COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients in a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

White gray, faded hair is not youthful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

HONOR GUARD DANCE GIVEN FOR SOLDIERS

(By Beatrice Sanders)

The most charming dance to occur in Albany for some time was the one of Thursday evening, given by the Honor Guard Girls in honor of the returned boys from the service. Every detail was most attractively carried out and beautiful decorations added a gala atmosphere. The armory was transformed into a veritable garden, fir bows used to form pergolas near the walls and at the west end an attractive bower was arranged in the center of the room the orchestra was concealed in a bower of greenery and pussy willows, where the pink color scheme was effectively carried out. Tall pedestals of white were topped with burning candles to add to the effect.

Many clever feature dances were given. During the first part of the evening, Mayor Curl gave the address of welcome, during which eleven Honor Guard girls formed the words "welcome home." Other features given during the evening were a vocal selection by Miss Irene Yearian and a reading by Miss Vera Combs. Little Miss Louise Mason most gracefully gave an oriental dance, gowned in a beautiful beaded oriental attire. Vernon Williams rendered a violin solo. At a later hour, light refreshments were served, during which time an impromptu song was given by the Revolution Jazz orchestra. In every way the dance was delightful and gay.

For the pleasure of Mrs. Wm. H. Hornbrook, who left for Vancouver, Washington, this week, the members of the P.E.O. enjoyed a theatre party on Monday evening. After attending the Globe program the guests went to the home of Mrs. J. R. Hulbert, where a dainty lunch and social time were enjoyed.

Mrs. P. R. Kelly was hostess this week to the Monday Bridge Club, when the members passed an enjoyable meeting at her home. At the close of the afternoon spent in Bridge a dainty lunch was served by the hostess. Mrs. J. K. Weatherford and Mrs. A. B. Coates were additional guests for the afternoon.

On Tuesday evening the Pythian Sisters completed their regular meeting with a social hour. They repaired to the dining room where a delicious supper was served cafeteria style. Bouquets of Johnquills adorned the table.

The Priscilla club members were guests this week on Thursday at the home of Mrs. John Robson. The afternoon was most delightfully spent in a social way and brought to a close with lunch. Clusters of Oregon grape at, attractively adorned the rooms where the guests were.

Mrs. Charles L. Monson was the inspiration for a little informal theatre party, for which Mrs. Albert G. Senders was hostess this week on Tuesday evening. After attending the Globe theatre, the guests enjoyed refreshments at the Elite. Present were Mrs. J. J. Barrett, Mrs. E. M. Pugh, Mrs. E. C. Brandeberry, Mrs. A. B. Coates, Mrs. G. E. Sanders, Mrs. Monson and Mrs. Senders.

Another delightful dance will be given tonight by the Pythian Sisters, at the armory. The lovely decorations added to the armory by the Honor Guard dance will be up for this occasion. A good crowd is expected to participate in the popular diversion.

High school activities have been taking a major place with the students and student body meetings keep up the spirit. On Friday morning an excellent program and music were featured at a student body meeting, enjoyed by every student, and a large number of outside guests.

On Friday evening of this week, Miss Enmadine Curry was hostess to the senior class of high school, when they enjoyed a class party at her home. About the rooms profusions of wild currant blossoms and daffodils were used in decoration. Popular diversions took up the evening's hours and at a late hour a lunch was served.

The luncheon given by the high school domestic science class on Friday noon of this week, was most dainty in appointments. Johnquills adorned the table and hand-painted place-cards used the same blossom. Guests at this delightful luncheon were a number of teachers; Miss Patterson, Miss Worley, Miss Stanford, Miss Uhrhammer, Miss Burch, Miss Lewis, Miss Miller and Miss Chase.

Most cleverly planned and carried out was the 'hard time' party enjoyed last night by the junior class of high school. The rooms were cleverly decorated with fir boughs and crepe paper, carrying out the class color of green and orange. Games and jolly diversions filled the evening's hours and at a late hour a delicious lunch was served.

Mrs. R. M. Russell entertained the members of the Coterie club at her home Wednesday afternoon. The usual social afternoon was completed with a dainty lunch. Flowers were used about the rooms to decorate, with daffodils predominating.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Oliver were dinner guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Torbet.

Mrs. Alvin Carnegie was hostess to the Neos Nymphs club this week on Friday at the home of Mrs. O. A. Archibald. During the afternoon of social diversion Mrs. Clyde Williamson gave an instrumental and vocal selection. The rooms were most attractive with an abundance of peach blossoms. Lunch was served at a prettily appointed table later in the afternoon. Besides club members present were Mrs. Clummer, Mrs. Clinton Archibald and Mrs. Clyde Williamson.

The missionary tea of the ladies of the Baptist church, for which Mrs. M. McAlpin was hostess on Friday afternoon, was very enjoyably carried out. An excellent program was rendered with several delightful numbers. About the rooms daffodils were used in artistic arrangement. Several additional guests were present for the afternoon.

The Agona and Amona classes of the Baptist Sunday school were royally entertained at the home of Joseph Johnson on the Corvallis Road. Games and other diversions made the evening jolly and these were completed with refreshments. A large number of guests were present at this time.

The victory tea given by the ladies of the Civic club of Lebanon on Friday was a decided success in every way. It was attended by about 70 ladies, who were received by the president, Mrs. Waggoner, secretary, Mrs. Eva Millsap and treasurer, Mrs. Henry. The hall was beautifully decorated in Oregon grape, flags and spring flowers, and proved an ideal place for an event of this kind. Tea was served in the library adjoining the hall. Mrs. H. G. Everett and Mrs. A. M. Reeves presided at the tea table, and Mrs.

Clark, Mrs. Gill and Miss Cosper assisted in serving, following which a program was rendered consisting of patriotic songs led by Mrs. Amos and a paper read by Miss Elizabeth Cosper which was a report of the patriotic service rendered by members of the Civic club during the war. Each club belonging to the federated clubs of the state of which the Civic club is a member, is asked to give this report by the state president, Mrs. C. H. Castner. Several members of the club were mentioned as having given excellent service during the time of the war in Red Cross work and other patriotic ways.

An enjoyable meeting of the Junior Matrons' club of Lebanon was held on Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Wayne Green presided as hostess at her home on Vine street. Mrs. E. B. Day favored the club with two vocal solos, after which several selections were heard from the Edison. A dainty lunch was then served at small tables around the room. Additional guests were Mrs. E. B. Day of Albany and Mrs. N. M. Newport.

N. D. Keefhaver was pleasantly surprised at his home in Lebanon on Friday evening, the occasion being that of his birthday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Green, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Devine, Mr. and Mrs. Emmons, Miss Jewel Hendricson, and Mr. and Mrs. Keefhaver.
