HUMDRUM OF CITY LIFE BORES TOMMY

LONDON.—(By the A. P.)—Some of the soldiers who served in the great war are finding the humdrum life of the civilian too monotonous to endure and offering to risk their lives in campaigns anywhere on in any adventure to escape the tedium of office or shop life. An example is shown in the following advertisement which appeared in the London paper the other day:

"Young ex-soldier, three times wounded, will risk life for 200 francs, tired of life and all alone, write"—etc. Inquiry disclosed that the advertiser was formerly a stretcher bearer in the Royal Army Medical Corps, who won the military medal at Martinpuich and later at Ypres won a bar to the medal. After his discharge he obtained employment as civilian clerk in the Royal Air Force.

"I am paid 3 pounds a week he told an interviewer but I am ashamed to take it. For weeks I have not done a stroke of work. Doing nothing all day is getting on my nerves. I cannot stand it, I want action. Perhaps some cinema firm might want somebody for a particularly risky job. themselves as ready to enlist in any capacity in any campaign for any country, provided there was "some fighting to be done"

Postmaster Examination

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to be held at Albany Ore., on Nov. 8 1919 as a result of which it is expected to make certification to fill a contemplated vacancy in the position of fourth-class postmaster at Sweet Home and other vacancies as they may occur at that office, unless it shall be decided in the interests of the service to fill any vacancy by reinstatement. The compensation of the postmaster at this office was $429 for the last fiscal year.

Applicants must have reached their twenty-first birthday on the date of examination, with the exception that in a State where women are declared by statute to be at full age for all purposes at eighteen years, women eighteen years of age on the date of the examination will be admitted.

Applicants must reside within the territory supplied by the post office for which the examination is announced. The examination is open to all citizens of the United States who can comply with the requirements.

Application blanks, Form 1753, and full information concerning the requirements of the examination can be secured from the postmaster at the place of vacancy or from the United States Civil Service, Commission at Washington D. C., at the earliest practicable date.

STEEL MAKES PLEA

The speaking was opened by a short address by Uncle Sam Hampton who told of the work of the Farm Bureau and urged the business men to aid the farmer wherever possible.

To Have Literature

President F. J. Miller of the Chamber of Commerce read a letter from Geo. Quayle, secretary of the state Chamber of Commerce, complaining about the lack of literature of Linn county in the state headquarters in Portland. Visitors looking for prospective locations have a hard time to get information about this county. The Goodrich Rubber Co., also addressed a communication asking for Linn County literature and a picture of Bryant park, the municipal auto camp grounds, to be run in their pamphlet which they are issuing.

A letter was also read from the Federal Taxation Institute at Washington, dealing with tax problems.

Prof. C. W. Boettcher, in the absence of Paul Newmeyer, State Secretary for the Boys Club of the Y. M. C. A., explained the purpose of the convention which will bring about 300 boys here December 5 and 6 and asked that the Chamber of Commerce take care of the problem of supplying the boys with noon and evening meals. A committee composed of W. V. Merrill, F. H. Pfeiffer and Dr. J. H. Robinett was appointed to look after this detail. The boys will be entertained in the homes of the city.

Storage Affects Pear Quality

Pears especially Bases, picked early in the season must be kept under certain storage conditions of temperature and moisture from the time they are harvested until put into cold storage in order to have any kind of quality. As the fruit ripens on the tree later in the season the necessity of this procedure becomes less and less. The best conditions of this early storage, which affect the quality and hence the market price of the pear, are explained in an interesting new experiment station bulletin, pear harvesting and storage investigations.
