Ascension Day Observed
Tomorrow will be observed as a holiday at St. Mary's church with services at 7 and 9:30 a. m., and an evening service at 7:30. The day is known as Ascension Day and commemorates the return of Christ into heaven 40 days after the Resurrection. The day is observed and kept holy as a Sunday and all the faithful are required to attend one of the morning services. A commemoration will be made of our departed soldiers in the services.

Gems Found in America.
Our own country is far from conspicuous as a producer of gems, but the upper Missouri river has yielded from its gravel bars large numbers of small, bright and beautiful supplies. They are not big enough or dark enough to fetch high prices. Nevertheless the finest green nephrite (oriental emerald) in the world was found in Mason county, N. C., and at last accounts was a feature of the collection of a citizen of Philadelphia—Clarence S. Bement. It is a transparent nodule of crystal, remarkably pure, and would yield in cutting a gem of 30 carats.

LARGE FAMILIES ON RECORD

Grand Total of Sixty-Two, Borne by One Wife, Would Seem to Be the Limit.

The nation which could scheme out the intensive cultivation of "man power" would win all the wars of the future and dominate the globe, but though this sort of thing can be done with vegetables and, to some extent, with poultry, it seems a far cry for the human race, and perhaps it is all for the best, for if six at a birth became common marriage might become uncommon.

The papers contained the information lately that a woman of Palermo had presented her husband with five boys, all well formed, and, according to the doctor, "eating well and crying well," but this case is neither unique nor a record.

The largest grand total of children borne by one wife seems to be 62—as many as most wives could want, certainly. Strangely enough, this number has been twice recorded. One is set to the credit of the wife of a poor weaver in Scotland who bore her "chubby" 40 boys and four girls who grew to manhood and womanhood, and a dozen others who died ere reaching their prime.

Sir John Bowers of Newcastle, we are told, adopted ten of the sons—rather a large order; three other landed gentry took ten each, and the remainder were brought up by their parents.

WONDER AT FOREST'S QUIET

Travelers Have Frequently Commented on Apparent Deficiency of Animal Life in the Woods.

European travelers frequently allude to the solitude and deficiency of animal life. A foreigner is struck with surprise, when rambling through the bush, at the scarcity of birds, rabbits, and hares, and astonished when in the deepest recesses of the wild country he sees no increase of their numbers. When paddling his canoe through lake and river he will startle but few pairs of exceedingly timid waterfowl, where in Europe they swim in multitudes. This scarcity of animals, I would remark, is not peculiar to the American wilderness. The same fact has been observed in extensive forests both in Europe and Asia; and in proportion as the traveler penetrates into their interiors he finds a smaller number of animals of almost every species. Birds, insects and quadrupeds will multiply in a certain ratio with the progress of agriculture, so long as there remains a sufficiency of wild wood to afford them a refuge and a home. They use the forest chiefly for shelter, and the open grounds for forage; the woods are their house, the meadows their farm.—Wilson Flagg, in "Woods and By-Ways of New England."

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headache of any kind, is caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Lives and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood, through the lymph ducts, excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head, producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilide, aspirin or the bromides which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drunk before breakfast for awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache but will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar, and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphate hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Results are quick and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning never have any headache or know a miserable moment.

Silvering Mirrors.

There are several processes for silvering mirrors, the simplest of which, is to provide a large flat stone table and spread upon it evenly a sheet of tinfoil without crease or blemish. This is covered uniformly to a depth of one-eighth inch with mercury. The plate of glass, perfectly cleansed of all grease and impurities, is floated in the mercury carefully so as to exclude air bubbles. It is then pressed down by loading with weights in order to press out the mercury which remains fluid. After about 24 hours it may be raised on its edge to harden, and should be finished in a few weeks. Another method involves the use of a solution made as follows: Mix one ounce nitrate of silver, three ounces water, one ounce liquid ammonia and three ounces spirits of wine. Filter after solution has stood three or four hours. To every ounce of the solution add one-fourth ounce sugar dissolved in equal quantities of water and alcohol. The surface to be silvered is covered with this liquid at a temperature of 100 degrees, maintained till the deposition of silver is complete. When dry, coated surface is covered with mastic varnish.

Novel Cure for Nerves.

I have a Philadelphia friend who was ordered by a famous neurological specialist to travel for a month on a limited express to cure him of nervousness. He took a stateroom and began. He was a man of extensive business interests, but as he could be reached by wire at a known point on the road at certain hours, coming or going, he kept in touch with his affairs without hindrance. It was a gliding life and the excitement effected a complete cure—the exception that the familiar counting room was thereafter too dull for endurance and a Tigris band was installed that played the wildest Hungarian music from nine till three. To everybody but the boss the remedy was worse than the ailment—Jeddy Chalmers in Brooklyn Eagle.

Wife's Stock of That Commodity Pretty Well Exhausted in Effort to Reform William.

A Chicago lawyer said at a banquet: "Let me tell you a temperance story."
"A long, rangy woman said one day to a person: "Parson, Bill was drunk again Saturday night."
"But the parson answered in a soothing tone: "Dear sister, if you would try being patient with William! Patience and forbearance work miracles, and I have faith to believe that in dear William's case it would be even so."
"But the long, rangy woman shook her head.
"Looks to me," she said, "as if I'll tried patience and forbearance about long enough. Talkin' of forbearance, don't I go weeks at a time without speakin' to the cuss, no matter what he asks me? Yes, hull weeks, but it don't seem no good. Then, when it comes to patience, why, parson, I've locked him out of the house all night more often than I got fingers and toes, and time and again I've sewed him up in a sheet when he was full and walloped him with a rope till I just fair dropped with tiredness; and I've bolted him in the henhouse three days runnin' in the patient hope he'd sign the pledge, but he wouldn't; and I've doused him all over with cold water on many a freezin' winter's night, and I've had him run in twice, and I've mixed vinegar in his booze so as to make him sick, and then waited with the patience of Job to see if he'd repent when he came round, but, parson, nothin' done no good. No sirc, it'll take more than patience and forbearance to straighten that man out."

Sir Redvers Buller's Ghost Story.
Some time after the Franco-German war of 1870, writes Lady Buller in an English paper, Sir Redvers (then Captain) Buller left England to visit the battlefields, and on arriving at the town of — gave directions that his letters should not be forwarded, and started on his tour of inspection. After he had been away some days, he awoke suddenly one night, thinking he saw Lord Wolseley (then Sir Garnet), and that he heard him say: "I wonder where that fellow Buller is. I can't think why he has not answered my letter." This so impressed him that he returned at once to the town of —, where he found a letter awaiting him from Lord Wolseley, saying that he must return to London immediately, as an expedition against the Ashantees was imminent.
