I Owe My Life to PERUNA

Mr. McKinley's letter brings cheer to all who may be sufferers as he was. Read it:

"I can honestly say that I owe my life to Peruna. After some of the best doctors in the country gave me up and told me I could not live another month, Peruna saved me. Traveling from town to town, throughout the country and having to go into all kinds of badly heated stores and buildings, sometimes standing up for hours at a time while playing my trade as a auctioneer, it is only natural that I had colds frequently, so when this would occur I paid little attention to it, until last December when I contracted a severe case, which, through neglect on my part, settled on my lungs. When almost too late, I began doctoring, but, without avail, until I heard of Peruna. It cured me; so I cannot praise it too highly."

It Cured Me

Mr. Samuel McKinley, 2507 E. 12th St., Kansas City, Mo., Member of the Society of U. S. Jewelry Auctioneers.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

By Beatrice Sanders
High school activities reached an interesting climax this week. Many gay social affairs have preceded this year's graduation and many interesting events have taken place. On Wednesday evening the senior class gave their play, "Green Stockings," at the Globe Theatre. Every character was cleverly depicted and carried out in a most excellent manner and along with the novel plot, made an interesting event.

The dinner served Tuesday to the local and out-of-town bankers and their wives who were in Albany to attend the Bankers' convention, was a delightfully arranged affair. The Ladies of the First Presbyterian church served the dinner in the K. of P. hall. Dainty table appointments were completed with attractive centerpieces of the season's blossoms. Many interesting talks were given at this time.

A most enjoyable event of the week was the party given by Mrs. G. L. Merritt at her home near Granger to three ladies who had given much of their time to sewing for the Red Cross during 1918. Part of the afternoon was spent in comparing childhood pictures of the guests which contributed not a little to the enjoyment of the occasion. Late in the afternoon Mrs. Merritt assisted by her sisters, Mrs. Gates and Mrs. Johnson, of Albany, served dainty refreshments. Her guests were Mesdames School, H. Voss, J. Voss, Williams, Cate, McTaggart, Ponsford, J. Ponsford, Larnot, McKee, R. Karstons, Brush, Hilbert, Gates, Jacobson, Hutchinson, Hoadley, Mulkey, Bray, Medley, Walker, Miss Lulu Brush and the Misses McTaggart, Messrs. School, McKee, and Merritt. The ladies were especially privileged in meeting Mrs. McTaggart and her three daughters, who are guests for the summer of Mrs. McTaggart's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. McKee.

The last student body meeting of the year for the high school pupils was held Thursday afternoon. The program given at this time was a very cleverly arranged one. Nominations were made for the election of officers of student body for next year.

Miss Grace McCalley was hostess to several girl friends on Wednesday evening of this week, when she presided at a shower in honor of Mrs. Ralph Bilyeu (Vera Brown). Rosebuds adorned the room where the earlier part of the evening was passed and a dainty lunch was served. Later the guests attended the senior play at the Globe Theatre. Guests at this time were Miss Velma Anthony, Miss Viola Kroschel, Miss Thelma Burnett, Miss Lois Nebbergall, Miss Ruth Lochner, Miss Wilma Junkin, Miss Rita Dowlin, Miss Kamilla Kroschel, Miss Beulah Pridley, Mrs. Vera Bilyeu and the hostess.

On Wednesday afternoon the Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. H. R. Wallace. The business meeting was completed with a short social hour.

Most delightful was the afternoon passed Tuesday by the members of the Entre Nous club, when Mrs. Bert Veal presided as hostess. About the rooms quantities of roses were effectively arranged. Bridge was the diversion of the afternoon and at the close of this delicious lunch was served. Additional guests included Mrs. G. E. Riggs, Mrs. L. H. Fish, Mrs. G. M. Junkin, Mrs. John Fisher and Mrs. Grant Pirtle.

A picnic was the gay diversion of Tuesday evening enjoyed by a coterie of young people. A pretty spot on the bank of the Willamette was the place chosen to spend the evening and a huge bonfire and picnic supper were features. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bilyeu were the honor guests at this time. Ukelele music and singing made the hours pass enjoyably and at a late hour the crowd returned home. Those to enjoy this were the Misses Wilma Junkin, Lois Nebbergall, Velma Anthony, Ella Kroschel, Rita Dowlin, Ruth Lochner, Stella Pittman, Grace McCalley, Beulah Delancy and Mrs. Bilyeu and the Messrs. Hubert Fortmiller, Royal Archibald, Lloyd Johnson, Ralph Bilyeu, Walter Gilbert, Norman Gildow, Lloyd Carter, Elton Gildow, Leo Cox and Gilmore Hector.

The Priscilla club was entertained this week on Thursday with Mrs. Arthur Palmer as hostess. The pleasant afternoon's hours were passed in fancywork, music and conversation, completed with a dainty lunch. The rooms were artistically decorated with quantities of roses. Mrs. Bert Stevens, Mrs. L. O. Woodworth and Mrs. Von Huen were complimented guests for the afternoon.

Mrs. Olin Nebbergall was hostess to the X-ox Numphe club this week on Wednesday, when a most delightful afternoon was passed at her home. Rosebuds adorned the rooms where the clubmembers and Mrs. D. E. Nebbergall and Mrs. Oscar rowen as additional guests enjoyed the time. Dainty refreshments completed the afternoon.

Very attractive were the table appointments for the luncheon given at the high school by the domestic science class Tuesday noon in honor of Mrs. A. C. Schmitt and Mrs. Anna Hunt, who gave the Schmitt-Hunt prize for highest grade in domestic science every year. Tiny pink rosebuds made up the pretty centerpiece. The wives of the members of the school board were also guests at this time.

A most charming little luncheon was presided over Wednesday noon in the dining room of the high school by Miss Winnifred Patterson. The luncheon was prepared by the domestic science class and served by Miss Dorothy Walker and Miss Vivian McDonald. The attractive appointments were carried out in pink and dainty rosebuds of this shade made the lovely centerpiece. A number of friends were guests at this time.

About ten members of the Albany chapter, P. E. O., went to Lebanon this week where they installed another chapter. Miss Margaret Copeland, state organizer, of Portland, was present at this time. A delightful luncheon was presided over at the home of Mrs. Clark of Lebanon and later the installation took place at the home of Mrs. I. N. Stewart.

Mrs. James H. G. Ewing, who left this week to make her home in Portland, was the inspiration for a surprise party given by the Ladies' Missionary Society of the Methodist church. A pleasant afternoon was passed at the Hockensmith home, at the close of which refreshments were served. The ladies presented the honor guest with a silver tray.

A dance will be given in the armory tonight by the employment bureau of this city. A good crowd is expected to attend.

The New Idea club met with Mrs. A. Gilbreath Friday afternoon of last week. Roses centered the tables where the social afternoon was passed, after dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Those present were the Mesdames J. Carnegie, Peabody, Kendall, E. Knapp, H. Burkhardt, Landon, A. Carnegie, Tower, C. Walker, Miss Vernal Walker and the hostess.

Spoken at Jordan Valley—Hub Bryant, C. J. Johns of the Portland Flouring mills of Albany and W. L. Jackson went to Jordan Valley this afternoon, where they have been invited to speak on the road bond issue tonight.

WASH YOUR CORSET FREQUENTLY

EVERY WOMAN should have at least two corsets—one that she is wearing and one in the laundry. Lanky Women do not wear one corset continually until it is worn out. Corsets, like other garments worn near the skin, should be tubbed frequently.

MODART CORSETS Front Laced

will stand constant laundering. They should be soaked in lukewarm water and scrubbed with soap. Hot or boiling water should not be used, as it impairs the rubber in the elastic.

The superior quality of Modart body cloths—tapes—hose supporters are not affected by tubbing, and the clock spring steel boning in MODARTS is protected by a rubberized covering that makes it impervious to water.

Inferior quality corsets that are made from materials loaded with starch lose their shape when laundered, and paper-covered boning, which tubs off when it becomes wet, allows the steel underneath to rust. When well laundered and aired MODART Corsets become like new. There is no impairment to any part of the garment. Its shapely lines are unimpaired. All day—at whatever task you may be engaged—household duties, athletic sports or social functions—a MODART Corset gives you a superb feeling of comfort and contentment.

Let your next corset be a MODART. Have a thorough trial fitting. You will look well and feel better.
