Business Women to Combine
 An organization of women numbering some 6,000,000 members is contemplated by the delegates assembled at the St. Louis meeting of business women. It will include the Women's Association of Commerce and the Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs.
 Equal work and equal pay for women will be its aim. Good housing conditions and vocational training for women also will be advocated.
 Six million trained, intelligent people can accomplish a great deal when they set out to, and such a combination as this of the business and professional women of the country should be powerful enough to remove many of the present injustices which are operating against the woman in business today. They also should be able to set standards for the woman herself which will do much to raise the status of the woman worker among those of the other sex.
