How Is Your "Culebra Cut"?

The Panama Canal is a clear passageway as far as the Culebra Cut. But Gold Hill has a way of slipping into the cut. And until doctors can clear the canal, the industrial schedule of the world is out of gear.

How about your own canal? The intestinal canal is a clear passageway as far as the large intestine. There, if you become constipated, waste matter is allowed to stagnate. It becomes unnaturally dry and undergoes abnormal fermentation and putrefaction. Germs activity is increased. Your whole system is out of gear. Result, the production of irritating and poisonous substances, which are absorbed into your blood and carried all over your body, liable to produce disease anywhere. The longer such stagnation is allowed to exist, the harder it is to clean out the canal. 90% of human disease originates in the "Culebra Cut."

If engineers tried to blast out the slide from Culebra Cut they would have more slides to cope with. If you try to blast out accumulated waste from your Culebra Cut with pills, salts or purges, you will increase your constipation—and next time you will have to take stronger medicine in a larger dose.

You can't dredge your canal.

You can clean it out with Nujol.

Nujol softens the mass, and supplies the intestinal canal with sufficient moisture to replace deficient mucus. It causes the obstructive waste matter to pass gently out of your system at a regular hour, absorbing and removing the poisons as it goes. Nujol regularity keeps the traffic of your mind and body operating on schedule.

You admire the Panama Canal system. Why not safeguard your own? Your druggist has Nujol.

Warning:

NUJOL is sold only in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. Insist on Nujol. You may suffer from substitutes.

FRENCH DEVOTED TO HOMES

To a Greater Degree Than Perhaps Any Other People They Love Their Native Places.

In counting the sorrows that have fallen upon France one must remember that her people, for the most part, have no wandering instinct in their blood; various causes, temperamental, economic, have made of them a race that roots stubbornly. A race that plans forward, that builds and saves and waits; that has little and saves for the future; in the haphazard turn of events; that holds to what it has and improves it unadventurously but steadily; a race, in the provinces especially, of small owners, small landholders, small shopkeepers. With such the roots are driven deep into the soil, are entwined about the house they seldom move from; for which reason the towns in which they and their fathers have dwelt have a lasting individuality unknown with more migrant races. And for the same reason, I make no doubt that when they are driven forth by the chances of war their suffering is greater than that of a people as instinctively migrant as ourselves. To the Frenchman, home is in very truth an abiding place, and the unknown and unsettled future a greater dread than with us. Always I shall remember the dilled, light-lipped faces of the older women of the town; of one, in particular, who stared through the splintered window of the little shop that was her home, not seeming to hear while I stammered out my sympathy, resentful and silent in her hopelessness. The little shop and the rooms behind it had been life and the world to herself and her husband for years. None of them was emotional outwardly; but their mouths and their eyes were despairing—Christy Hamilton in the North American Review.

SAMPLE OF RED CROSS WORK

Wounded English Soldier's Mother Made Glad by News of Son in American Hospital.

He sat a little apart from the other men who crowded the receiving station for American Base Hospital's Nos. 23 and 24. There was a cigarette in his mouth and a peaceful smile on his face that brought the American Red Cross searchers to his side with a query.

"You look as if you're glad to be here; are you really?" she asked. The wounded man smiled broadly.

"You're jolly well right, miss. I'm only just come from back of the German lines. This is heaven."

His name was G. Tully, and he belonged to the British Royal Field Artillery. Three months previously he had been taken prisoner by the Germans and had been held just back of the lines to work on the railroads and ammunition trains.

When the Americans started their offensive near Elmes, he and two other comrades made a dash for the American lines. The Tommies with him fell, mortally wounded by bullets that were meant for Boches.

Tully escaped with only a slight wound in the wrist and was sent back to the base with a trainload of American wounded.

The Red Cross searcher at once sent word to the wounded man's mother, in England, that he was safe in an American hospital, and a short time afterward this acknowledgment came back from the British Red Cross.

"I have today forwarded your kind information to Gunner G. Tully to his mother, who had inquired about him of us for three months without success. We cannot say how grateful we are to you for having taken so much trouble in his case and for being of such material assistance to our inquiry."—From a Red Cross Scrapbook.

Where a Motion Was Just as Good. In the woods just west of Thimnecourt a lieutenant in the sanitary corps went out to test the water in a near-by spring. While he was at this job he looked up just in time to see two Boches advancing. Although armed with nothing deadlier than a first-aid pouch, he made a motion toward his right hip. Immediately both Boches, catching the motion, lifted their hands in surrender.

Other Boches soon came forward from the woods, and each, coming suddenly upon the officer still making threatening motions toward his pistol-less hip, surrendered in turn.

By the time a sergeant and five Yankee privates came along the lieutenant had a bag of 19 German prisoners to turn over to them.—Stars and Stripes.

How Germans Obtained Fat. No method of obtaining fats has been neglected in Germany. A Charlottenburg chemist has patented a process of obtaining fat from growths of microscopic animal forms which are cultivated on suitable waste materials, such as decaying mushrooms and non-edible fungi, putrefying meat, gutter refuse and stale yeast. On triturating the cultures with water and heating, the fat may be skimmed off, or it may be separated by a solvent.

Horseback Wrestling. A new sport which became very popular among the soldiers in a Canadian training camp is horseback wrestling, says Popular Mechanics Magazine in an illustrated article. Two teams of ten men are mounted horseback at opposite sides of the field. At a given signal they charge toward each other, the object of each team being to dismount all of its opponents.

WAR BROUGHT AN AWAKENING

Change of Heart That Came to Ill-Used Indiana Woman Remarkable in Its Results.

Just outside of one of our Indiana towns is a house which for twenty years has been pointed out to all passers-by as a place of curiosity. The woman who lives in it was lifted by her betrothed more than twenty years ago. Amry at all men, she had this house built several rods from the road and there, with a maid, established her home. No man was ever permitted to enter that domain. The woman never left the yard because she was determined never again to look on any man, since they were all "filthy and unfaithful to any one or anything," as she said.

But still she read the newspapers. They were her only way of communicating with the world. A few weeks ago people were surprised by seeing this woman cross to the main street. They wondered and wondered until the woman herself told of the attraction which had brought her from her seclusion. She had come to see the soldier lads leave. The newspapers had told her stories of a new race of men—young men who above all other qualities, were true to their country—true enough to die for it.

She saw them leave. And then she went to the Red Cross headquarters and got yarn to knit socks to send to them. Now she is helping keep the booths in which Thrift stamps and Liberty bonds are being sold.—Indianapolis News.

HIGH TRIBUTE TO AMERICA

Visiting Italian Recognizes Disinterestedness and High Ideals of the People of Our Country.

Capt. Giuseppe Ferrone, now in the United States, has written a friend in Rome as follows:

"America shows the friendliest disposition toward Italy at present. The change, if there was a change, has been due to the astonishing Peace victory. What I want to tell you in order that you may repeat it to all our friends, is that America has thrown herself in the war and is fighting for a full and complete victory with all her immeasurable forces and with a power of will which is almost religious."

"It is an apostleship of faith which has occurred, as if by the appearance of a new Messiah. But I swear to you that your faith will not be betrayed. We do not realize the extent of this world of limitless resources, inhabited and worked by a new, fresh people, free and well disciplined, proud and resolved to make a sublime history. We have only a vague, unclear and inadequate idea of what lies beyond the seas."

"It is necessary to come here; it is necessary to tread this generous soil, which holds so many treasures, with our own feet. It is necessary to breathe this feverish air, to understand and to believe that through the final, painful sacrifices, the reign of justice is bidding its time, to avert its superannuation in the world."—Italian American News Bureau.

Rubber in Fiji Islands.

According to a published statement of his majesty's trade commissioner to New Zealand, who has lately visited the Fiji Islands, the rubber industry is receiving much attention in those islands, and New Zealand farmers have planted large plantations there that have produced quantities of rubber reported to be of very high grade. It is claimed that there are thousands of acres in the Fiji Islands that are well adapted to this industry, and it is expected that extensive developments will follow. The price of rubber at present seems very low, since the market is so greatly restricted because of the war, but it is expected when normal conditions are restored that this will be a profitable industry in these islands, where labor is comparatively cheap.

Luckily, He Wasn't Fired Upon.

Thimnecourt who took a chance, but he couldn't resist the temptation. When his mates first saw him they were uncertain whether he was the Kaiser or the crown prince as they rushed forward to make the capture.

For he was riding a German officer's horse, he had on a German officer's helmet, and on his chest was pinned the Iron cross, all left by German officers in their rush to safety. The Yankee squad, bent upon making an important capture, were a trifle disgusted to find that it was only Private Jones of the infantry.

Little Pickup for Edison.

Thomas A. Edison made $3 when he motored in from his Orange (N. J.) home to New York to appear as a witness in a $250,000 commissions suit brought by Archibald M. Ostrom of Brooklyn in connection with British contracts placed with Mr. Edison through J. P. Morgan & Co., agents for the British government. As he was leaving court the inventor was handed a subpoena and $3 mileage.

Powerless Wealth.

"There are some things wealth can't buy." "That's right," answered the man who lives in a hotel. "An extra lump of sugar in your coffee, for instance."

BIDS TO BE OPENED.

PORTLAND, Jan. 7.—Bids for three projects, which will aggregate approximately $700,000, will be opened by the State Highway Commission which opened an important session here today. These projects include the grading of the Columbia river highway between Mosier and Hood River, a distance of 6.4 miles; grading the highway for eight miles in Gilliam county, from Arlington to Blalock; and paving the Pacific highway from Salem to Aurora, about 18 miles.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Drink lots of water.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

REMINGTON UMC

Wetproof Steel Lined Shot Shells

DOUBLE your duck hunting luck in rough weather with the right shotshells—Remington UMC "Arrow" or "Nitro Club" Wetproof Steel Lined "Speed Shells," made to stay dry and firm as a bullet no matter how wet the pocket that contains them, and shoot right.

With the right shells in your Remington UMC Pump Gun or Autoloading Shotgun there will be no hitch at the critical moment—no gun jammed with a water-soaked and swelled shell—no fished shots from rusty turn-overs of the shell ends.

Remington UMC "Arrow" and "Nitro Club" Wetproof Steel Lined "Speed Shells" are completely proofed against wet by a wonderful and exclusive process, which it took three years to perfect. This improvement costs you nothing.

Just buy the same favorite "Arrow" or "Nitro Club" brand, as usual, at the regular price. You will get the Wetproof improvement extra, without charge. You will not be able to see this improvement but you will know it is there when you put it to the test of shooting under conditions which only Wetproof shells can stand.

They will stay hard and smooth as usual, with the turned-over end entirely firm and top wad flat. If you can detect any difference in the results in shooting them when they "ought to be good and wet, you will be the first to succeed in doing so. The same highest dependability and performance qualities as always.

In black powder shells, buy the old reliable "New Club," now Wetproof sealed at turnover and top wad.
