WORKER WARNS OF BRITAIN'S PROBLEM

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Indicative of England's reconstruction problems is the following remarkable letter published during the general elections campaign:

"Messrs. Candidates: It is to you that I address these words. I have read your appeals for my suffrage, but I have not found what I sought. I will give you a plain statement of my life and position; it may help you to understanding."

"I am a journeyman shipwright, married and have three children, aged 13, ten and eight years, the two elder being boys. I have been working at my trade for 30 years. At this moment, I am possessed of 50 pounds (about $250) in money and a small houseful of furniture. I am a teetotaler and do not gamble; my only vice is smoking. I am insured against sickness and death. If I die tomorrow my wife will receive about 100 pounds ($500) to face the world with. If I live to 60 and no long period of unemployment or sickness intervenes, I shall have probably 150 pounds ($750) saved. I can retire at that age with eight shillings (about $1.92) per week from my trade union, with a prospective other 5 shillings (about $1.20) a week at 70. If my health lasts I shall work to near the latter age.

"I have yet to place my children in some trade; this may take the greater part of my savings.

"Twice during my lifetime I have seen those savings swept away, once during the eight-hour strike of 1897—I was locked out indirectly as a consequence of it—and again during the great distress of 1906, when I was out of work for nearly six months.

"Now, Messrs. Candidates, you see my reward for a lifetime of toil. I am a skilled mechanic, one of labor's aristocrats, and have been both prudent and lucky. The great bulk of my fellows, the unskilled workers, are infinitely worse off.

"I was educated at a board school where I unfortunately learned to read. I read much.

"I read of a world that reared as Ascot, yachted at Cowes, shot in Scotland and wintered on the Riviera. A world that bought First Folios of Shakespeare, and original works of Rembrandt and Corot, a world that paid its guineas to hear Patti, Caruso and Paderewski. A world that, satiated with pleasure, tried big game hunting in Africa or mountaineering in the Alps to cure ennui.

"I have read of such a world, and dreamt of it—that has been my portion.

"I have not been without my little pleasures. I once heard Patti sing; I stood and heard her divine voice, at the cost of a day's pay. Of travel I have had my share, when looking for work. Travel loses much of its charm under such circumstances. Once I spent a week at noisy, blatant Blackpool; once three days in London.

"I could have had more pleasure, but I have been prudent and saved for a rainy day.

"Now, Messrs. Candidates, you have heard MY story. What of my brother, back maimed and scorched from that hell in France? What of that other brother, whose bones lie bleaching on the sands of Arabia?

"What of them and their children, and my children? What will you do for them?

"For myself, I do not ask much. I have grown used to my life, and have gone beyond the enjoying of any other. But my children and their children, they are on the threshold of life. I have taught mine much of the joys and glories of that life; they are eager to CROSS the threshold.

"Messrs. Candidates, are you going to bar the door to them as you did to me?

"Think well before you promise not to; make sure that you intend fulfillment, for by the living God, retribution awaits you if you fail!

"Look to the East—what do you see there? 'Bolshevism' YOU may call it—its name is Nemesis. It is the offspring of injustice and despair.

"Look to it that you do not breed such a monster in these isles, for if you do it will be better that you die now.

"Messrs. Candidates, I thank you for your attention, and ask you most earnestly to weigh well my words."
—W. M. D.

The Rexall Store

ONE CENT SALE!

WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY AND FRIDAY—JANUARY 29, 30, 31

YOU ASK US, "WHAT IS A ONE-CENT SALE?"

It is a sale where you buy an item at the regular price—then another item of the same kind for 1c. As an illustration: the standard price of Rexall Tooth Paste is 25c. You buy a tube at this price and by paying 1c more or 26c, you get two tubes. Every article in this sale is a high class standard piece of merchandise just the same as we sell you every day at regular prices, and have sold you for years.

YOU ASK US, "CAN YOU AFFORD TO SELL MERCHANDISE AT THESE PRICES?"

Our answer is, "We cannot." This sale was developed by the United Drug Co. as an advertising plan. Rather than spend large sums of money in other ways to convince you of the merit of these goods they are spending it on this sale in permitting us to sell you a full size package of high standard merchandise for 1c. It costs money to get new customers and the loss taken on this sale will be well spent if the goods please you.
