SOCIETY

NEWLYWEDS TO CYNTHIA ROSS MAKE HOME IN BECOMES WIFE KANSAS TOWN OF ARMY MAN

By Beatrice Sanders

The wedding of Miss Rose Faber and Gustav Hemken took place Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Faber. Rev. C. J. Beyerlein officiated. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Minnie Faber, as bridesmaid, and Edward Faber, a brother of the bride, acted as best man.

Owing to the influenza epidemic the wedding was small and simple. After a brief honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Hemken will leave for their home in Kansas.

Telephone society items to Miss Sanders at 481J Bell phone, or address them in care of the Democrat. Any news of social gatherings, personals or club activities, will be gladly received.

On Monday evening of this week, Miss Flora Mason presided at a very informal and prettily-appointed little dinner, complimenting a few intimate friends at their release from quarantine. Following the dinner, a most enjoyable evening was passed.

The North Albany Thursday club met with Mrs. M. A. Winn and daughter, Eva. The afternoon was spent in fancy work and a dainty lunch was served. The Mesdames A. L. Cooper, George Eastman, Charles Crocker, Harner, Olmstead, H. School, Woodruff, Luther, Edward Viereck, Fred Holmes, Charles School, Misses Eva Winn, Mable Crocker and Neoma School.

A jolly little surprise party was given Monday by Mrs. John Carnegie in honor of the 16th birthday of her daughter, Eva. The guests enjoyed supper and the evening was pleasantly spent in music and games. Those present were Misses Pearl Lusselle, Minnie Hilderbrand, Bernice Foley and Eva Carnegie.

Miss LaVerne Hofflich presided as hostess Friday evening to the Beta Gamma girls, when they gave a dinner at her home. The attractively appointed table was centered by a lovely floral arrangement of red carnations and greenery. Social diversions filled the remaining hours of the evening.

Mrs. Ida Czarke of Eugene was a guest at the home of Mrs. Charles Kroschel on Thursday of this week, stopping here on her way home from Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Steelquist and family have moved from their home on Sixth and Ferry streets and will be at home in their lovely new residence on West Seventh street.

Miss Cynthia Ross was a bride of this week, her marriage to Alvin Bolander being an event of Tuesday afternoon. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, at half past four o'clock, P. M. G. H. Young officiating. The bride was most charmingly gowned in a robin's-egg blue satin dress, elaborately beaded and with a tulle of ecru de chine. Profusions of carnations and greenery, artistically arranged, made an attractive surrounding for the bridal party. The guests included only a few friends and relatives of the bride.

Having lived in Albany most of her life, Mrs. Bolander had a large circle of friends, among whom she was very popular. Mr. Bolander has been stationed at Camp Lewis, his home formerly being in San Francisco.

The couple left Tuesday evening for Portland where they spent a few days before continuing to San Francisco, where they will make their home.

With the lifting of the influenza ban on Friday, everything has taken on a new atmosphere of gaiety. The Globe Theater has again opened, having been artistically transformed in the interior. A specially good program has been arranged. Many groups and parties have planned to attend the opening evening.

In Cynthia Ross, Monday evening was really passed by a group of her friends. The rooms of the Ross home were prettily adorned with blossoms of the season. An enjoyable social time was completed when a dainty lunch was served. Miss Ross received many beautiful wedding gifts at this time.

For the pleasure of Miss Hazel Cowan, who left this week for Portland, Miss Kate Donahue presided as hostess at a charmingly appointed dinner given at the St. Francis Hotel, a dainty pink floral piece centered the table and complete the appointments. Places were arranged for six guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Greene will make their future home in Seattle after living in Albany for several years. Mr. Greene has accepted a position in Seattle and Mrs. Greene expects to join him there soon.

Miss Mae Ballack has been spending the week in Albany, from the University of Oregon. She will return to Eugene Sunday evening.

Miss Hazel Cowan left Wednesday evening for Portland, where she will enter the Good Samaritan Hospital to take the nurses' training course.

GAVE LIFE FOR HER PEOPLE

Pretty Legend Concerning Maiden Worthy to Be Known as Indian Joan of Arc.

In the great northwestern country, between the mighty Rockies and the beautiful Cascades, are the mountains called the Huckleberry range. They spread their arms comfortably about the many small mining towns of Washington. A soldierly array of pines and tamaracks keep watch over all the inhabitants of Huckleberry range—the rough farmers, rugged miners and the few native Redskins still left.

A large tribe of Indians once lived in these mountains, from the heights of which one can look far over the blue haze of Idaho, view the gleaming wide ribbon of the Columbia river, or behold the white tips of the Canadian Rockies.

A tale is told by the folk of Huckleberry range about Canas, the fairest maid of this ancient Indian tribe. During one of the many forest fires of the region, when the entire range seemed threatened with destruction, this Indian Joan of Arc gathered in her arms some little pink and white flowers and disappeared down the winding trail.

She went to the very edge of the fire, where the dried grasses hissed and sizzled with the flames and the blazing lines stretched out scorching fingers toward her and the dainty peace offering. Then—the legend says—the Great Spirit was appeased and sheets of rain hid the brave Indian maid from the view of her people.

Never more was Canas seen by her tribe, but every spring since then the strange little pink and white flowers have covered the wide mountains of Huckleberry range. In honor of the Indian girl the blossom is called the Canas flower.

CHAIRMAN SELECTED FOR BIG MEETING

H. L. Corbett Asked to Preside at League to Enforce Peace Meeting Soon

PORTLAND, Jan. 31.—Special.—H. L. Corbett, president of the chamber of commerce, has accepted the request of the national League to Enforce Peace to preside over the Northern League of Nations convention which will be held in Portland, Feb. 16-17.

Among the speakers will be William Howard Taft, president of the League to Enforce Peace, and former president of the United States; Dr. Henry Van Dyke, former minister to the Netherlands; President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard; Frank P. Walsh, former joint chairman of the war labor board; Edward A. Filene, a director of the chamber of commerce of the United States and prominent Boston philanthropist; Charles R. Brown, dean of the Yale school of religion; Dr. George Gustav Wilson, professor of international law at Harvard; Mrs. Philip North Moore, of St. Louis, president of the National Council of Women.

There will be nine League of Nations conventions throughout the United States. Three will be held in the West, at Portland, at San Francisco Feb. 19 and 20, and at Salt Lake City Feb. 21; Minneapolis, Kansas City and Atlanta.

While it is now apparent that the idea of a League of Nations has to be approved at the peace conference, the conventions are promoted by the League to Enforce Peace with the expectation of securing substantial evidences of public approval in the U. S. for the guidance of the United States senate when the ratification of a League of Nations compact comes before it.

Origin of "Yankee."

It is singular there should be any question concerning the origin of the well-known sobriquet of "Yankee." Nearly all the old writers who spoke of the Indians first known to the colonists make them pronounce the word "English" as "Yankee." Even at this day it is a provincialism of New England to say "English" instead of "Yankee" and there is a close conformity of sound between the "English" and "Yankee," partly especially if the latter word, as was probably the case, is pronounced short.

The transition from "Yankee" to "Yankee" is quite easy. If the former is pronounced "Yankee," it is almost identical with "Yankee," and Indian words have been so often changed by the English that the transition is not surprising.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried, some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness?

If we all would practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms poisonous-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the gables from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but it is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone, its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How to Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache, no hawking, sneezing, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly. It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuff-up and miserable.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Wyeth's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Keeps PERUNA In the House All the time

Breaks up a Cold. Good for Bronchial Inflammations.

Mr. Robert McDougall, R. R. No. 6, Liberty, Indiana, writes: "I wish to state that I always keep Peruna in the house. I think it is a good medicine to have on hand. If I commence taking a cold, I take Peruna and it breaks it up for me. It is also good for the Bronchial Tubes. Peruna has served the American people for more than forty years. Those who know its value always have it at hand. Why not you?"

Those who object to liquid medicines can secure Peruna Tablets
