Perhaps most prominent among the affairs was the assembly club dance given at Moose Hall by the recently organized club, on Thanksgiving eve. The hall was beautifully decorated in California Christmas berries and Japanese lanterns. About 40 couples danced to the perfect music of the local orchestra. Light refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

Thanksgiving was given first place in all social functions the past week. Every church in the city held special services permeated with the Thanksgiving spirit. There were reunions, dinners, balls and festivities.

Miss Elizabeth Irvine was hostess for a Thanksgiving dinner at her home on West Sixth Street, when she entertained a few intimate friends and relatives. The pretty table was centered with a large basket of autumn flowers. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Owen Beam and family; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ralston and family; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stewart, Mr. C. H. Stewart, Miss Kate Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Irvine, Mr. Harold Irvine and Elliott Irvine.

The members of the Epworth League of the Methodist church enjoyed a bountiful Thanksgiving dinner Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Helen Nebergall. The young people met at the Nebergall home immediately after the high school rally.

The rooms were prettily decorated in accordance with the Thanksgiving season. Yellow chrysanthemums and autumn leaves adorned the table where places were laid for about 15 guests. Miss Ardys Ebelle, Miss Muriel Gilbert and Miss Helen Nebergall served.

Following the dinner the crowd repaired to the living rooms and spent the remainder of the evening in games and music. The committee in charge of this delightful affair was Aryds Ebelle, John Jordan, Muriel Gilbert, Albert Senders, and Helen Nebergall.

Mrs. Earl B. Day was a charming hostess for a before-the-dance dinner party, Wednesday evening. The perfectly arranged table was centered with violets. A dainty brittonaire of the same blossoms marked covers for Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Cusick, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Beam, Miss Flora Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Day. After a social hour around the festive board all repaired to the Moose Hall and enjoyed the assembly dance the remainder of the evening.

Wednesday evening of last week the upper class men of the Methodist Sunday school met at the home of Robert Torbet for business and pleasure. A name was decided on for their class, they will be known as the Adephics. After business a general good time was had with games and music. Refreshments followed. The class is composed of 8 boys, all of whom were present.

Tuesday afternoon at the parsonage of the Baptist church occurred the marriage of Miss Bessie Shank and Mr. Hal Shelton. Rev. George H. Young read the ceremony in the presence of a few intimate friends. The bride was attired in a blue tailored suit and picture hat to match. She was attended by Mrs. I. H. Campbell and Mr. I. H. Campbell acted as best man. Mrs. Shank is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Roxie Shank of Mount Pleasant. Mr. Shelton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Shelton of Jordan and brother of Mrs. I. H. Campbell of Albany. Following a short wedding trip to Portland they will make their home on the Shelton farm about three miles from Jordan, where they have hosts of friends.

The marriage of Miss Lena Peacock, of Albany and Mr. Emil Anderson of Everett, Washington took place Tuesday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage. The ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. C. Spencer. Miss Lillian Peacock and Mrs. Spencer were the witnesses. The bride wore a suit of midnight blue broadcloth and black velvet hat. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left immediately for a short trip to Portland.

The wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. William Goff, Thursday at six p. m., to about a dozen relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will live in Everett, Washington.

The home of Mrs. Myrtle Way was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday morning when Miss Alice Lawrenson became the bride of Mr. Lewis Dougherty. Rev. Geo. H. Young of the Baptist church solemnized the marriage, using the beautiful double ring service. The bride was becomingly attired in a tailored traveling suit of wine colored broadcloth with hat to match. Her corsage bouquet was of white and pink carnations. She was attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth. Mr. Kenneth McClure was best man. Before the ceremony, Miss Madeleine Rawlings sang "I Love You Dear." Mr. Dougherty and Miss Way entered to the strains of Mendelssohn wedding march played by Mrs. Asa Eastburn, sister of the bride.

Mrs. Dougherty is the charming daughter of Mrs. Myrtle Way and has spent nearly all her life in Albany. She attended the high school and was popular in all school functions.

The bridegroom is the son of R. D. Dougherty of Brownsville where he is popular in social and business affairs. He served 18 months in France with the 65th Artillery.

After the ceremony a sumptuous 3-course dinner was served. The table was centered with white and wine carnations, mingled with maidenhair fern. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lawrenson, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lawrenson, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bussard, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Eastburn, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kizer, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Jordan, Miss Madeleine Rawlings, Miss Elizabeth Lawrenson, Dorothy and Vena Way, Kenneth McClure, Charley Dougherty and Mrs. Myrtle Way.

After a short wedding trip to Newport, Mr. and Mrs. Dougherty will make their home in Brownsville.

Mrs. Alvin Carnegie entertained with a Thanksgiving dinner honoring her brother, Lieut. Harold Archibald, of San Francisco and Miss Esther Copeland of Spokane. This was the first family re-union of the Archibald family in two years. Five of the boys were in the service during the war. Lieut. Harold Archibald has not yet received his discharge, and is stationed at San Francisco at the present time. The beautifully appointed table was decorated in greenery and trailing autumn vines.

Present at this time were Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Archibald, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Archibald, Sanford, Royal, and Clyde Archibald, Miss Ruth Greene, (Eugene), Raymond Archibald, (Salem), Masters Orris, Alvin and John A. Carnegie, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Carnegie.

Following chapel services Wednesday morning the Y. W. C. A. of Albany College held a sale of candy and sandwiches. The money received from this sale was used to buy family.

Mrs. B. S. Bennett of Sandpoint, Idaho is a guest at the home of her son, Mr. Lee Bennett.

TRUE GREATNESS IS TOPIC OF S. S. LESSON FOR THIS WEEK

Golden Text—"The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many." Matt 20: 28.

Lesson Text—John 13: 5-16, 36-38

To fully understand this lesson we need to read the incident relating to the contention of the disciples as to who should be the greatest in the Kingdom. The disciples were good men, but they did not yet understand the meaning of the Kingdom of Heaven as the Saviour taught it, for they were looking for an earthly kingdom. That they did not yet understand it is shown by the request of James and John that they might sit the one on the right and the other on the left hand of Jesus when he came to the throne of his kingdom. The other disciples "were moved with indignation against the two brothers" because of this. Perhaps none of them in the mood to render a menial, humble service, so Jesus takes the occasion to press home a lesson on—

Humility—True Greatness
He permitted them to settle their differences without reproach or exhortation, for these he would administer by the more effective method of deeds rather than words.
"He Began to Wash the Disciples' feet."

After Jesus and his disciples had walked from Olivet to Jerusalem through the dusty or muddy streets there was a lowly duty to perform one for another, generally the task of the lowest slave. But in a gathering like this where there were no servants it was done one for the other.

For any one to wash the feet of the rest of the company was to declare himself the servant of all. But no one was willing to seem to be inferior to the others, so the duty remained undone.

"Jesus, knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he came forth from God, and goeth unto God, riseth from supper, hall Tuesday evening, a pleasing program was rendered. The opening number was a beautiful vocal solo by Miss Madeleine Rawlings, followed by a feature dance by little Miss Majors. Miss Wood's violin solo was also well rendered. Refreshments were served in the dining room which was decorated for the occasion in pink and white carnations and chrysanthemums. The large table, around which the guests were seated, held three artistically arranged bouquets of the same blossoms. After a social hour, the benediction by Rev. Mr. Spencer of the Methodist church closed the pleasant evening.

Among those of Albany College who left to spend Thanksgiving vacation out of town are Miss Junia Markel and Miss Alva Burnis, who are visiting with Miss Dorothy Miller at Halsey; Miss Marcia Edwards, at Salem; Miss Marion Patterson, at Willamette and Miss Mammie Lenhart and Miss Alice Clement at Miss Clement's home in Beaverton.

Miss Nettie Peterson, of Ontario, and Miss Foynie Burton and Miss Helen Motley, of Oregon City stopped over in Albany Wednesday on their way home to spend Thanksgiving vacation. While here they visited Miss Madeleine Rawlings.

Miss Virginia Smith of Ontario and Miss Myrtle Isaacson, of Marshfield are spending Thanksgiving vacation with Miss Ruth and Miss Madeleine Rawlings. The girls are members of Pi Beta Phi of the O. A. C. chapter.

and layeth aside his garments; and he took a towel, and girded himself. Then he poured water into the basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded."

And how they must have felt when Jesus the honored guest of the gathering silently arose to the work of a slave! Jesus, the King of Kings, with basin and towel goes silently from one to another and washes their feet, until he comes to Peter who had watched with indignation and almost fear. It was too much for him. He was so unworthy of it. It was to him unthinkable that Jesus should wash his feet. And Peter says, "Thou shalt never wash my feet." Impetuous Peter! Give him credit however for being sincere. But he had not caught the spirit of the new order which Jesus was bringing. He did not yet understand the meaning of it all, nor the motive of the Master. It was not merely a servants service, but had a far reaching spiritual value. It was to show that the disciples really belonged to the Master.

"If I wash thee thou hast no part with me."
Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head."

It was a lesson to teach the greatness of service, the meanness of humility, and the excellence of being sweet spirited and serviceable.

"Know ye what I have done unto you? Ye call me Master and Lord; and ye say well; for so I am."

But they must get the lesson. If they would be great, if they would hold responsible positions, they must learn to serve, to make themselves useful, "For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done unto you."

The purpose of these words was to teach the lesson of service. He that is too proud to follow the example of Christ, and to obey his teachings, has no part in him and is none of his. No service is menial that it rendered in the spirit of love.

Of General Foch, who did so much for the Allied armies on the West front, General Joffre said: "He is the greatest general in Europe, and also the humblest." And of the strongest and most mature Christian life, humility is both a secret of its advance and one of its finest fruits.
