes the work that is being done to make great port of Berlin, which is an inland city.

Two great basins, close to the city, already are completed and work is progressing on a third. Vast docks, grain elevators, cold storage plants, warehouses and all the appurtenances that go with a great port are part of the plan.

When the work is completed Berlin will be the center of inland river transportation. The annual capacity of the port will be 1,500,000 tons.

THE KAISER'S ABBICATION To Mine Beables:

We and Gott have concluded to quit.
We turn the whole tam business over to you, and you can go to hell mit um. Teddy, he feel me; when he come back from his lion hunt, and he stop off to see me, I take him out to see my Army and Navy; and he say, if I have your Army and Navy I could whip the whole world. But he was mistaken, I try um. Teddy he voss too long away; he forget how like Yankees fight, he thought they like him, shootum in the back; but I find they shootum in the front, too; and if you want the Faderland you takeum; I'm gun.

THE KINGS KICK IN

The kings now plod their weary way
To where the daisies bloom,
For every dog must have his day,
And then his night of doom.

The kings are Caesar's out of date
As Julius Caesar's punts,
Yet, as he quits the stage of state
Each monarch loudly rants.

The royal boobs have danced all night,
The piper seeks his pay,
Now that the East is growing light,
With promise of The Day.

Nick Romanoff has paid his bill
And gently stepped aside;
Franz Josef danced right well
Until
He very kindly died.

The late lamented Constantine
Held tightly to his crown,
Until a tick beneath his spine
The royal house brought down.

The canny, queer, unsaved Chin-ese,
Bow down no more to kings,
And eke the doughty Portuguese
Have cut their leading-strings.

Eye-bye King Karl and Kaiser Bill,
The devil take you off,
And may you never rest until
You join Nick Romanoff!

HIS CUSH SAID "THANKS"

PARIS, Nov. 14.—"Money talks"—in expressing appreciation as well as in other metaphoric conversation. The story is told here today of a young American officer's fiscal praise of the work of the Y. M. C. A.

Just before the startling news of the St. Mihiel salient this youngster went to the Y. secretary of his unit and said that he was going to have a birthday soon.

"I want to give the Y. a present," he said. "I like the work it's doing, and I like you most of the Y. M. C. A. men I have met. How much does a place like this dump cost?"

"With its equipment, about $5,000,55 replied the secretary, referring to his small portable hut.

"That's not enough," said the officer. He was silent a minute. "At So-and-So I saw a big, double hut. How much did that cost?"

"Something like $15,000," "That's more like it!" exclaimed the officer.

Before the first phase of the drive had ended, a certified check for $15,000 had been deposited with the Y. M. C. A.—the substantial tribute of an officer in the field that the Y. in France was well worth while.

OBITUARY, MRS. CHAS. D. JEWETT

Mrs. C. D. Martha Jewett was born August 72, 1839, at Moline, Franklin county, New York. In later years she moved to North Dakota to live with a brother at Fargo, where she met C. D. Jewett, a boyhood friend, a pioneer of Lancaster county, whom she married.

While Grandma Jewett was most well known in Lincoln she was not favorably known by her relatives and friends. She impressed herself upon others by her attention manner and kind and loving disposition. Her greeting was always with a smile and her hand clasp with the warmth of the heart, never failing to make you feel that kind and loving yet sturdy, thoughtful friendship for others so common among the old stock of New York.

She was laid to rest in the Waverly cemetery, and besides her husband, Chas. D. Jewett, is survived by four stepsons, Erwin W. Dexter, T. Pearl C., and Perry W.

Value of Introspection.

To do anything worth while we must be something worth while, and we cannot be if we take it all out in talking. The mind must receive impressions before it can give them, the heart must feel before it can make others feel, the soul must be filled before it can overflow.

If people would only live more, if they would only think more, if they would only sit in silence alone with their souls now and then, the words they gave out would mean so much more. But alas and alas, the art of conversation is not lost, it is flowing on and on until one longs for silence with a great and overwhelming longing that only silence may satisfy.—Exchange.

Looked Like Lincoln's Slayer.
A curious footnote to history is found in Simon Wolf's "Presidents I Have Known." Mr. Wolf, a Washington lawyer, a loyal Unionist and a friend of President Lincoln, was yet also acquainted with John Wilkes Booth and resembled him in appearance. He says concerning the assassination of Lincoln: "After the tragedy I was compelled to remain in my house until after Booth's capture, for unfortunately I resembled him very much in feature—so much so that Theodore Kaufman, the historical painter, asked me to sit for him for his famous painting of 'The Assassination of President Lincoln.'—The Outlook.
