SOCIAL & PERSONAL

MISS SANDERS HONOR GUEST AT A SHOWER

By Irene Helen Barrett
Telephone 225-R

One of the most charming social affairs of the season was given Monday afternoon when Miss Lee Fortmiller entertained with a Miscellaneous shower for Miss Beatrice Sanders, who will become the bride of Mr. Oren Jenkins early in September. The rooms were decorated with pink sweet peas and roses, the afternoon was spent socially, and doing fancy work. An exclamation of surprise and delight was heard as Miss Fortmiller wheeled a testable into the room bearing Miss Sanders gifts. A Japanese parasol had been placed above the table and gracefully festooned with roses sweet peas and satin ribbon, giving the shower affect, and forming a complete basket which contained, pretty and useful articles. Late in the afternoon Miss Fortmiller, assisted by Mrs. Fred Fortmiller served a four course luncheon. Those bidden were: The Misses Marcel Austin, Dorothy Lee, Irene Barrett, Annette Weatherford, Anna Hofflich, Mae Ballack, Carolyn Wright, Corintha Hart, Ruth Barrett, Lucille Longbottom, Ruth Livingood, Harriett Van Tassel, Iantha Smith, Vern Miller, Beatrice Sanders, Mrs. Earl Fortmiller, Mrs. Ralph Cronise, Mrs. Albert Rousseau, Mrs. Edwin Fortmiller, Mrs. Rolla Ralston, Mrs. H. G. Hawtin, Mrs. Geo. Sanders.

The social whirl of entertaining which filled the weeks of July and early August with a round of parties and dances has almost ceased. The call of the benches with all their pleasures are fast luring everyone away from the city. Entertainments are few, mostly picnics, motor trips and swimming parties, a few teas, but mostly informal affairs. The mountains too, with their quiet grandeur, their small sparkling streams filled with trout, have enticed many to comfortable rustic places to pass a quiet vacation.

One of the most beautiful midsummer social affairs ever given in Albany was presided over by Miss Elizabeth Irvine at her home on West Sixth street Wednesday afternoon, when she invited about thirty ladies to meet Mrs. E. W. Langdon, house guest of Mrs. E. D. Cusick.

Roses were used artistically about the rooms and vine-covered porch. A pleasant afternoon was enjoyed, music and sewing being the diversions. Mrs. Langdon was a social favorite in Albany for some years previous to her moving to Seattle. The guests included her most intimate friends. A delicious luncheon was served late in the afternoon by Miss Irvine, assisted by Mrs. J. C. Irvine. Mrs. Langdon will remain in the city several days.

Delightful in every way was the theatre party given at the Globe Theatre Monday evening, for which Miss Katherine Barrett was hostess, in honor of Mrs. G. C. Kavanah, who has been spending the summer at Newport. After enjoying the theatre they repaired to the Barrett home on Washington street, where a dainty luncheon was served. Mrs. Kavanah resided in Albany some years ago, when Dr. Kavanah was practicing here. Mrs. Kavanah will also visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lagger, at Vancouver, Wash., before returning to her home at Pendleton, Oregon.

Many were the affairs given the past two weeks honoring Miss Barbara Blythe, house-guest of little Miss Josephine Ralston. There were swimming parties, picnics, lawn parties too numerous to mention. Miss Blythe's home is in Portland, where her father, E. N. Blythe, is connected with the Oregon Journal.

Picnics and outdoor affairs being the vogue during the warm summer days, a most delightful picnic supper was enjoyed by a crowd of Albanyites who motored to Lebanon Monday evening and took possession of that city's most beautiful park. Enjoying this were Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Young and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Cusick, Miss Eva Simpson of Seattle, Mrs. E. W. Langdon, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Brewer and family, E. B. Day, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ralston and family, Miss Elizabeth Irvine, Mr. and Mrs. Rocky Mason and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Woodworth, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Beam and family, Miss Kate Stewart, Miss Christine Pipe, Miss Barbara Blythe of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stewart of Lebanon. All enjoyed a plunge in the swimming pool, and did justice to the sumptuous supper which was spread on the "natural" table in the park. All returned about midnight, declaring "we'll go again."

On Wednesday evening Mrs. M. J. Montieth delightfully entertained about 20 friends at her home on West Fifth street. Music and games were the entertainment of the evening. The house was decorated in white sweetpeas entwined with maidenhair fern, which lent a cool, dainty air to the rooms. About 10 o'clock a picnic supper was served on the lighted lawn, white sweetpeas and white roses being again in evidence carrying out the color-scheme of green and white. Mrs. Self of Portland was the only out-of-town guest.

Mrs. J. J. Horsky was pleasantly surprised at her home on Lyon street Monday afternoon by the members of the Visitation Society, of which she is an esteemed member. The ladies met at the residence of Mrs. F. W. Horsky at 127 West Fifth street at 3 p. m. and with well filled baskets of good things to eat, repaired to the Lyon street residence and took their friend fairly by surprise. The occasion was Mrs. Horsky's birthday; also a farewell, as she left the next day in company with her husband to visit the old home in Iowa.

The afternoon was spent in sewing, general conversation and music. At a late hour the baskets were opened and a delicious luncheon served in the beautiful dining room of the Horskys home. Roses and sweetpeas were everywhere, an evidence of how well-planned and executed the affair was. Mr. and Mrs. Horskys will be absent about a year.

Those of the party were Mrs. Conrad Meyer, Sr., Mrs. J. J. Lindgren, Mrs. Casper Kropp, Mrs. Ben Townsend, Mrs. Jacob Keeber, Mrs. Peter Paulus, Miss Anna Schultz, Mrs. Alexander Ginty, Mrs. Ed Horskys, Mrs. Peter Riley, Mrs. Otto Karstens and Miss Blanche Horskys.

Miss Virginia Tomlinson was a hostess of the week when she entertained with a very unique affair at her home on Maple street Friday evening. The party was in the form of a country fair. The house was decorated befitting the occasion. Cozy corners and booths were arranged about the house and cool veranda. One booth contained many pretty exhibits, another a Gypsy fortuneteller looked out and promised to tell your past, present and future. There were side-shows, races and many other amusements which make up the pleasures of a country fair. A feature was the pinning of a baby-pic-
