MONDAY CLUB PIONEER LINN PAYS HONOR TO COUNTY MAN IS HORNIBROOK'S 80 YEARS OLD

By Beatrice Sanders

There was a note of regret mingled with the merrymaking at the meeting of the Monday club this week, which was in the nature of a farewell reception to Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Hornibrook on the eve of Mr. Hornibrook's departure from Albany. Several invited guests were present to bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Hornibrook. Mr. Hornibrook left Tuesday for Washington and Mrs. Hornibrook and children will remain here for a few weeks until their future residence is decided upon.

The delightful affair was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Schmitt. The early part of the evening was spent in pleasant conversation. A short program was arranged by Mr. Schmitt and Dr. George H. Young, the program committee of the club. Mr. Schmitt in a few words explained the program and introduced Dr. Young, who explained Sousa's new wedding march, which was played by Miss Alice Clement. Miss Mamie Lenhart delighted the guests with two beautiful solos and Dr. D. V. Poling, of Corvallis, in charge of Y. M. C. A. work at O. A. C., was called on for a song, to which he responded and led the others in singing favorite army songs.

Dr. Young, taking as the basis for his text Van Dyke's "The Blue Flower," paid a beautiful tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Hornibrook and expressed the regret of the club in their departure from Albany. His remarks contained a vein of humor along with the serious and were greatly enjoyed.

Mr. Hornibrook responded with the assurance that in no place where he and his family may locate do they expect to find as pleasant a home city, a finer body of people or as many congenial friends.

Mrs. Schmitt was assisted in serving a delicious luncheon by Mrs. Will Barrett, Mrs. J. H. Ralston, Miss Flora Mason and Mrs. Frances Wilson. The guests to be complimented at this time were Mr. and Mrs. Hornibrook, Prof. and Mrs. J. B. Horner of Corvallis, Dr. D. V. Poling, of Corvallis; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Barrett, Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Young, Prof. and Mrs. C. W. Boettcher, Mr. P. A. Young, Dr. W. P. White, Mr. D. P. Mason, Miss Flora Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cronise, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Irvine, Miss Elizabeth Irvine, Mrs. Wallace H. Lee, Mrs. Calhoun, Mr. and Mrs. R. U. Steelquist, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Reagan, Mrs. Frances Wilson, Miss Lenhart and Mr. and Mrs. Schmitt.

For the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Cusick, who will leave soon for a month's visit in California, several friends passed a delightfully informal social evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Young Thursday evening. Dinner was served and places were marked for the guests at a most attractively appointed table. Mr. and Mrs. Cusick will visit in Los Angeles, San Francisco and other places while in California.

The Priscilla club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. G. E. Riggs as hostess, at whose home they passed an enjoyable afternoon. Pussy willows used in quantities added a touch of spring to the room, where the club members gathered. At the close of the afternoon a dainty lunch was served.

On Wednesday evening of this week nearly every high school pupil in the student body went to Corvallis to attend the basketball game played between Corvallis high and Albany high. Following the game a dance was given by the younger Corvallis set, at the Woman's Club.

Delightful in every detail was the party of Wednesday night given by the members of the Coterie club to entertain their husbands at the A. B. Wilson home. A covered dish supper started the evening's gaiety, novel and cleverly arranged. Everything was along a patriotic line—decorations were of red, white and blue. Flags were used in abundance, adding to the scheme. A table was arranged for the men named as officers for the evening while the privates performed their duty of waiting on the table and eating out of tin dishes, etc. During the remainder of the evening clever diversions were enjoyed along the same line. Gaiety prevailed until a late hour.

A pleasant event of the last week was the celebration of the eightieth anniversary of the birth of Thomas Froman, venerable Linn County pioneer, and the sixtieth anniversary of Mrs. Froman, whose birthday occurred February 17, the joint affair being held at the Froman home Thursday. It was a complete surprise to Mr. Froman.

The house was gaily decorated in evergreens and carnations. A sumptuous dinner was served and the guests enjoyed the occasion immensely. Those present were: Cyrus H. Walker, W. H. Hogan, Will Foster, a nephew; Mrs. Mary Walker, a niece; Gordon Pipe and family, Mrs. Tracey Phillips, Carl Engan, Lew Dowlin and family.

Mrs. Elmer Goff and niece, Miss Neoma Schuel, were pleasantly surprised this week at the home of Mrs. Goff, on East Fifth street, the occasion being their joint birthday celebration. Centerpieces of potted plants formed the decorations. Refreshments were served. Those present: Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Goff, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Paine, Mr. and Mrs. Charles School, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Luther, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Peacock, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Goff and the Misses Muriel Peacock, Lena Peacock, Lillian Peacock and Neoma Schuel.

Miss Linnie Conner, formerly of Albany and well known here, was married Sunday, February 16, to Roy Hindle of San Francisco, the ceremony taking place in that city.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Conner, and has many friends in Albany, where she attended school.

Mr. and Mrs. Hindle will make their home in California.

A wedding of unusual interest occurred at noon Thursday when Miss Nancy P. Ralston was united in marriage to Cecil Blower at the home of the bride's parents three and a half miles southeast of Albany, by Rev. D. H. Leach of Eugene. Only the immediate family were present.

The bride is a well known Albany girl, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Ralston, and for the past few months she has been working in the Albany State bank. Previous to this she has worked in most of the offices of the court house.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blower, old residents of Newport. He has been working on the jetty at Newport for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Blower left on the afternoon train for Portland for a few days and on their return they will go to Newport to make their home.

Mrs. Glenn Willard was hostess this week on Friday afternoon to the members of the Neos Nymphs club. The afternoon was passed in the usual pleasant way, rounded out with a delicious lunch.

The Coterie club members were guests this week at the home of Mrs. Charles Leonard, on Wednesday afternoon. About the rooms of her home, greenery and potted plants were artistically arranged in decorative effect. The birthday of little Kenneth Curry was celebrated at this time, and the children present enjoyed a large birthday cake. Mrs. C. E. Clifford was a guest of the club for the afternoon.

On Wednesday evening of this week the Royal Neighbors meet at their hall for the first time since the influenza ban has been lifted. Three new members were initiated into the order and one was transferred. After the new officers for the coming year were installed a fine banquet was served and a social time followed.
