THE QUINCY MANSION, QUINCY, MASS., BUILT IN 1685.

America's classic example of a clapboard building preserved for over two hundred years by careful and frequent painting. It has secret panels, chimney staircase and hiding places, said to have been used by smugglers. Later the home of great statesmen and of the famous belle, Dorothy Quincy.

SAVE THE SURFACE.

Save the surface and you save all. Disintegration and decay are conditions which usually start at the surface of any material. Protection against deterioration or rot of substances, therefore, should begin with care of the exterior. Provided a material does not carry within itself the element of sure decay, proper surface protection will undoubtedly lengthen its life.

THE PAINTER'S BEST FRIEND

Of all the many liquid substances which can be used for the binding of paint or dry substance which when dissolved in water are used as vehicles for pigments none fulfills necessary conditions so well as linseed oil, the king of the fixed oil, and what is of enormous importance, it does it as cheaply. It is the painter's best friend because it makes his work satisfactory.

ALIENS QUIT COUNTRY

Are Leaving for Europe at Rate of 1,000 a Day.

Custom Officials Fear Exodus Will Result in Great Labor Shortage.

New York.—Enriched by war work, aliens are leaving this country at the rate of more than 1,000 a day. It was learned here from custom officials, who expressed fear that, with the possibility that congress may limit immigration for the next four years, the United States will face a serious labor shortage. Instead of a condition of unemployment.

Since the signing of the armistice, it was said, Italians, Greeks, Spaniards and Portuguese have been pouring out of the United States through this port. Since November 26, 1918, passports have been issued at the custom house, and since December, 33,000 aliens have sailed. Every ship clearing for Mediterranean ports has sailed with a full steerage, so that rates have jumped from $40 to $80.
Custom officials estimate that an enormous sum has been taken out of the country since the exodus began. Each alien, it is said, carries with him from $1,000 to $7,000 to enable him to live in his native land in greater ease than he ever enjoyed before. Since April 2, when all outgoing passengers were forced to pay their income taxes before leaving, more than $68,000 has been collected.

Byron H. Newton, collector of the port, who has been asked by members of the United States senate and house immigration committee to reduce the exodus to statistics, said today more than 90 per cent of the aliens are Italians, and that "something ought to be done to check the outflow."

TIPS PUZZLE FOR RICH GIRLS

Canteen Workers Don't Know What to Do When Officers Slip Them Quarters.

New York.—Young women of rich families who serve the officers' canteen at the Pershing club of the war camp community service, Forty-fourth street and Madison avenue, are perplexed as to what to do with the tips sometimes left by officers.

How to act when an ensign or lieutenant hands one a quarter is a puzzle that has put wrinkles on the brows of several of the junior league members who wait on the tables. They do not wish to humiliate an officer by refusing his well meant gift, but of course it is impossible to accept it. Many of the young women have fathers who could buy at least one battleship apiece.

The trouble reached its climax recently. An embarrassed ensign left the canteen after presenting two thin dimes to the daughter of a steel king. Puzzled at her manner, he sought information from the woman in charge. "I tipped that swell looking waitress 20 cents and she seemed put out," said he. "She got all flushed. Wasn't it enough?"

"Not enough to buy her poor dog a bone," was the answer. "She drives her own car and has an income about equal to the president's pay. She's a volunteer worker."

Light dawned on the boyish naval man and he strooked for the door, muttering something about never tipping another waitress.
