AMERICAN CEMETERY IN FRANCE

Last Friday there was a memorial service in France which was perhaps more impressive than anything done in this country to mark the occasion. The greatest American military cemetery was opened at Romagne, France. Romagne is in the Argonne section, where nearly 50,000 American soldiers were killed in the great battle of the Meuse in 1918. The cemetery was opened by the American Expeditionary Force. The bodies were exhumed from the battlefields scattered all over the battlefield to this one place, which is to be made beautiful and peaceful. A truly remarkable work of identification has been accomplished, and in the future the resting places of those brave boys will be clearly marked.

There are to be other American cemeteries in France in the different battle zones where the American Expeditionary Force has been fighting. When the plan of bringing the bodies back to America had to be abandoned, prompt action was taken to mark the very best provisions for the men who must be over there where they fought and died and won.

The positions of France have shown a true appreciation of the little graves that mark the battlefields all through the war zone. With beautiful feeling they tend alike the graves of their own dead and those of their fallen allies. It was in their eager, loving effort that Americans in France placed their hope that not an American soldier's grave would be undecorated on this first Memorial Day after the war.

The mothers and wives and families of those boys may think of their soldiers not as lying in forgotten graves, far from home and all things American, but as resting in an American cemetery which will be as beautiful as skill and care can make it. Those cemeteries will remain symbols of America's part in the war and of her willing sacrifice. It is fitting that they should be near the scene of the battles in which our men fought.

The correspondent who said the NC-4 "blazed a trail from America to Europe" must have had a clear picture of those hatchet-marks in ether.

A new kind of credit has been established by the Salvation Army in France. It is called jawbone credit and soldiers who are broke know all about it.

plant at Gold Hill, opening up a new ledge. They expect to have this work done this month.

"We are putting out lime right along," says Mr. Shimanek, "and have calls for all that can be turned out. The plant is being enlarged to take care of all the business that comes. The present price of lime is $1.75 f. o. b. Rock Point, and his will hold until July 1. Checks for lime may either be sent to me or to Dean A. B. Cordley at O. A. C., Corvallis."

ALBANY MAN IN GRADUATING CLASS

Five Oregon people were members of the graduating class of the Kansas City University of Physicians and Surgeons, which took place June 2. Among them was Dr. Allan P. Howells, of this city, who has been engaged in the practice of osteopathy here for the last few years. He has gone to New York to take special work in surgery and will return to Albany October 1 to take up his new practice.

The class contained 64 members and is said to be the largest ever graduated from this institution. A feature of the exercises was the administering of the "Hippocratic oath."

THE POLICE FORCE OF THE BODY

DAY and night—without ceasing—a struggle is going on in your body between the germs of disease and the white blood corpuscles—the police force of the human body.

If this police force weakens, disease germs gain a foothold—sickness follows.

Constipation is the most common and dangerous way of corrupting the human police force. Food waste remains too long in the intestines—decays—poisons the blood—and opens the way for attack by the germs that cause tuberculosis, diphtheria, pneumonia and a multitude of other ills.

The culpable habit of using salts, pills, mineral waters, castor oil, etc., to force the bowels to move, makes this condition even worse, as constipation returns almost immediately.

Nujol is entirely different from drugs as it does not force or irritate the bowels.

Nujol prevents stagnation by softening the food waste and encouraging the intestinal muscles to act naturally, thus removing the cause of constipation and self-poisoning. It is absolutely harmless and pleasant.

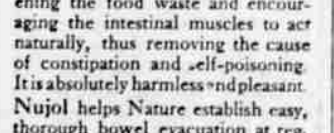

Nujol helps Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

Get a bottle of Nujol from your druggist today and keep your police force on the job.

Warning: Nujol is sold in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. All druggists insist on Nujol. You may suffer from substitutes.

FINE CONCERT IS HEARD AT LEBANON

Prof. W. T. Nichols' concert band, which rendered the music for the Strawberry Fair at Lebanon, is receiving general comment. Mrs. Nellie Howe Wetmore of Portland, one of the greatest lady cornetists in the United States, was the star performer of the band.

She will probably be with the band at the Erownville Pioneer picnic. Prof. Nichols expects to attend a school of music in California during the summer months.

Attend Commencement—

Dr. G. H. Bennett went to Salem this morning to attend the various closing exercises of the Willamette University.
