Put On The Left Shoe First

They all said it—Dough-boy, Poilu, and Tommy—and clinging to that bit of trench superstition, they believed it brought good luck for the day—and longer life in the shell-racked stretch about them.

But in these fairer, happier days, when peace whirls the wheels of motordom again, we say,

"Put on the right shoe first."

And, of course, the right shoe, is the Goodrich Shoe, because it means good luck day and night, and longer life in your tires.

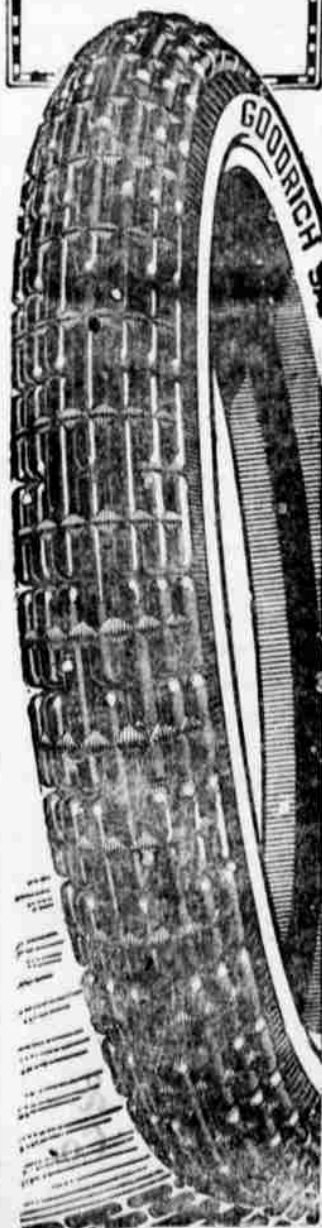

But there's no superstition about it; only the big, husky body, and the wide, thick BLACK SAFETY TREAD, Goodrich builds into tires that—

HONOR GUARD MRS. MONSON GIVES DANCE HONOR GUEST FOR SOLDIERS AT GAY PARTY

By Beatrice Sanders
Bringing forth a great deal of anticipation, the Honor Guard dance which has been planned for tonight, honoring the men of the 68th, C. A. C., will be one of the main events of the week. After the long season passed with the ban prohibiting such festivities, this will be a doubly delightful affair and every society set is expected to attend. Splendid music will be furnished by the revelation jazz orchestra of Corvallis, composed of O. A. C. students of talent.

A drive will be features next week by the Y. W. C. A. The members will cover the town and anticipate a liberal response.

On Thursday afternoon of this week, the Annette club met to reorganize and elect officers. Mrs. Winnifred Walker was hostess at this time. During the business session the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. L. H. Fish; vice president, Mrs. Louis Viocek; secretary, Mrs. John R. Penland; treasurer, Mrs. Winnifred Walker. A most delightful social hour followed and at the close a dainty lunch was served. About the rooms where the guests gathered, violets were artistically arranged in decoration.

Mrs. Charles L. Monson was the motif for one of the season's gayest social events, when Mrs. E. M. Pugh and Mrs. J. J. Barrett entertained in her honor Thursday evening. The affair was in the form of a theater party and following this the guests went to the Barrett home where a delicious lunch was served at a most attractively appointed table. Clever verse place cards marked the places and a huge bouquet of violets and fern made the centerpiece. At the honor guests—Mrs. Monson's—place, was a corsage of violets.

The guests invited to spend the evening were Mrs. C. L. Monson, Mrs. W. A. Barrett, Mrs. A. H. Coates, Miss Katherine Barrett, Miss Zella Burkhardt, Mrs. Wm. R. Dawson, Mrs. George F. Sanders, Mrs. Wm. Pollack, Mrs. C. E. Brandberry, Mrs. Albert Sanders, Mrs. Basinski, Mrs. Morris Sanders, Mrs. L. H. Fish, Mrs. Loyd Templeton, Mrs. O. D. Austin, Mrs. Victor Oliver, Mrs. Leroy Parker and Mrs. Dave Franzen.

Take a prominent part in this week's social activities, the dinner given Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Fred Fortmiller to the Ladies of the P. E. O., was a charmingly appointed affair. The husbands of the members were honor guests at this evening. Dinner was served at small tables, daintily adorned with white carnations and junquils, carrying out the yellow and white color scheme. Several interesting and clever toasts were given. Later the crowd attended the Globe Theatre. Among the guests at this time were Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Davis, Rev. and Mrs. George H. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ballack, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hulbert, Mrs. W. H. Hornbrook, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Penland, Miss Ella Mende, Mr. Harold Allyn, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Beum, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Weatherford, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Flood and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fortmiller.

Mrs. P. R. Kelly was hostess this week on Wednesday afternoon in a most delightful manner, when the members of the Entre Nous club met at her home. Potted plants and greenery adorned the attractive rooms of her home. Besides the club members, four complimented guests enjoyed the afternoon. They included Mrs. L. H. Fish, Mrs. G. M. Junkin, Mrs. A. B. Coates and Mrs. L. G. Lawelling. Dainty refreshments completed the afternoon.

The Leisure Hour club held a business meeting this week on Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. W. C. Tweedale. The books were drawn out at this time, and two membership vacancies filled. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served by the book committee.

The Needlecraft club members were guests this week at the home of Mrs. M. L. Sanders, where they passed a most enjoyable social afternoon. Spring blossoms adorned the rooms where the guests were seated. Completing the afternoon, a dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

Miss Ruth Livengood was a guest yesterday of the Kappa Alpha Theta House, where she spent the day to attend initiation of Miss Janet Dawson and Miss Carolyn Wright. Miss Livengood's initiation took place at an earlier date.

Mrs. Rocky E. Mason returned from Gearhart this week, where she was a houseparty guest of Mrs. Walter M. Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey of Vancouver, Washington, are guests of Mrs. Winnifred Walker at the home of Dr. Marshall. They motored from Vancouver this week, and are passing a few days here.

A number of members of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church met this week at the home of Dr. Marshall to pass the time in quilting. At the close of the afternoon, hot waffles were served to those present.

The Eastern Star met this week on Tuesday night and passed an interesting time.

On Wednesday afternoon the Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church was entertained at the home of Miss Flora Mason. A pleasant afternoon was passed by those present.

A birthday dinner will be given this evening at the Morris Dowd home, in celebration of the 73d birthday of Mr. Dowd. Relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Dowd will be guests for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Hodgekins of Sunrise left this week for California to visit their home near San Francisco. They were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harper before leaving.

An informal party was given at the home of Miss Monica Michels in Lebanon last Friday evening for the pleasure of a number of her friends. Those present were Arvilla Stearns, Louise Newport, Maude Warner, Cecil Thomas, Hazel Lambert, Ruth Butler, Nellie Warner, Neal Underwood, Ralph Seragzins, George Meisinger, George Cheadle, Frank Stannard and Wm. Knaut.

The Music Lovers' club of Lebanon met at the home of Mrs. Everett last Monday evening. After the regular business meeting the study of the opera "Rigoletto," by Verdi, was taken up. The members of the club enjoyed listening to several Victrola records of selections from this opera. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing musical games and singing.

Tuesday evening about 20 ladies of Seta gathered at the home of W. S. Carpenter and later quietly went to the Henry Shelton home where a surprise miscellaneous shower was given for Miss Clara Shelton, a bride-elect.

Mrs. B. A. Millap delightfully entertained the Lebanon Fortnightly Book club at her home on Friday. After a short business session was held a program of music from the Victrola and anecdotes of "Funny Things that Happened in the War," was given by several members followed by current events.

The Masons at Lebanon on Tuesday night held one of their regular banquets which has made that lodge famous for its good things to eat.

Mrs. Lee Hurst, 735 East Sixth street, was hostess to the Sacajawea Campfire last Wednesday afternoon when they met with Lillian Hurst. Miss Knipe, teacher at the Junior high, was a visitor. There were 15 girls present. Lillian and Margaret Hurst gave a piano and violin duet. A short business meeting with songs, music and recitations followed. The hostess served refreshments.
